

TREES TO ADORN CAMP LANDSCAPE

The 91st Infantry division area at Camp White, through cooperation of the Rogue River National Forest, will be landscaped and beautified with 500 locust and 500 Chinese elm trees the coming autumn.

The forest service, making a present of the trees to Camp White, will also give technical assistance in their transplanting. The saplings, two or three inches high, will be obtained by the forest service from the Wind River nursery, Carson, Wash.

The forest service will also furnish a 60-foot pine tree for the August 15 ceremony at Camp White, at which time the 91st Infantry division of World War I fame, whose insignia was and will be a pine tree, will be reorganized.

Fifty-one thousand tons of blackplate have been saved by clucking down its use in bottle caps.

Do You Own A Goldfish?

NOT EVERYBODY owns a goldfish. Yet, through this broad western land, many people do. The number of westerners who own goldfish is definitely greater than the number who own ostriches. But it's probably smaller than the number of butchers, bakers, candlestick-makers and other citizens who own Standard stock.

Of course, it's impossible to prove this suggestion with statistics. It has been years since anybody took a goldfish census. The idea here is merely to infer that it's commonplace rather than rare to own a part of Standard. If your neighbor owns Standard stock, it's no more surprising than if he owns a horse, a soup-tureen, or an electric iron.

The exact figures are that 74,567 stockholders own this Company. Only 3-point-something percent of them own more than 500 shares each. Nearly half own 25 shares or less. If figures mean anything—and if they don't two and two don't make four—Standard is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Average Citizen... and a lot of them.

Furthermore, nearly half our stockholders live on the Pacific Coast. Normally they watch our operations with their own eyes. That's not wholly possible in war time. But it insures that our interests are those of Mr. and Mrs. Average Citizen. Our interests are All American.
