

EFFORTS OF CIO RAPPED BY GILL IN GRANGE TALK

Opposition to Attempted
Organizing of Dairymen
Strong and Speedy.

Milwaukie, June 16—(P)—Attempts by John L. Lewis, United Mine Workers to organize Oregon dairymen were condemned by Ray W. Gill, retiring Oregon State Grangemaster, yesterday. Gill told the 69th annual State Grange convention that he was "pleased to note that he (Lewis) did not have the support of the national AFL or the regular branch of the CIO; neither did he have the support of these organizations in Oregon."

The UMW movement apparently failed to make much headway Gill said.

Opposition Speedy
"The astonishing strength and speed with which the farm and cooperative organization of the country united in opposition to the movement of Mr. Lewis, ought to settle this question for a long time."

Gill advised farmers to join the national farm groups and cooperative agriculture associations if they "expect to make progress through organization."

He said the Oregon State Grange has played a leading part in making Oregon an example of good farmer-labor relationships in contrast to Washington, Idaho and California where there has been "bitter conflict" between the farmers and labor.

Gill said that "in the present war situation, laborers—whether organized or not—should realize the tremendous handicaps that agriculture faces in labor shortage."

American farmers know no short hours, he said. If they did the people of this nation and her allies would face starvation.

No Time To Strike
"This is no time for strikes or unreasonable demands and during this emergency restrictions applied to hours of labor should be subject to reasonable relaxation so that fullest production can be obtained."

"But what we say of labor we say with equal force to business and professional men. We as farmers ask only the opportunity to produce all the food required and receive enough to reimburse us for our costs of production."

"The public should realize that a large proportion of the returns received by the farmer are simply a payment for the labor of himself and family."

Gill, state Grangemaster for 10 years will retire at this convention. Morton Tompkins, former Grange overseer, will be installed as master Friday night.

Bird Is Puzzle To Truck Driver

San Francisco, Cal. (U.P.)—Oscar Del Sarto, truckman, has a mystery bird that he would be glad to have someone take off his hands. The bird lit on his truck and rode home with him.

No ornithologist in the city has been able to identify it. In the meantime he has named it "P-38" because it takes off like an army plane—a short run, then a lift into the air. But it always comes back to him. Furthermore, it looks sad, eats little and likes to sit in a dark corner.

WHAT TO DO IN AN AIR RAID

1.—In any air raid or blackout, take cover immediately.
(A) If you are away from home, get off the street. You are 10 times safer in a building than standing or walking on the street. If you are in a car, pull to the side of the road immediately. Do not double park. Keep clear of fire plugs. Get out of the car, bus, or street car and take shelter.

(B) If you are at home, take immediate blackout precautions. Extinguish all lights. Have your fire protection equipment ready. Go to your blackout room; it should be the safest room in your home. Stay away from windows. Bomb explosions shatter glass for considerable distances.

2.—Don't use the telephone. Remember those persons who have been trained to protect you—the air raid wardens, fire watchers, auxiliary firemen, auxiliary police and many others, must be able to get really important messages through. Your personal calls have got to wait until after the all-clear signal.

3.—If you are caught in the open lie down on your stomach. You are twice as safe lying down as standing up.
4.—If incendiary bombs fall, play a coarse spray of water on them. Put out the fires started by the incendiaries first, then devote your attention to the bomb. The coarse spray of water burns the bomb up faster. A heavy jet, stream or bucket of water will make the bomb explode. If you have no way of treating the bomb with water, cover it with dry sand. Then with a blunt nosed shovel scoop the bomb onto a pile of sand, dump the sand and bomb into a pail and take it outside.

5.—Remember, obey your air raid warden and other members of the United States Citizens Defense corps, they are trying to help you.

6.—Above all—keep cool—stay home—put out lights—take shelter—lie down—stay away from windows. You can help.

(This has been approved by the Civilian Protection division of the United States Office of Civilian Defense).

WHAT TO DO IN A GAS ATTACK

1.—Serious injury may result from exposure to liquid gas which may fall from airplanes. It is, therefore, imperative to remain indoors and keep the windows closed.

2.—War gases are heavier than air. If you are inside a building remain there, and, if possible, go upstairs. Do not complicate the military effort by leaving your house unless circumstances make it absolutely necessary. If you are outside and not able to immediately go indoors walk—do not run—get out of the gas area. Avoid puddles of liquid gas, basements, valleys and other low places.

3.—If the windows of your room are broken, go to another room, or get out of the building.

4.—If you have been exposed to a war gas:

A. Breathe through cloths wet with baking soda solution.

B. If you can go inside a building, do so, but first remove your outer clothing and leave it outside.

C. Wash your hands and then your face with laundry soap and water.

D. Wash your eyes at once with a large amount of a solution of baking soda; one teaspoonful of baking soda in a glass of water.

