

Yanks Established 2 to 1 Favorites Over Cards in World Series

ST. LOUIS WINS SENIOR PENNANT BY LICKING CUBS

Opening Game Slated For Wednesday; White Beats Chicago, 9-2, In Clincher.

St. Louis, Sept. 26—(U.P.)—World series prices, as announced by Betting Commissioner James J. Carroll today, were: 9 to 20 against the New York Yankees winning the series; 9 to 5 against the St. Louis Cardinals winning.

In other words, the Yankees are approximately 2 to 1 series favorites.

On the first game, the price was 7 to 10 against the Yankees winning with Ernie Bonham on the mound and 6 to 5 against the Cardinals winning with Mort Cooper pitching.

New York, Sept. 28—(U.P.)—The major leagues closed the books on one of their most spectacular seasons today as the St. Louis Cardinals and New York Yankees took time out for two days before squaring off in the world series on Wednesday.

Although the diamond campaign began this year under the ominous shadow of war, with military needs cutting into player personnel, the dramatic triumph of the Cardinals over the Dodgers in the National league and the Yankees' second consecutive victory in the American league, gave promise of the most colorful series in years.

The Cards' great stretch drive—43 victories in the final 51 games, gave them the championship at sportsman's park yesterday. The Cards won a doubleheader from the Chicago Cubs, 9-2 and 4-1, and clinched the flag via Ernie White's five-hitter in the opener. The twin win left the Cardinals' final margin over the Dodgers, who beat the Phils, 4-3, at two games, while the Cubs duplicated last year's windup by finishing in sixth place.

Cuddy Pick Cards to Whip Yankees in Autumn Classic

By Jack Cuddy
United Press Staff Correspondent
New York, Sept. 28—(U.P.)—Look out below! We're climbing right out on that high, shaky limb and picking the Cardinals to beat the Yankees in the world series.

We're selecting the St. Louis swiftness to take the series four games to three in one of the greatest classics of baseball history. We like the Red Birds because of their winning momentum, their fighting edge, their youthful speed and their luck among other things.

Lady Luck quite likely will prove an ultra-important factor in this particular series, which promises top-flight pitching and lightning infield play by both outfits. Although both clubs pack dangerous batting punch, we don't expect long-driving to turn the tide because:

1. Both teams have excellent outfielders. 2. The pitchers seem capable of preventing distance spot-hitting. Therefore, we say: Watch for the infield breaks, and watch the Cards take advantage of those breaks.

We may be looking at the clubs from a cock-eyed angle, but we prefer the Cardinals pitching staff because it apparently is better balanced. Billy Southworth has two ace right-handers, Coper and Beazley, and two good southpaws, Lanier and White, whom he can use as starters. And for relief he has Southpaw Pollet and Right-handers Krist, Gumbert and Dickson.

BEARS SLAUGHTER PACKERS, 44-28

(By United Press)
The Chicago Bears opened defense of their National Professional Football league crown Sunday with a smashing 44-28 triumph over the Packers at Green Bay, Wis., as two other clubs—the New York Giants and Brooklyn Dodgers—scored impressive opening-game victories.

The Giants shaded the Redskins, 14-7, before 34,700 spectators in Washington and the Dodgers trounced the Philadelphia Eagles, 35-14, at Buffalo, N. Y., before a slim crowd of about 5,000.

Cleveland's Rams blanked the Lions, 14-0, before 14,646 at Detroit and weather cancelled the Steelers-Chicago Cardinals game at Pittsburgh.

CAMP TO COMPLY WITH GAME LAWS

Immediate compliance and cooperation of all Camp White personnel with the recent order of the Oregon State Game Commission closing all streams and forest areas to hunting and fishing was announced today by headquarters, Camp White, Oregon.

Section 10 of camp regulations provides that all provisions of the laws of the state of Oregon and the United States pertaining to the taking of fish and game, other than the procurement of a state hunting and fishing license will be complied with on the reservation of Camp White.

against his former teammates for the Cubs but was knocked from the box by a four-run Cardinal barrage in the fifth that overcame a one-run handicap and put the Redbirds in front to stay. St. Louis added four more in the seventh to sew it up.

