

CLEARING HOUSE FOR RECREATION ACTIVITY AGREED

Defense Recreational Committee As Headed By Mrs. Carpenter, Is Center.

At a meeting of civilian defense recreational committee heads and United Service Organization officials held at the Hotel Medford yesterday, a clearing house for recreational activities for armed forces to be stationed near Medford was vested in the County Defense Recreational committee.

Don Orput, Federal Security Administration's recreational field representative for Oregon, presided at the session which was called for the purpose of clarifying functions of the various agencies which have to do with the recreation of the soldiers in Medford and surrounding vicinity.

Long At Work
The Defense Recreational committee organized in Medford last summer, headed by Mrs. A. S. Carpenter, which has been working intensively since that time setting up committees to carry on necessary organization, was deemed a clearing house for recreational work. This overall responsibility for the recreational program will embrace the active cooperation and assistance of USO.

It is expected that the community will cooperate wholeheartedly in this program which Orput and Henry H. Guttererson, USO regional building counselor from San Francisco, said "will take the responsibility and co-operation of everyone." Lloyd Rupp, labor recreational leader who was present, said "it is a job for all."

Those in attendance pointed out that the size of the recreational program facing Medford will take the cooperation and help of everyone residing in the community. Such a task has never before presented itself to southern Oregon citizens and it is expected that all will participate in the program with the arrival of Camp White soldiers.

To Avoid Overlap
The purpose of a clearing house for recreational activities was described as a necessity in order to avoid duplication of committees, activities and personnel. All activities sponsored by USO or any other civic body including the many War Recreational committees which have recently been formed by the public relations committee of the Medford Defense Recreation committee, headed by I. E. Schuler, will also work through the defense recreational committee.

Mr. Guttererson said he was pleased with the progress of repairs on the temporary USO center at Main and Bartlett streets which will open soon. Mrs. Helen Johnson will serve as director of the center with Mrs. Penny Fontaine as USO program chairman.

Appreciation Voiced
Mr. Orput expressed appreciation for the excellent organization work done by Mrs. A. S. V. Carpenter as head of the defense recreational committee. This committee as a result of committee appointment made during the past months is ready to take up duties, which will open at any time needed, with an active recreational program for military men.

The recreational phase of national defense is under the jurisdiction of the Federal Security Administration, a complete regional, state and county organization having been established. It is under this leadership that the defense recreational committee is working.

14 'AVENGERS' ON NAVY'S LIST HERE IN FIRST 2 DAYS

Since announcement Monday by the navy department of a nationwide ceremony to be held as an anniversary to the bombing of Pearl Harbor, 14 Jackson county youths have pledged their services to the navy as "Avengers of Pearl Harbor," according to Chief Electricians Mate Jack Carpenter, local navy recruiting officer.

The list includes: Robert Bryant, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bryant, 1312 Reddy avenue; Conroy Christianson, son of Mrs. Frances Christianson, 524 South Grape street; Myrlyn and Mervin Scott, sons of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Scott, 234 West Fifth street; Victor Lehman, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Lehman, 324 Plum street; Cecil Campbell, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Campbell, route 3; Forrest Cochran, 1032 West Tenth street; Richard Westerberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Westerberg, route 2, Ashland; Robert Stearns, Ashland; Chester Smith, Eagle Point; Carl Short, Lake Creek; Walter Miller, Rogue River; Max Landon and Leo Hayes, temporarily residing here.

Medford's recently created Victory Center, established for war bond and stamp activity here, has been selected as the scene of a public ceremony in which the Pearl Harbor Avengers will receive the navy oath. This "center" is located on the Southern Pacific right-of-way on Front street, near the Jackson county Chamber of Commerce offices.

A commissioned officer, possibly Lt. M. C. Peters of the Portland navy recruiting office will be present to administer the oath of enlistment. The Medford recruiting office will remain open until 11:00 p. m. every evening this week to accept applications from men wishing to participate in this event. Since Friday will be the last day for this program, men are urged to make application as early as possible.

Evangelist Reads Jesus' Sentence

One of the best audiences of the revival greeted Evangelist Earl Hanson Fife last night at the Central avenue Church of Christ tabernacle to hear his message on the "Deity of Christ." As promised, the evangelist read an official copy of the death sentence of Jesus as given by Titchendoff who discovered Pilate's letters to Fibiarius Caesar while searching for a copy of the Bible in Rome. Names of the two thieves crucified with Jesus, the centurion and others were given.

Tonight, Mr. Fife will continue his series of prophetic sermons when he speaks on "The Atonement." Melvin Sparks is in charge of the singing and is leading in a very acceptable way. The themes for Thursday and Friday nights are "The Second Coming of Christ" and "Armageddon."
