FLUID
All life material must be transported to and all excretions from all parts of the body. Only fluid can do this. Fluid is the great porter of all living bodies. Water supplies this fluid. It constitutes a large proportion of all that lives. Both plants and animals parch and die without it. In fact water is so important to life that the ancients supposed it to be the parent of whatever is endowed with life. Water is as essential to life as anything except air. All we eat contains water. All that lives inhales. Trees and vegetables drink. All nature craves for water. Even the earth imbibes to liquify the blood of vegetables and fruits and so proffer its liquid to man. Our best liquid is undoubtedly the juices of vegetables and especially fruits. These juices contain nearly all the important elements for man.

Amended Complaint Adds to Litigation Over Herald Bldg.

Corinthia E. Stalley, in a second amended complaint filed last week in circuit court, seeks $17,980 from J. B. Thomas and Nora L. Thomas of Ashland, the Watson brothers, operators of the City Cleaning and Dye Works, and W. F. Oliver. It is one of the numerous litigations filed concerning the Pacific Record-Herald building on Sixth street.

The complaint asks $10,700 for withholding possession of the property, $6,280 for rentals and property, $1,000 additional fees and costs and disbursements of the action.

The building was procured by Thomas and others several years ago through a tax foreclosure sale.

The plaintiff is represented by Attorney Roy R. Hewitt of Salem.
