RHEUMATISM
Rheumatism has caused much intense suffering. Although this condition has attracted medical attention for years, a great number still suffer today the intense pain and misery resulting from this disease. Many causes for rheumatism have been given. Experience has shown that it is one of the more important of diseases. There are many types of this disease, and its complications and results are far reaching. Probably the latest theory as to its cause is that it is an allergic manifestation to a group of related organisms. But even with this theory it is conceded that there is a related background. But regardless of theory there is improper cellular elimination. Overcome this and you have health. There is no better way of improving the circulation and producing normal nerve function than by Natural treatment.

Chinese War Picture at Rialto

A picture as thrilling as war itself brings Generalissimo and Mme. Chiang Kai-Shek to the Rialto theatre tomorrow for a three-day run in "The Battle of China," full-color celluloid record of the struggle this mighty nation is putting up against Jap aggression. "The Battle of China" was filmed under fire and at the risk of death by Rex Scott, noted newsreel cameraman and soldier of fortune. The picture is classed as "sensational" because every one of its eight million thrills are true.

Telephone System Is Help To Workmen On Huge Military Plane

Buffalo, N. Y. (UP)—Employees working on the final assembly of the new Curtiss-Commando, largest twin-engine military cargo plane in the world, have a two-way telephone system to aid them in their work.
The plan was devised when it was found that due to the Commando's tremendous size and the din of near-by shop and flight test sounds at the Curtiss-Wright Corp. plant, shouted orders from one section of the plane to another were unintelligible.
The phone system proved the answer to the handicap, enabling crews to relay messages back and forth between cockpit and landing gear.
The electrical impulses for the telephone lines are generated by three small dry cell batteries in a small metal box that can be carried in a jacket pocket.
A permanent telephone plug-in jack built into the Commando's fuselage enables refueling service men to connect a portable phone for conversation with the plane's cabin.
