D. A. V. Appeals for Veterans to Join And Help Win War

J. P. Graham, commander of Jackson county chapter of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War, today issued an invitation to any veteran of the World War who was gassed, wounded, injured or disabled in the line of duty, to make application for membership in the D.A.V.

Pointing out that this week, from June 28 to July 4, had been designated by the national council of American Veterans' organizations as "America's Veterans' Week", Commander Graham called upon all veterans to join one of the various veterans' organizations in order to concentrate their efforts toward winning the war.

"Many World War veterans, disappointed that because of their age they are unable to take up arms in the present war, have been busily engaged in an 'all out' war effort as individuals," he explained. "They have been assisting in selection of able-bodied men, encouraging specialized training for defense work, buying war bonds and stamps and encouraging others to buy and, of course, helping to increase the effectiveness of civilian defense."

"Many, however, have overlooked the importance of helping in the organized work of the various veterans' groups, and for that reason I wish to emphasize that every veteran in this community is eligible for one of the various vet organizations."

CELEBRATION FOR SERVICE MEN AT USO ON HOLIDAY

United Service Organization center is planning a full July 4 celebration for members of the armed forces stationed in southern Oregon. A community sing and a dance are among scheduled events and through the courtesy of Thomas Flynn, this city, 100 free tickets are available at the center to soldiers for the Saturday afternoon baseball game.

The community sing, scheduled for 10 a. m. for soldiers and junior hostesses will be held at the center. Those interested in forming a chorus are asked to be present.

The Sunday program includes a symphonic hour at 4 p. m. when Mrs. E. E. Gore will bring symphonic records of Beethoven to the center, give an interpretation of the records and a brief talk on the life of the composer. This will be followed by a quiet hour from 5 to 6 p. m., devoted to literature and poetry.

At an informal dance last evening at the center 71 junior hostesses and 141 soldiers joined in an evening of fun. Music for the occasion was donated through the courtesy of Satch Bianchi and his orchestra, Ally Maple and Bill Ryan. They have offered their services one evening a month. Senior hostesses present were Mrs. O. A. Eden, Mrs. Ward Spatz and Mrs. Helen Conroy.

The dance preceded a short business session at the city hall when junior hostesses heard Frank Hull discuss civilian defense training and its purpose. The civilian defense meeting for the hostesses begins at 7 o'clock tonight at senior high school. A short skit on correct manners was given by Pat Wilkinson and Bob Ray.
