

PARADE IN CITY PRECEDES RODEO SATURDAY NIGHT

the top riders on the Pacific coast were in town ready to compete for the numerous cash prizes offered.

All entries for the various horse show classes will be received at 2 p. m. Saturday at the fairgrounds. There is a $5 entrance fee for the stock horse class, with prizes of $25, $15 and $10 to be awarded. All horse show classes are open to everybody.

Judges for the horse show were announced as Dr. G. A. Gitzon, W. H. Whitwell and Lieut. Bert J. Staats of the state police. Lynn Roycraft of Klamath Falls will be the announcer.

Saturday night's program will open with the grand entry, followed by a demonstration by the U. S. army drill team from Camp White with the following sergeants participating: Lowe, Rodgers, Sewell, Simpson, Bell, Johns, Waite, Hardy, Judd and Goodnight. Following this drill will come rodeo events.

Next on the program will be the jumping horse class in which Major General Charles H. Gerhardt, commander of the 91st Infantry Division, will compete. Other 91st division officers entered are Lieut. Hallstrom, Lieut. Greenfield and Sgts. May, Riley, Berry and Tokell.

More rodeo events will follow this class with the three-gaited horse class next on the program. Rodeo events will come next, to be followed by the ladies' and men's stock horse class, the pleasure-horse class and more rodeo events to climax the show.

Sunday night's program will be changed in two respects, five-gaited class replacing the three-gaited class and family horse class replacing the pleasure horse class.

MILINDIA PRUETT, PIONEER, PASSES

Milindia L. Pruett, a resident of Southern Oregon for over 60 years, passed away at a local hospital at 4:45 p. m. on Thursday afternoon, after a brief illness. Mrs. Pruett was born in Rone County, Tennessee on February 9, 1867, being 75 years of age.

She came west from Tennessee with her parents when she was quite young to California, and came from Redding, Calif., to Southern Oregon. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Cox were early pioneers of this district. Milindia Cox was united in marriage to Charles Pruett in Medford, Oregon, in November 1887 and they have lived here continuously since that time. Mr. Pruett passed away in November 1917.

She leaves to mourn her passing two children, one daughter, Mrs. Mabel Stanley of Brownsville, Oregon, and one son, W. Guy Pruett of Eagle Point, also five grandchildren, two sisters, Minnie King of Seavastopol, Cal., and Mrs. Laura Pottinger of Medford, one brother, D. T. Cox of Winters, Calif.

Funeral services will be announced later through the Perl funeral home.

Communications

Local Merchants Praised

To the Editor:—Members of Chapter No. 8 Disabled American Veterans of World War I, having gone through one war, and having most of us, faced the enemy, in battle, receiving our disabilities while serving our country, believe that it is fitting that we express ourselves in commending the merchants of Medford for their backing, moral and otherwise, of this new 91st Division Activation, Saturday, August 15th.

We know how much better a soldier feels about the thing when he arrives at the scene of action against the enemy, if he has left the home town in the knowledge that the citizenry are back of him 100%.

We know that, from experience, but we can only imagine the feelings of a soldier who has left home with the opposite views.

Most of the merchants of the city are closing up, or remaining closed until 1 p. m. on Saturday, the day of this event, and we feel that it is fitting and proper that they should do so.

After all, we fail to see where there would be any waste of perishable foodstuffs in that short time of closing.

Now, if all of the food stores closed every Sunday, we believe there would be some reason for not caring to close for a while on the day preceding it, but, since nearly all of them remain open on Sundays, we fail to see that the damage would be great.

A report from the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce appeared in the Mail Tribune of August 12. In this report Mr. Hull states that Medford merchants have enjoyed an increase in business of more than 40% since the activation of Camp White. Also, many lasting friendships have been formed between officers and men of Camp White and the Medford citizens.

In the face of these facts, we do not believe that it is too much of a sacrifice for the merchants to close for this event, and we are glad so many of them are so doing.

J. P. GRAHAM, Commander, Jackson County Chapter No. 8 D. A. V.

Don't Forget the Home Boys

To the Editor: In these busy days made more active by defense and war work of different kinds let's not forget our own soldier boys. Especially those in the different branches in foreign service. We have many in the army, navy, marine and air corp. Also Jackson county's own Co. A 188th Infantry now in Australia.

American tobacco and coffee are a great luxury in the land down under. A tin of cookies, some gum, a roll of Tribunes, a newsy letter or even a postcard will make some fellow who is fighting our fight a bit happier to know he is not forgotten.

Let's make an effort to get the address of at least one of these men and send a little encouragement and cheer. The news of the past four days should convince us the boys need it.

SAFeway Homemakers' Guide

NUMBER 56 ★ Hints and suggestions for box lunches ★ Safeway week-end prices now good every day ★ A shopping lesson from a girl named Nora

Looking for ways to make box lunches more interesting?

More than ever, it is imperative that the meals you serve your family be appetizing, filling, and up to nutritional standards. And that goes for a box lunch as well as any other meal of the day. In many cases (war workers on night shifts, for instance) the box lunch is the most important meal of the day. And it must not only be appetizing and nutritious, it must be planned and packed to stay attractive for several hours after it's been prepared.

So don't use less of your menu-planning ingenuity on box lunches—use more.

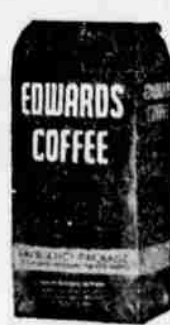

Here are a few hints and a few menus, planned and tested by the Safeway Homemakers' Bureau, that might help you in your planning.

Use the best equipment available. Be sure the tops to all jars and bottles fit perfectly. Use plenty of wax paper.

Vary the bread for sandwiches. Use the more uncommon types of bread once in a while—pumpernickel, raisin, nut bread, sesame seed, etc.

Use lots of butter. This helps keep sandwiches from drying out.

Don't include sandwiches like tomato and lettuce. They're almost certain to wilt. If he likes tomatoes, put in a whole one instead.