The Pittsburgh Pirates won two from the Reds, 8-7 (12 innings) and 7-4, to finish in fifth place while Cincinnati wound up fourth.

The Boston-New York doubleheader was cancelled, the Giants winding up in third place in Mel Ott's first year as manager. The Braves finished seventh, the spot they occupied last year.

In the American league, the Indians defeated the Tigers, 8-0, at Cleveland to clinch fourth place by two games over the Detroiters.

Yanks Lose
Tex Hughson won his twenty-second victory as the Red Sox shaded the Yankees, 7-6, in the only other game played.

The doubleheader between the third-place St. Louis Browns and sixth-place Chicago White Sox was cancelled. Washington, which finished seventh, and Philadelphia, which finished last, were unscheduled.

Yesterday's star—southpaw Ernie White, who held the Cubs to five hits as the Cards clinched the National league flag by beating Chicago, 9-2, in the first game of a doubleheader.

REDBIRD MANAGER CONFIDENT CLUB WILL BEAT YANKS

St. Louis, Sept. 28—(U.P.)—The happiest man in town today was genial Billy Southworth, manager of the St. Louis Cardinals—champions of the National league for the first time in eight years.

"I know we have a tough battle on our hands against those Yankees," Southworth said, "but I think we can beat them, maybe not four in a row, but we'll win. 'How can I help but be confident with a bunch of boys on my club like these fellows. We had a long uphill fight, but to tell you the truth, I never had the slightest doubt about our ultimate victory—and that's the way I feel about the series.'"

Philadelphia, Sept. 28—(U.P.)—"We did our best, but the best team won."

With that brief comment, Manager Leo Durocher and his runner-up Brooklyn Dodgers split up, some of the players heading home and some entraining for St. Louis to watch the victorious St. Louis Cardinals meet the New York Yankees in the World Series starting Wednesday.

The Dodgers were quiet and a little despondent after beating the Philadelphia Phils, 4-3, for their eighth straight victory yesterday.

"It's pretty tough to lose the pennant," said Team Captain Dolph Camilli, "particularly after winning 104 games."

Rainiers Shunt Sacs From Coast Playoffs; Angels Near Victory

(By United Press)
The Sacramento Senators, winners of the regular season Pacific Coast league pennant, were out of the Shaughnessy playoffs today after a 9-2 beating by the Seattle Rainiers.

Four straight victories after losing the opening game of the playoffs gave the Rainiers the right to meet the winner of the Los Angeles-San Diego series, still undecided.

