

Los Angeles Cafes Must Help Protect Army, Navy Patrons

Los Angeles, May 27.—(AP)—Hollywood and Los Angeles cafes and night clubs selling liquor must help protect service men from spies, questionable women and "drunk rollers" or be declared out of bounds.

Lieut. Comdr. C. H. Fogg, commanding the navy's short patrol in his area, gave this notice to a meeting called by the Southern California Tavern association.

"The situation in Los Angeles and Hollywood has become so serious we have had to increase our shore patrol 33 per cent," he said.

"We have one example of a merchant marine man disclosing in a Los Angeles night spot secret plans for the sailing of a convoy."

"We expect you to protect service men from prostitutes who spread disease, and from drunk rollers. We expect you to refuse to serve drinks to any service man who may be slightly intoxicated."

Ray Adams, Tavern association manager, said that "we know the enemy has a central agency in Los Angeles that pieces together all bits of information obtained by agents from service men in your bars."

"If you want to stay in business," said Police Chief C. B. Horrall, "you will have to cut out 'B' (percentage) girls, overcharging and tolerance toward women you know are prostitutes."

FOUR JOIN CHURCH ON EVANGELIST'S INVITATION

When Evangelist Earl Hanson Fife closed his message last night in the revival at the Central Church of Christ four answered the invitation to become members of the church. Two were business people and two were Christian ministers now living in Medford while assisting in construction of the army base. The audience practically filled the center section of seats in the tabernacle.

Tonight a much larger audience is expected to hear the sermon on "The Unopened Door." It is a sermon on prayer, which is, according to Evangelist Fife, an untried door for multitudes of church people as well as those outside.

Portland, May 27.—(AP)—The Oregon Bankers' association yesterday cancelled its annual convention, scheduled at Baker June 8-9.
