

NEW SOLUTION FOR HOUSING PROBLEM IS OFFERED HERE

Remodeling of Houses to Provide For More Family Units Is Urged.

The flood of inquiries pouring in to the Jackson County Chamber of Commerce from officers and civilian personnel connected with the new Medford cantonment here indicate an acute shortage of houses and family unit apartments will soon be felt locally. The imminent need of housing facilities has prompted an immediate effort to provide accommodations for the many families soon to arrive in this city.

In discussion the housing situation faced by this community, chamber of commerce officials point out that the chance of financing new home construction by the government or by private capital is remote as far as a general building program is concerned. The approximate increase in families is known at this time and the anticipated demand for housing will make necessary the immediate remodeling of houses already constructed to provide one or more added family units.

Funds Available
While FHA funds will not be available for new construction, money will be available for the rehabilitation of existing houses, according to information received here. To further encourage the establishment of added family units in houses already erected here, the restrictions on critical building materials will be relaxed.

Post-war surveys in other cantonment centers revealed the need for furnished rooms in military areas. Since Pearl Harbor the picture has changed, chamber of commerce officials point out. Cantonment workers who were single were quickly called into the armed forces and much of the building job was left to family men.

The same factors will affect this community when Camp White is manned by civilians, soldiers and officers. Civilian workers connected with the camp will, in most instances, be married men and women and their requirements will demand houses or family units. Further construction on the Medford airport will render the situation here even more critical.

As a service to home owners here and in an effort to fully cooperate with Camp White officials, the Jackson County Chamber of Commerce has offered facilities as a clearing house between home owners and house seekers. Those who have houses in this city adapted to conversion to family units are asked to contact the chamber or any of Medford's lumber dealers so that needed remodeling may be undertaken without delay. An expert will immediately call and offer reliable information as to approximate cost of converting a house into two or more family units.

VANDENBERG SEES THREAT TO PRESS

Grand Haven, Mich., June 27.—(AP)—The nation's press had from Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg (R-Mich.) today a warning that its right to remain unfettered during the war was threatened by government controls.

The issue, he told representatives of 36 Associated Press member newspapers in Michigan, is: "Truth, of which we have had too little, versus propaganda, of which we have had much too much."

Only through a free press retaining its right of "eternal vigilance," he declared in an address last night before the Michigan Press Editorial association, "Can America remain invincible."

"The iron gag at home," he asserted, "cannot possibly symbolize the four freedoms abroad."

SPEEDING REASON DENYING RUBBER

Portland, June 27.—(AP)—Abusing of tires will be cause for denying tires and tubes to eligible purchaser, State OPA Director Richard G. Montgomery informed rationing boards today.

Effective July 1, applicants must certify that they have not wasted tires by exceeding the recommended 40-mile speed limit or driving carelessly.

WALL ST. ENJOYS BIT OF RECOVERY
New York, June 27.—(AP)—The stock market today emerged from a rather depressing week with mild and selective recovery tendencies a little more than offsetting declining trends for many leaders.

Both buyers and sellers remained hesitant in view of inconclusive war developments in Russia and Egypt. Losses and gains generally were in negligible fractions at the close.

SALVATION ARMY BOY-GIRLS' CAMP PLAN TAKE SHAPE

With the weather giving every indication of falling into its normal groove, plans are rapidly being fulfilled for the annual Salvation Army Summer Camp for Boys and Girls at Lake O' The Woods.

Last year the Salvation Army Summer camp was held at the Boy Scout camp. However, this year, by the co-operation of the Rogue River National Forest, the camp will be held at the CCC camp on the east side of the lake. The entire facilities of the CCC have been turned over for the Salvation Army. New buildings have been erected, roads have been cleared, and everything is being placed in readiness for the needy youngsters of this community. A squad of CCC boys has been spending the past several days at the campgrounds, working under the supervision of Adjutant Chas. Cox.

In taking over the entire camp, innumerable difficulties have ensued. Most of them have already been surmounted but there still remains a lack of equipment to thoroughly equip the camp. Kerosene lanterns, and lamps, mattresses (three quarters or full size), folding cots, quilts, blankets, towels, pillows and pillow cases are all needed.

Also needed is sick room equipment for emergencies: first aid kits, small tables, etc. Mirrors, wash pans, buckets, wash boards and, if possible, an electric washing machine are among other items that can be used.

Pots, pans, kettles, frying pans, skillet, biscuit pans, rolling pins, paring and butcher knives, graters, meat saw, cleavers and kitchen items of that nature can all be used.

Playground equipment such as balls, bats, gloves, mitts, footballs, tennis balls and nets, swings, ping pong tables and rackets are needed for recreational activities. And such items as axes, rakes, hoes, saws, hammers, table vice, chisels, augers and bits would be welcomed to help keep the buildings in repair.

Those wishing to contribute any of the above articles to help furnish the camp are requested to bring the articles to the Salvation Army hall at 4th and Bartlett streets or, if that is impossible, to call Adjutant Cox at 4230.

It has also been requested that youngsters, or parents with youngsters wishing to attend the Summer camp this year, register their names at the office of the Salvation Army hall between the hours of 10:30 to 12 noon daily.

NEW USO CENTER WELCOMES VISIT BY PUBLIC TODAY

Southern Oregon residents are invited to participate in the opening of the United Service Organization temporary center, at 234 East Main street, today between 4 and 10 p. m. Designed as a recreational center for men in the U. S. armed forces, the quarters have been remodeled to offer a program of interest to soldiers stationed in the county.

Mrs. Helen Small, USO director, said the public is invited to become acquainted with the center and the program and to learn how they can participate in the program. She invites those unable to attend Sunday to stop at the center during the coming week.

Attendance is expected to include a large number and if residents are unable to secure admittance at one time it is hoped they will call later in the day.

Under the direction of Mrs. Penny Fontaine, USO director, a varied program of interest to young and old has been arranged. Refreshments will be served from the canteen, decorated in gay South American fashion.

The program for the military men begins Monday at 9 a. m. running until 11 p. m. daily.
