

What Business Offers Youth

Babson Says Great Opportunities Await June Graduates

Babson Park, Mass., June 12.—As in some recent past years, school and college graduates are not faced this month with prospects of unemployment. The majority of male graduates will shortly enter some branch of the armed services. For those having a deferred status, jobs will be plentiful with government agencies and armament industries taking the cream. Young women, too, who desire employment also have little concern. The status of women in business and industry has grown rapidly. Even without the war many girls would find jobs open to them today which a few years ago would have been thought impossible for them to hold down.

Conditions Better In Spite of War

In spite of the war, conditions in our country as well as throughout the world are better today. How I envy the young people now graduating from school and college. They will play a most important part in our future progress. My only regret is that I am not young enough to grasp the many wonderful opportunities which lie within the reach of today's youth.

I wish I were starting my own life all over again. When I graduated from college in 1898 no such advantages and opportunities awaited me as are now at hand for the current crop of graduates.

The Part You Will Play In Future of World

If you are old enough to graduate from college you are old enough to put aside childish thoughts and habits. You are old enough to act like men and women. It is to young youngsters facing bravely a new world that I want seriously to write this week. I have said before that I envy you. My reasons are as follows:

1. You will have been a factor in saving the good things of this world against the gangsters of Europe and Asia.
2. You will be acquainted with the new defense industry which will continue an important factor after the war.
3. You will belong to the world's leading and greatest nation, when, after the war, all the world looks to us for guidance.
4. You will see the airplane coming into its own, carrying passengers and freight to all parts of the world, revolutionizing commerce.
5. You can have a part in reforming and rebuilding democracy; in fact the veterans of World War II may control politics.
6. You will enjoy a more sensible standard of living with much of the present foolishness and waste eliminated.
7. If you are an expert on some phase of business, with a real helpmeet for a wife, you need have no financial worries.
8. You will enjoy new inventions, new products, and new processes not yet discovered. These will give further new openings.
9. You are fortunate to enter business without the handicaps of having been trained in the "good old days" which your parents miss.

10. Most important of all, you will witness a great spiritual awakening in which I sincerely hope you will take a most active part.

Length of War Hard To Hazard

Of course, much depends on the length of the war. It may last some years or it may be over within twelve months. One thing I am certain, namely, the longer it lasts, the greater opportunities it will offer to those who are alert and anxious to be of real service. Right now young people can render great service by keeping calm and helping others get half-cooked. Too many people—old and young—are not showing the courage necessary to face these wartime days. They are running around, waving their hands in the air and saying, "What will I do?" "What can I do?" Just tell them to hold on a minute, to quiet down, and to take it easy. Furthermore my young friends, don't you jump through the first hoop held before you. Consult with your parents—they've been through the mill. If in disagreement with them try compromising.

After the war, much pressure will be brought upon you to join this group or that group. The age-old question of world expansion or national isolation will again come up. Blocs of one kind or another will be formed. Labor problems will again be in the forefront. Even if many of the administration's wartime powers are revoked, new social order schemes will arise to take their place. My advice is to avoid all of these. Go quietly about your business, keep your own counsel, be not talked into or against any faction. Such cycles come and go. During the coming one there will be marvelous chances for the young people who keep their eyes and ears open, their life clean, and their mouth shut!

Red Cross Notes

An ample supply of yarn for army use is on hand at the Red Cross war relief headquarters in the county courthouse and an urgent call is issued for knitters. The boys need helmets, sweaters, cap mufflers and scarfs. Mrs. W. A. Gaffes, chairman of the war relief department said today.

Are you doing your part? Afghans are being knitted for Red Cross war relief and anyone having odd scraps of yarn of varied colors are asked to donate their yarns for this purpose. The scraps may be left at the Red Cross headquarters in the county courthouse and will be greatly appreciated.

Also on hand at the headquarters is material for sewing and those interested may inquire any time during the day.

The war relief office has received a letter from the assistant field director at the Portland air base thanking local volunteer workers for their services in providing sweaters for the soldiers.

In part the letter said "we are pleased to receive two boxes of army sweaters which have been distributed to soldiers on the bases. The boys are thankful for the work done by women of communities such as yours and find the sweaters comfortable and warm. The soldiers have asked us to convey to your chapter and volunteers who made the sweaters their warmest appreciation."

An "Iron savings account" has been created in Germany in an endeavor to freeze increased income of individuals until after the war.

Three suggestions that might also be helpful in keeping your husband as well as your Volunteer Office happy are these:

1. Plan all your menus and your shopping in advance. Keep a large stock of canned goods always on hand to fill in the gaps.
2. Set the table and make everything ready in the kitchen before you leave for your defense duties.
3. Prepare such things as meat loaves, macaroni entrees and desserts before you leave.

How to use less sugar in making puddings and ice cream

Substitutes for sugar often improve the flavor of puddings and ice cream. For instance: brown sugar, maple sugar, and maple flavored syrup give butterscotch and maple flavors, respectively. For cornstarch puddings (Blanc Manges) use ¼ substitute and ¼ granulated sugar called for in the recipe. Mix as usual. Honey should be mild-flavored. Molasses gives a pronounced flavor which you'll either strongly like or dislike. Corn Syrup gives a less sweet pudding than other substitutes. For ice cream: Use the same amount of brown sugar, maple sugar, honey or maple flavored syrup as the amount of granulated sugar called for in the recipe. (Note: When making the custard base for ice cream made with honey, there's a tendency for the custard to curdle. But the finished ice cream will be tasty and of excellent texture. Molasses and Sorghum give a strong-flavored ice cream and should be used with an equal amount of granulated sugar. Corn Syrup has less sweetening power than sugar, so use 1½ cups corn syrup for each cup sugar. All of these substitutes for sugar are offered by your nearby Safeway store—all low priced every day as is every item at Safeway.
