HOMER IN NINTH
GIVES REDS WIN
OVER CURT DAVISFormer Valley Pitcher and Vander Meer Each Allow Four Hits.

Brooklyn, June 27—(AP)—The ninth-inning strategy of the Brooklyn Dodgers exploded in the face of Pitcher Curt Davis today as pinchhitter Ray Lamanno blasted a three-run homer with two men out, giving the Cincinnati Reds and Johnny Vander Meer a 3-1 decision.

The defeat cut Brooklyn's lead in the National League to nine games as the St. Louis Cardinals were kept idle at Philadelphia.

Davis and Vander Meer, who yielded only four hits apiece, hooked up in a corking mound duel which went for seven innings without a hit.

Lamanno, the Pacific Coast rookie, drove the ball into the lower left field stands for his eighth home run of the year, clinching Vander Meer's eighth triumph against five defeats.

Cincinnati 3 4 0
Brooklyn 1 4 0
Vander Meer and Hemsley, Lamanno (9); Davis and Owen.

New York, June 27—(AP)—The home run power of the New York Giants broke loose after five scoreless innings today and generated more than enough runs for a 5-2 triumph over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Although the Giants were out, 9 to 7, they came from behind in the sixth when Johnny Mize and Hank Leiber clouted two-run homers and Manager Mel Ott added another four-bagger with the bases empty in the eighth.

Pittsburgh 2 9 0
New York 5 7 0
Heintzelman, Lanning (7) and Phelps; Carpenter and Danning.

Boston, June 27—(AP)—Al Javery, with only 48 hours rest, pitched his second shutout in eight days today as the Boston Braves defeated the Chicago Cubs, 4-0.

The big Boston right-hander never was in trouble in registering his sixth victory, while the Braves scored a run in the first inning and then chased Hiram Bithorn, first of three Chicago pitchers, with three run rally in the fifth.

PORTLAND EDGES
OUT PADRES, 2-1,
IN MOUND DUEL

Portland, June 27—(AP)—Byron Speece edged Rex Dilbeck in a pitching duel today to give the Portland Beavers a 2-1 Pacific Coast Baseball League win over San Diego.

Danny Amaral, Portland centerfielder, clouted a home run in the sixth, scoring Martinez ahead of him, to defeat Dilbeck and even the series at two games each.

Except for Garibaldi's double and Calvey's single which combined to give the Padres a run in the seventh, Speece was effective throughout, fanning seven as he abandoned his usual submarine delivery for an overhand pitch.

Portland 2 7 0

THREE TIED FOR MAHONING TITLE

Girard, O., June 27—(AP)—Determined to retain his Mahoning open title, Clayton Heafner, the big blond from Durham, N. C., fired into a three-way tie of 131 today with Lloyd Mangrum and E. J. (Dutch) Harrison.

His putts dropping nicely and his drives threading the fairway, Heafner shaved a stroke off yesterday's two-below-par 66 to press his bid for $1,000 first place money. Heafner and his two top competitors were five beneath par.

Mangrum, from Monterey Park, Calif., and a good stretch golfer when he's "hot," added a 66 to his first round 65 while Harrison carved four strokes from par on the home nine for a sensational 30 which gave him eighteens of 66 and 65 at the halfway mark. E. J., known on the pro circuit as the Arkansas Traveler, now lives at Harrisburg, Pa.

Umpire Injured in Crash—
Chase Tames Cleveland;
Browns Win.

Chicago, June 27—(AP)—The New York Yankees made the most of their line hits off young Orval Grove today and bounced back from last night's defeat to whip the Chicago White Sox, 7-3, and square the series.

With the second place Boston Red Sox handing Cleveland another beating, the Yanks needed the decision to preserve their six and a half game lead in the American league.

Spud Chandler went all the way for the champions, notching his eighth victory against two defeats although he was hit hard in the early innings and yielded a total of ten blows.

The Yanks scored in the first three innings, as well as the last two, but three hits produced only one run in the wild opening frame, during which Manager Jimmy Dykes of the White Sox was chased by Umpire Bill Grieve for protesting a decision.

On a play in the fifth inning, Chandler collided accidentally with Umpire Harry Glesel, who was injured so badly he had to be carried from the field.

The defeat was the fifth for Grove, against four wins.

