

SALVAGE HEAD IS MAIN SPEAKER AT LIONS CLUB MEET

R. G. Fowler, county agent and chairman of the Jackson county scrap salvage committee, addressed the Lions Club dinner-meeting Wednesday at Earhart's. He emphasized the responsibility that each citizen must take upon himself to see that all available scrap be reported and where possible, brought to the city collection pile.

He said that a major difficulty experienced by the committee was collection of scrap in out of the way places—that wherever scrap was lying in abandoned mines or other projects, authorization for its appropriation by its owners would facilitate acquisition for defense purposes. He explained that, with some existing methods of smelting, steel was produced from iron ore, while with others, the more commonly used methods, scrap steel was a necessity in the manufacture of steel ingots, as it was combined with the iron ore.

Chairman Fowler emphasized the imperative need for the accumulation of scrap as the lack of it had slowed up defense work.

President Frank Huntz opened the meeting and turned over the gavel to Program Chairman J. A. McDougall, who introduced the speaker. A visiting guest was Oscar Sabin.

ASHLAND SCHOOLS TO OPEN MONDAY; LABOR UNNEEDED

Ashland, Sept. 17—(SPL)—Ashland schools will open definitely next Monday, according to Supt. T. J. Norby, who stated today that such opening would not interfere with the harvesting of fruit and crops, on basis of a survey that the official made. Supt. Norby stated they had contacted 30 growers in this area; that seven of them had replied to the questionnaire sent out, and that three stated they were using 30 Ashland high school students on the harvesting and packing job.

However, it was the decision that at present the labor supply is not so critical that it is necessary to postpone school opening.

Assistant County Agent C. B. Cordy said today the above might be the situation in the Ashland district but not in the Medford area. He described the labor situation here "as very acute" with still need for pickers. Both the season and the handling of the crop is behind. Normally the peak of the har-

REVOKE PAROLE OF BOY FORGER

The parole of Glen LeRoy Ericks, Klamath Falls, charged with cashing approximately $500 in forged checks on the Hotel Holland last summer, has been revoked, and the 15-year old youth ordered committed to the State Industrial school at Woodburn. Ericks was recently arrested at Eugene for forgery.

Following his arrest here last June Ericks was paroled to his mother at Klamath Falls by juvenile authorities on condition that he would behave, work and turn his money over to his mother. It was believed most of the money he obtained was used in the purchase of an automobile.

While employed by Joe Early of the Hotel Holland, the youth stole blank checks, and passed spurious paper on local merchants. He was nabbed by an other Holland employee, while trying to pass phony paper in a grocery store, after a spirited chase.

The order of revocation and commitment was filed in the county clerk's office yesterday.

The fisheries of the Gaspe peninsula which forms the southeastern tip of Quebec province form an industry with an annual turnover of $1,500,000. Cod is the chief commercial asset of the district.
