

MONDAY EVENING AT-10, DEADLINE FOR BARGAIN DAYS

Monday at 10 p. m. will be the deadline for subscribing to the Mail Tribune under the money-saving "Bargain Day" rates, and subscribers are urged to take advantage of the offer as soon as possible before that time in order to ease the usual last-minute rush.

For the benefit of persons who work and are unable to transact business during the daytime, the Mail Tribune office will be open until 9 o'clock Saturday night to receive subscriptions. It was emphasized that no "Bargain Day" subscriptions would be accepted after 10 p. m. Monday. Gerald T. Latham, circulation manager, said the response to this year's "Bargain Days" offer was even better than last year, which set an all-time high. "Many persons are subscribing by the year instead of by the month when they realize that under the 'Bargain Days' offer the paper is delivered for two months free."

He explained that the "Bargain Days" rate by carrier was $7.50 a year, while the regular monthly rate by carrier was 75 cents. The "Bargain Days" rate per year by mail in Jackson, Josephine and Siskiyou counties is $5, while to all other points it is $7.50.

Although carriers are not required to call on subscribers for their renewals, some of the older and more experienced carriers are working their routes, Latham said. He warned that subscription money must be brought to the office or mailed by the Monday night deadline.

ANOTHER APPEAL FOR SPARE TIME ORCHARD HANDS

Another appeal was made today for employed people of the valley to work in the fruit on their days off, or week-ends, and during other spare time. Many orchards are now beginning to harvest Bosc pears and pickers are needed.

Leonard Mayfield of the farm labor office at the Chamber of Commerce points out that good wages are being paid and transportation is furnished when needed. He urges people with cars to make up a crew among their families and friends and help finish harvesting the pear crop.

Growers may be contacted directly or information obtained at the U. S. Employment Service in the Holland Hotel building or at the labor office in the Chamber of Commerce building.

Cole Brothers Circus Arrives

Pretty girls, handsome horses and ponderous elephants are the mainstay of any circus and Cole Brothers Circus showing here today is no exception to the rule. Pictured here is Grace Hanneford, fourth generation of the famous Hanneford family, troupe of bare-back riders which features Poodles Hanneford, greatest of all riding comedians. The circus pitched its acres of tents on South Riverside avenue circus grounds where performances will be given at 3 p. m. and 8 p. m.

More than a thousand people from all parts of the world arrived in Medford early this morning, for this is circus day. They include the staff of 350 circus stars and performers, 250 horses and ponies, 250 wild animals, three huge herds of performing elephants and the working force of 850 people of the Cole Brothers Circus, at the South Riverside circus grounds, for two performances today at 3 p. m. and 8 p. m.

Crammed and jammed with wonders and delights for youngsters of all ages, a mile long train of double length steel railroad cars rolled into the city over the Southern Pacific railroad to the siding near the depot where the task of unloading the hundreds of animals and the thousands of tons of equipment was accomplished in a few short hours. The customary large and unofficial committee of youngsters and oldsters was on hand bright and early to greet the arrival of the big show, for there was much of interest to see.

Three great herds of elephants and 250 horses and ponies are here to attract the attention of the crowds, as will the menagerie, everything from water buffaloes from China to the tiny Pongurs from Asia. The canvas city consists of 26 tents of varying sizes, including the big top, which seats nearly 8,500 people.

Other interesting sights for early visitors at the grounds were the dining tents where some 2,500 square meals are served each day, the new grand horse show top wherein nearly 100 three and five gaited horses are housed, and the huge menagerie tent with its vast assortment of wild animals.

Everywhere on the grounds was in evidence the system among the 500 workers that makes the huge show build, tear down and move in a single day to a distant city—the system that makes it possible for the giant show, one of the two largest in the world, to present each day the same performance for the next five months in America's principal cities.

A super-spectacle "The Conquest of Coronado," serves as a prelude to the circus performance proper. It depicts the history of pirates and stolen treasure ages and ages ago in Old Mexico. Following come scores of spangleland features, all new this season, including the Hanneford troupe of bare-back riding marvels with Poodles Hanneford, famous riding comedian; Marilyn Rich, solo trapeze artist who

POSTOFFICE HAS SPECIAL CACHET FOR BOND SALES

Postmaster Frank DeSouza has received word of a special army post office postmark and cachet being used in honor of the present war bond drive. The notice states:

"Postmasters are advised that the War department has arranged to operate an army post office field unit at the 'Back the Attack' exhibition to be held in Washington, D. C., from September 8 to 26, inclusive, with provision for the post-marking of philatelic covers, on which an appropriately designed cachet will also be applied if sufficient space is allowed on the envelope.

"Collectors desiring covers dispatched through the army post office may send self-addressed and stamped envelopes to the following address: 'Postal Officer in Charge, Army Post Office, c/o Back the Attack, Washington 25, D. C.' Covers will not be accepted unless postage at the first-class rate is affixed, and not more than 10 covers will be accepted from each collector.

"The special postmark will include within the circle the wording: 'Army Postal Service, Washington, D. C.' and date, and in the bars will appear: 'Back the Attack, Sept. 8-26, 1943.'

performs high in the dome of the huge tent working without the use of safety devices or nets; Jean Allen, daring rider of rearing and high-jumping horses; Ruth Nelson, famous fly elephant trainer; the Flying Thrillers, breath taking aerial stars featuring Eileen Harold, who does a two-and-one-half somersault to a catch in mid-air and many many more space forbidding stunts.

Riding acts and acrobatic displays vie with animals, the horses and novelty numbers in the oval arena. There will be a maze of beautiful girls in the featured aerial ballet.

In all there are more than 200 acts, displays and pageants in store for the Medford fans today at the South Riverside avenue circus grounds. Shows will be at 3 p. m. and 8 p. m.

Following the performance at night, the big show will leave for Redding, where it will exhibit tomorrow.

CHINESE LEADER SEES NAZIS END

Chungking, Sept. 10—(U.P.)—Gen. Pao Kai, Chinese military spokesman, predicted today that Germany would surrender within six months and added that Japan would collapse shortly thereafter.

There is "every possibility" Soviet Russia will join in the war against Japan after Hitler quits, he said.