E. Take a bath using plenty of laundry soap.

F. Wash your eyes again with baking soda solution.

5.—If splashes of liquid gas have gotten on you:

A. Using small pieces of cloth, cleansing tissue or toilet paper, blot up as much of the liquid as you can, being careful not to spread it.

B. Dab the contaminated area with cloths wet with clorox, purex, sani-clor, etc.

C. Steps B., C., D., E. and F. in above.

6.—Do not get excited. Lie down and cover yourself with a blanket. Your air raid warden will summon medical aid.

There is no immediate serious danger from exposure to any known war gas if you follow these simple rules.

Clip them out and memorize them.

(This has been approved by the Medical division of the United States Office of Civilian Defense).

DAY CAMP GIRLS BUSY PREPARING DAILY PROGRAMS

To date 122 different girls have attended the Day camp sponsored by the Medford Girl Scouts. Last week the various units worked on crafts and badges. The senior unit has been spending much time preparing for their junior playground assistants certificate. Each unit plans its own program.

Daily at 3:10 one of the units present a program. Tuesday the Bluebirds and the Busy Beavers presented a group of songs. On Wednesday the Squirrels gave "Barr'n o' the Door" and "Short'n Bread." Thursday the entire camp took part in a party. Theme of the celebration was "A Carnival in Rio." Each unit had a special duty as preparing the program, the decorations and planning the menu. Each camper came dressed in a costume representing various characters.

During the leisure hour on Wednesday Mrs. R. Driver read units I, II, III and IV, one of Kipling's animal stories. After the story Mrs. Driver took the campers on a nature walk.

Each Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday during June are Day camp days for every girl in the community. Girls may attend one day or every day. A parent's permission is required for the first day's attendance only. A fee of 5c is charged for each day.

All new girls in the community between the ages of seven-18 are urged to attend.

Males under 18 years in Germany are not entitled to smokers' ration cards and women over 25 may obtain only half rations.

Plane Spotter Praised by Chief

Frackville, Pa. (U.P.)—Keen-eyed, 75-year-old James Ferguson has the distinction of receiving a personal letter from Brig. Gen. J. K. Cannon of the first interceptor command, praising him for his devotion to duty here as a plane spotter.

Ferguson, who retired from duty as a trainman in 1937 after 46 years of service, is credited with having manned the Frackville observation post at least six hours a day and seven days a week since the warning tower was constructed several months ago.

LEND-LEASE AID $4,497,000,000 AT END OF MAY

Roosevelt Gives Congress
Report On Vast Production—Distribution Critical

Washington, June 16—(P)—President Roosevelt informed congress today that lend-lease aid up to the end of May totaled $4,497,000,000 and that while the battle of production was on way to being won, the battle of distribution was "in its critical phase."

"Our reservoir of resources is now approaching flood stage," he said. "The next step is for our military, industrial, and shipping experts to direct its full force against the centers of enemy power."

"Great Britain and the United States are taking combined action to carry our men and weapons—on anything that will float or fly—to the places from which we can launch our offensives."

Roosevelt summed up for congress the results of 15 months of lend-lease operations—with the emphasis finally shifted from foodstuffs and industrial materials to a preponderance of fighting weapons and military items.

Started March 1941
The lend-lease program was instituted on March 11, 1941, and the aid extended since that time to the British commonwealth of nations and 35 other countries has amounted to $3,673,000,000 in goods and $824,000,000 in such services as repairing ships, ferrying aircraft and providing production facilities in this country.

The goods included $2,061,000,000 of articles transferred, that is, delivered to lend-lease nations at production or export points in this country. Of this amount $2,138,000,000 has been exported.

The balance of the $3,673,000 is accounted for by articles awaiting transfer or use and those in process of manufacture.

Coast Guard Offers Reserve Enlistment For Men Old As 55

War time expansion of the U. S. coast guard has created a great demand for men; and in order to enlarge its war-time complement, the coast guard is now accepting men for reserve enlistment between the ages of 17 and 55, in good physical condition. Former age limits were 17 to 33.

A variety of vacancies are open to men with experience. Radio operators, cooks, diesel and gas engine mechanics, aviation mechanics, aviation metal-smiths, carpenters, pharmacists, stenographers, or small boat operators may be given ratings as petty officers provided their training is deemed sufficient. If a man is not skilled in a trade, the coast guard will train him in one of its many fine technical schools.

High school graduation is no longer required. The recruiting officer, room 306, Pioneer post office, Portland, Ore., will give full particulars.

A Tribute to our Employees

Today, two new flags are flying from the offices of the Standard Oil Company of California. One is our service flag, honoring those 2056 of our employees who have joined the fighting services of the United States. The other is the highest award of the Treasury of the United States, the Treasury flag with red bulls-eye insignia, awarded to the employees of our company for pledging more than ten per cent of our total payroll to the purchase of War Savings Bonds. We are proud to display these symbols of the patriotism and devotion of the 18,000 men and women of this company.
