

Jacksonville Youth, Lexington Survivor, Home On Furlough

Richard Hall, electrician's mate third class, formerly of the U. S. S. Lexington and son of Mrs. Grace Hall of Jacksonville, arrived here last evening after an arduous trip from the scene of the Coral sea action.

On expiration of his 12 days leave Hall hopes to be assigned to another airplane carrier. In relating his experiences aboard the Lexington, Hall expressed belief that the particular mission to which his task force was assigned made it necessary to withhold news of the Lexington's loss as long as possible.

Hall graduated from Jacksonville high school in 1939 and enlisted in the navy through the Medford navy recruiting office in December, 1940. His brother, Harry, Hall, enlisted in the navy at the same time and is now a radioman at Bermuda.

Life Imprisonment for Triangle Slayer

Portland, Ore., June 17—(P)—A life imprisonment sentence was passed yesterday on O. D. Taylor, 29, convicted of shooting fatally Floyd Dickson, 25, in a quarrel over a woman March 27.

Also sentenced in circuit court were Rennie, 23, Glen, 17, and Truman Wilson, 16, brothers who pleaded guilty to criminal attacks on two 17-year-old girls. The eldest will serve 40 years in the state penitentiary. Glen will serve 20 years and Truman 7 years.

CANNING SUGAR PLEAS TO WAIT

Due to lack of sugar canning applications and help the Jackson county rationing board is unable to take any more registrations for canning sugar at present, the board announced today.

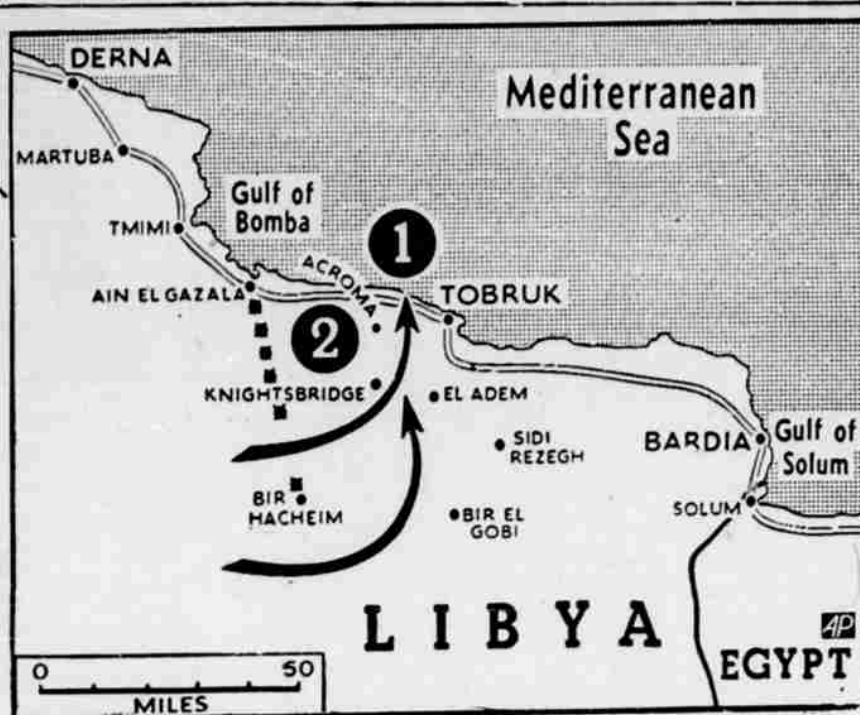

A heavy drain on the sugar canning applications form at the state office has made it difficult for the local board to receive needed forms and those desiring to make their application are asked to telephone the board, 5149, to find out if the forms are on hand.

Office employees said that those who already have their forms may turn them into the office. Many hundreds of forms have been issued and lack of help and time has slowed the registration. Anyone wishing to volunteer their help in assisting in registration of sugar canning applicants may call the board. Those in charge stated today that volunteer help will be appreciated.

Carol Parker Voted Vice-Commander for Oregon Disabled Vets

McMinnville, June 17—(P)—Oregon Disabled American Veterans demanded yesterday that they be given a voice in shaping the post-war world.

One resolution passed at the close of the 21st annual state convention asked that one of their members be allowed to "sit at the conference table when the United Nations dictate the terms of peace."

Another proposed to abolish in the future "the right of Japanese, American-born or other, to own or contract any property or business for material gain."

Next year's convention was voted to Klamath Falls.

Officers elected: Dow V. Walker, Newport, state commander; Walter C. Burghardt, Oregon City, senior vice commander; Carol J. Parker, Medford, junior vice commander; Corr Quale, Portland, treasurer; Rev. Levi White, Roseburg, chaplain; Frank Barnes, Portland, sergeant-at-arms.

Mr. Parker is a former commander of the local D.A.V. chapter and has long been active in veterans' affairs.
