

HOLLYWOOD STAR STAYS AT PEAK ON SALARY LIST

Louis B. Mayer's $704,425 Stipend Leads 1940 Report—Crosby Does Well.

Washington, Sept. 18.—(U.P.)—The Treasury disclosed today that fabled Hollywood was tops on the national salary list again in 1940, and placed five men among the highest 10 in the United States.

At the top of the treasury's listing was Louis B. Mayer, vice president in charge of production at Loew's Inc., whose stipend was $704,425. He has led the national parade for four straight years.

Biggest total shown for any woman in the report was $362,500 for screen star Irene Dunne, but this was over a 22-month period, from January 1, 1940, to October 31, 1941. She worked for three different studios, each of which submitted its reports on different fiscal-year bases, and her total could not be compared with 12-month figures reported for most individuals.

Income of such notables as Henry Ford and John D. Rockefeller, Jr., did not show on the treasury breakdown, since such wealthy men receive most of their money from investments.

775 Over $75,000

All in all, the treasury listed 775 persons who received $75,000 or more and 62 who received more than $200,000. Closely following Mayer were:

Thomas J. Watson, president of International Business Machines, Inc., $546,294.

Eugene G. Grace, president, Bethlehem Steel Corp., $478,144.

George W. Hill, president, American Tobacco Co., $456,415.

Bing Crosby, screen star, $302,314.81 from Paramount Pictures, Inc., and $150,000 from Universal Pictures Co., Inc., for a total of $452,314.

James Cagney, screen star, $362,500.

Clark Gable, movie star, $357,500.

Nicholas M. Schenck, president, Loew's Inc., $334,204.

Crawford $268,538

Those reported receiving $200,000 or more:

Logan's Inc.—Stars Joan Crawford, $266,538; William Powell, $256,250; Ginger Rogers, $254,416; Wallace Beery, $251,250; Spencer Tracy, $247,383; Robert Montgomery, $211,416; Greta Garbo, $203,335.

Warner Bros.—Bette Davis, $271,083; Errol Flynn, $240,000; and H. B. Wallis, $260,000.

Edward G. Robinson, $171,416, plus $100,000 from Loew's, making a total of $271,416.

Samuel Goldwyn, Inc.—Gary Cooper, $287,671.

Columbia Pictures Corp.—Cary Grant, $131,250, plus $125,000 from Loew's, making a total of $256,250.

Universal Pictures, Inc.—Deanna Durbin, $203,166.

Paramount Pictures, Inc.—Fred MacMurray, $248,333.

Shortage of Labor To Curb Food Yield From Farms in 1943

Chicago, Sept. 18.—(U.P.)—The farm weekly Prairie Farmer, citing a survey of four great midwestern agricultural states, said today that an acute labor shortage would cut 1943 food production seriously and urged the government to institute a farm labor draft.

As a result of the labor shortage in Illinois, Indiana, Wisconsin and Michigan, the newspaper said, many farmers have been forced to disperse entire dairy herds, others have been forced to reduce their plans for livestock and crop production next year, and some have sold their farms.

Of 81 counties studied in the survey, three-fourths were found to be suffering from a shortage of farm hands, the Prairie Farmer said.

The newspaper cited as reasons for the shortage high wages in industry—often from five to 10 times a farm hand's wages—and the draft.

Ask Poultry Raisers For 200 Million More

Washington, Sept. 18.—(U.P.)—Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard today asked poultrymen to produce 200,000,000 additional chickens to increase civilian meat supplies.

Wickard said that the increased production would provide an extra 600,000,000 pounds of chicken for consumers this winter to supplement short supplies of other meats.
