

PRICE CEILING ON WOMEN'S APPAREL ENTIRELY REVISED

New Formula Bases Selling Price on Current Costs Plus Last Fall's Margin.

Washington, June 11.—(P)—Price ceilings on women's fall and winter coats and dresses were revised from the top to bottom today.

The order issued last month prohibited any price above the highest prevailing last fall, and provided that the garments must be of "substantially equal workmanship and quality."

The revised price formula, in general, bases the selling price on current costs plus the markup or margin charged last fall on garments of the same class. War Production board officials, commenting unofficially at the time the original order was issued, had said that it appeared impractical to meet the price provisions without detracting in some way from the quality of the garments, because of increased labor and materials costs.

Significantly, the new order makes allowance for increased labor costs after March 31 only if the increase resulted from collective bargaining contracts or other wage agreements signed before April 27 which "unconditionally provided for the wage increase in question."

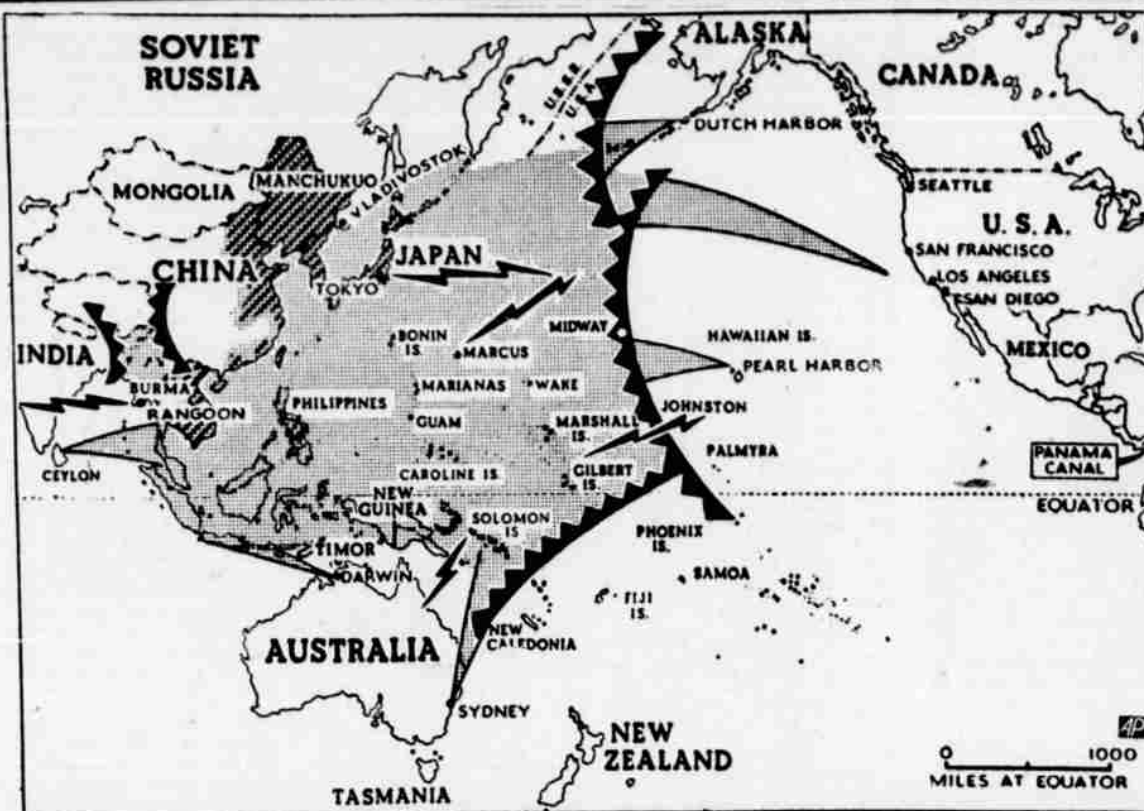

This provision, which has the effect of placing a March ceiling

Jap Navy Trounced; Midway Defense Line Proves Strong

The six-month mark in the war found a U. S. fleet, based on a strengthened Midway Island, smashing a strong Japanese naval force. The battered Japs fled; but official Washington foresaw a new attempt to break defense arcs based on Dutch Harbor, Midway and Pearl Harbor, and along the Australian supply route. Diagonally shaded area indicates what Japan held when it stabbed at Pearl Harbor last December 7. Dotted area indicates how Nippon overran territory south since then. Dotted wedges are where Japs, by plane or submarine, have gotten past defense lines to hit at Dutch Harbor, Pearl Harbor and the California coast. Australia and Ceylon. But Allied Nations defenses held Burma borders, and there has been forked lightning in Allied attacks: Jimmy Doolittle and his fliers bombed Tokyo; Marcus Island was struck; the Navy smashed at the Gilbert and Marshall islands and turned back the Japs off northeast Australia. Allied fliers pound the Solomons, Timor and Rangoon.

LIQUOR STORE IN JACKSONVILLE TO START SALE SOON

The sheriff's office announced today that plans for establishment of a state liquor store at Jacksonville at an early date have been completed by the state liquor control board. It will be in the drug store there, with Ann Sullivan as manager. The first consignment of beverages has arrived but date of opening has not been set.

The matter has been pending for some time. Law enforcement officers said backers of the liquor store felt too many residents of the Jacksonville area were coming to this city to purchase their groceries and their liquor, at the same time. It was further explained the liquor store would put a curb on reported cases of bootlegging with a hint of liquor selling for $2. It was argued a thirsty citizen would not pay that amount, when he could buy it cheaper at a regulation place.

REPAIRMAN GETS FIVE-YEAR TERM FOR FORGERIES

Floyd M. Zimmerman, 29, was sentenced yesterday by Circuit Judge Herbert K. Hanna to serve not less than five years in state prison, on a plea of guilty to forgery.

Zimmerman, a stove repairer, who operated under the name of C. R. Coleman, was a member of the California state guard, and wore the uniform of that organization when arrested, authorities stated.

Zimmerman was specifically charged with uttering and cashing forged school district warrants. According to the district attorney, he would do stove repairing for a school district and by subterfuge, procure blank warrants. These he would fill out for various amounts, signing the names of the district clerk and chairman. He procured about $85 in this county on war rants procured from the Brownsboro, Eagle Point, and Ashland districts.

He is wanted at Lebanon, Ore., and in eastern Oregon on the same charge. According to the district attorney, Zimmerman has a prison record in California and Washington.