New York 7 9 1
Chicago 3 10 1
Chandler and Dickey; Grove and Turner.

Detroit, June 27—(AP)—Roger Cramer lashed out a double off Rookie Dick Fowler with two out in the 13th inning today to score Billy Hitchcock from first base and give the Detroit Tigers a 6-5 victory over the Philadelphia Athletics. It was the fifth straight defeat for the seventh place A's.

After Phil Marchildon had walked three runs home and spotted the Tigers an early 4 to 1 lead, the A's smacked Tommy Bridges for four successive hits that produced two runs in the seventh and sent the game into extra innings on Dick Siebert's first homer of the season in the ninth.

Detroit 6 10 3
Marchildon, Flower (7), and Wagner; Bridges, Gorsica (10), and Tebbetts.

Big Ed Dudley of Colorado Springs, president of the National Professional Golfers' association, barged through with a 69 for a half-way total of 140.

CRATERS BEATEN
BY KLAMATH 14-2

Although suffering a 14 to 2 defeat at the hands of Klamath Falls in Klamath Falls last night, the Medford Craters retained a slim half-game lead over the Pelicans in the Oregon-California league pennant race.

The clubs will play the second game of the series this afternoon, with Steve Crippen doing the Crater flinging.

The heavy-hitting Pelicans hammered Pvt. Joe Dickinson for 17 hits in scoring their surprisingly lop-sided victory. Meanwhile Virgil Haynes, on the mound for Klamath, was letting the locals down with but four blows.

The game was a seven-inning affair.

The victory was worth $23,650 to Whirlaway, boosting his earnings to $404,486, making him the second horse in all turf history to go over $400,000, and putting him $33,244 from Seabiscuit's all-time winning record.

FRANK MERRIWELL
CREATOR RESIDES
IN SPOKANE NOW

Spokane, Wash., June 27—(AP)—Frank Merriwell, who always hit home runs with the bases loaded, now is a resident of the northwest—that is, the man who thought of all the famous collegian feats has come to Spokane to live.

He is Gilbert Patten, known as Burt L. Standish to Merriwell fans. He is residing here with his son, H. B. Patten.

"Frank Merriwell was born as the suggestion of a publisher," Patten said today. "He wanted a character following the lines of Ack Harkaway, wildcat hero of the British. He commissioned two others before me to create this thoroughly American character, and then I started writing."

Patten said the Merriwell books were selling at a rate of 3,000,000 copies weekly at one time—some three decades ago when Frank was the American boy's hero. An affidavit once was made that 123,500,000 readers had become acquainted with Frank Merriwell, who was always right and always victorious.

SELAKI, SOCKEYE
TANGLE IN MAIN
BOU AT ARMORY

Two fellows who don't have any particular love for each other will see what they can do about the matter in Monday night's main mat event in the armory.

The trials of Sockeye Jack McDonald and Prince Selaki Mihalikis have crossed a number of times in the past several years and on each occasion the result has been a bitter, play-for-keeps struggle.

Last time the pair came to grips, though unofficially, was during and after last Monday's Mihalikis-Craig match, which McDonald refereed.

The Prince, at one point in the contest, got frisky and took a swing at Sockeye, and Sockeye promptly knocked him flat. Then, after the fracas, when Mihalikis was fuming and foaming at the mouth and acting like a wild-man, McDonald was forced to help calm him down with a couple of knocks to the jaw and a knee to the same place.

This stopped Mihalikis for the time being, but left him aflame with the determination to get McDonald in the ring in a regulation match and work him over. The Prince asked Promoter Mack Lillard to get McDonald for him, and needless to say McDonald wasn't hard to get.

The Mihalikis tactics aren't described in the better books on "How to Wrestle," although the Arabian prince can maneuver around with the best of the legitimate matmen. More and more, though, he is relying on off-color stuff, and disliking McDonald as he does the expectations are for an alley-brawl of the first water.

Blacksmith George Craig of Camp White, probably the fastest grappler to work this section in several years, draws a tough customer in Broccoli Bob Kruse for the six-round middle event.

Two highly popular pachyderms—Irish Jim Casey and Pedro Brazill, the handsome South American—return to open the card at 8:30, in a four-rounder. Both are clean and scientific wrestlers, as good as any in the game.