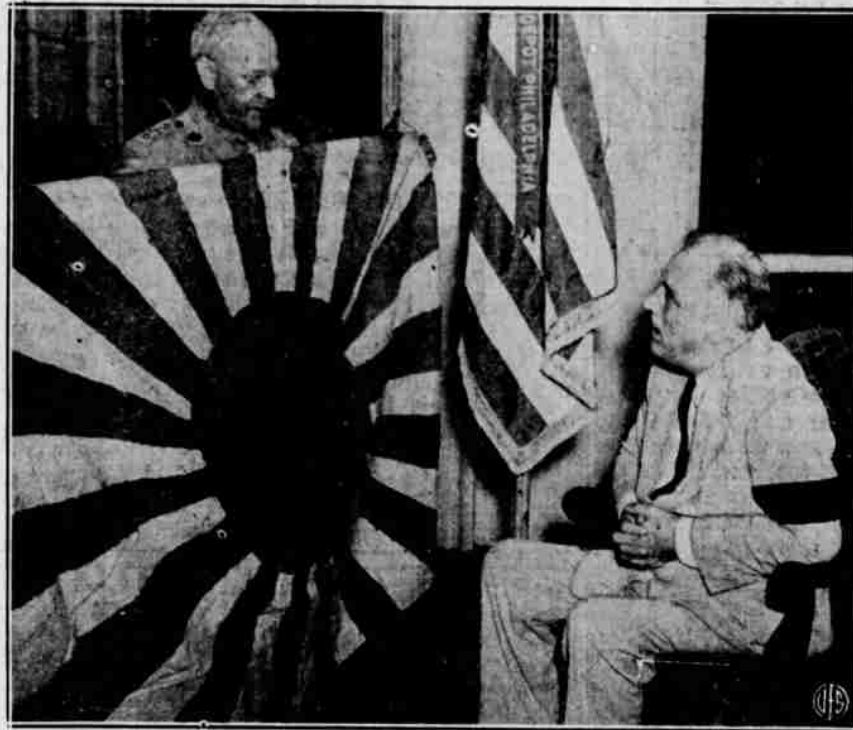

The Rainiers won Sunday's game in the fifth inning when Blix Donnelly, starting pitcher for the Senators, blew up and let five runs across on three walks, four hits and an error. Bill Matheson, Seattle outfielder, led his club's hitters with two doubles and two singles.

The Los Angeles Angels and San Diego Padres split their doubleheader, the Angels taking the first game, 2-1, and the Padres the second, 7-4.

With the Angels one game short of series victory, a doubleheader is scheduled for today, the second game to be played only if the Angels lose the first.

Pfeifer was taken to Sacred Heart hospital by Perli's ambulance and was X-rayed yesterday afternoon for minor back injuries. He was to be removed to the army infirmary at Camp White.

Editorial Comment

A discussion arose this week as to the treatment of soldiers in various cities, with Medford panned rather severely by a soldier who expressed a very definite preference for Ashland and Grants Pass.

The main point to remember in this discussion, however, is that Ashland is treating the service men excellently, and the service men, both officers and non-commissioned men, appreciate this.

Any city and any group of citizenry that gives them less than the best of treatment, cordially and fairness deserves criticism, and we sincerely hope that Ashland will not deserve such criticism during the stay.

V. F. WILL HELP AIR CORPS DRIVE

J. C. Buckmaster, Sr., commander of the local Veterans of Foreign Wars post, has received a letter from the Adjutant General's office in Washington, D. C., requesting the veterans to conduct a drive for enlistments in the army air corps of men between the ages of 18 and 50 as technicians and mechanics for maintenance of the army's vast air fleet.

Commander Buckmaster stated that although the V.F.W. has presented the air force with twenty planes and are now sponsoring an air cadet drive, the new drive will supersede all other activities of the organization.

Information may be obtained by calling at 1002 West 11th street or phone 5159.

CHANGE HOURS IN CROWDED SCHOOL

Washington school opened its second week of classes today on a revised schedule in keeping with a wartime program, classes beginning at 8:30 a. m. rather than 8:50 a. m. E. H. Hedrick, city school superintendent, stated that the change was due to increased enrollment.

The third grade of the school has been added to the department with Mrs. Vern Shangle added as a new teacher. Miss Lyle Gregory also will teach in the department as the former third grade teacher.

Three classes, 3A, 3B and 4B will begin classes at 9 a. m. hereafter and be released at 11:35 a. m. and in the afternoon at 3:15 p. m., Mr. Hedrick stated.

The British Empire covers about one-fourth of the world's habitable land surface.

in other words

by JOHN CLINTON

I've never been over-impressed with magic. Magic usually turns out to be just something someone put over on you when you weren't looking. And as a boy I never could work those magic sets, anyway.

But my skepticism took an awful beating last weekend. I was all set to wax the Hispano-Plymouth when Chuck, my favorite Minute Man, introduced me to a box of what I swear is magic powder. It's called Lustr-Eze, and it's the damndest stuff you ever saw.

Just before that erstwhile awful moment when you screw your courage up to the point of waxing the old buggy you sprinkle Lustr-Eze over the waxed surface. And Presto! Instead of the back-breaking, soul-shrinking job rubbing down wax used to be, Lustr-Eze makes it easy as pie.

Look, stop at your Union Oil station and get a can of Union Auto Wax from the Minute Man. It's worth getting, anyway, but he'll also give you a bag of Lustr-Eze for free! Then go home and get your car ready to be waxed.

Next apply the Union Auto Wax. It actually makes no difference how you apply it, because Lustr-Eze will stop the wax from "setting" or smearing before you're finished. Then when the wax is on—sprinkle on Lustr-Eze and wipe... lightly! And believe it or not, your car will shine like a pre-dimond five-and-dime store. And you—well you'll be amazed! But—only Union Oil Minute Man stations have Lustr-Eze!
