48 JOIN NAVY

by JOHN CLINTON

No soul is more lonely than that of a husband ousted from his home to prowling disconsolately about his yard and porch while a bride-teez nags inside his house. He's even bereft of that cold bottle of coke in the ice box. Well, it served me right for going home from the office early!

Snatches of conversation drift out... "Well, partner, we're down again!" "My dear, isn't that the dress she wore last summer?"... and so forth. But when this phrase came sliding out the windows, I set up suddenly... well, one thing about the Minute Men, when you get your car back from being lubricated, it looks just darling!"

Now, I would not put it quite that way, but whenever she says she had something there! When you get Stop-Wear Lubrication from the Union Minute Men, you can see the difference in the way it looks—glass gleaming, interior and exterior dusted, tires and running boards smartly dressed. It's pretty swell.

You can feel the difference, too—in how it steers, shifts and handles. And you can hear the difference in the quiet way it runs, quiet as a mouse, and nary a squeak. No wonder Stop-Wear Lubrication is so popular.

Besides, you get a 1000-mile guarantee against faulty chassis lubrication with every job—a real comfort in these days when cars are becoming more precious than gold. Try Stop-Wear Lubrication at your favorite Union Oil station, today. It'll help you "Care For Your Car For Your Country."

Doesn't Want to Talk

Although Movie Actress Paulette Goddard was nightclubbing in New York she declined to talk about reports that she had obtained a Mexican divorce from Charlie Chaplin, film comedian. She said merely that she was celebrating her birthday. She didn't specify the birthday, either. Meanwhile a Mexican civil court judge at Juarez, Mexico, announced a decree had been granted, less than 24 hours after Miss Goddard filed her petition. The Chaplins were married in China six years ago.
