

Come to Church

Churches of Community In Heartfelt Welcome To All

In this final week of the present "Come to Church" series, pastors and members of churches in this community join in a heartfelt and cordial invitation that you join them in worship.

The romance of religion is the most profound of all the ages, and as important to modern culture and learning as any language of science. You can learn about your religion in the church of your faith. And you can become a better citizen, prouder of yourself, through this branch of knowledge than through many others. You are missing great joy and comfort if you don't go to church regularly.

Every man to his own belief... and whatever that belief, let him adhere to it with reason, and with reverence. For salvation comes not to the fanatic any more than to the disbeliever... but to only the honest follower of His word. When we go to church we commune with Him, elevating our minds, our souls... our every purpose in life.

In that all of the several churches are making it communion Sunday, October 3 is universally recognized this year as Mobilization day of all communicants of the several churches and their friends.
The Medford Ministerial association, under leadership of its president, Doctor Louis Kirby, is appealing to the members of the various churches of the city and its environs to make Sunday an outstanding day in their various communions by their patronage. The ministers throughout the nation are making this Sunday the starting point for fall activity, and are anxious that October 3 will be the day when special impetus shall be given the various churches to be carried forward with sustained attendance throughout the coming months.

High School News

By Viladeen Halgren and Joan Mole
Initiation of sophomores and new students at Senior high was held Wednesday and Thursday with the two leagues and the Order of M in charge. Boys' initiation was supervised by Leigh Eden, president of Boys' league, and girls' initiation was directed by Neysa Wall, chairman. Dale Niedermeyer, president of the Order of M, was in charge of Kangaroo court. Initiation of the girls was concluded Thursday afternoon when the girls were formally welcomed into Girls' league by Virginia Hammond, president of the league, and her officers. Refreshments were served later.

A number of girls are gaining valuable experience by helping in the office this year. They include Margery Feller, Ruth Andrews, Jo Anne Humphrey, Beverly Mee, Marion Tilley, June Wilder, Lillybelle Casebolt, Virginia Hammond and Luella Arnold. These girls receive one credit a year for their assistance to the office staff. Many girls majoring in the commercial course take "office practice" as preparation for their future work. They are given typing, dictation, mimeographing, filing and other work to gain wider experiences. Also, according to Miss Jo Kirtley, vice-principal, these girls also receive recommendations for jobs, depending on their ability and efficiency.

A Red Cross assembly was held in the auditorium Monday at which time Miss Vera Humphrey, head of the Red Cross chapter in Jackson county, spoke to the students. She gave a report of what the Red Cross in this community has been doing and urged the students to participate in the activities of this group. Later Miss Humphrey introduced Frank Gray, field director at Camp White, who pointed out the need the boys overseas have for the everyday things we use here, in fact, things that the students can make and send to them.

A motion picture was shown which portrayed the part other communities were playing in the Red Cross work for the soldiers abroad.
One of the special courses offering actual experiences at Medford high is the library science course supervised by Miss Jac Kirtley. Students who enroll in this course receive training in both meeting the public and in library technique.

Girls who successfully complete this course are given special recommendations for library work when they finish high school. Those enrolled this year are Fannie Sullivan, Vivian Lindquist, Margaret Moulton, Sybil Hagen, Nancy Rinabarger, Jean McDougall, Jo Ann Adler, Eloise Peyton, Edith Ham, Hazel Kime and Marion Tilley.

"Flying Flea" Used By British Forces

London, Oct. 1.—(U.P.)—Details of the performance of Britain's secret "Flying Flea" were made public by the air ministry today for the first time, although the plane has been in action on all fronts since the war began. It is used for artillery spotting and observation.

The tiny plane has a maximum speed of 125 miles an hour and can take off from roads, fields or wherever there is a 50-yard runway. It is unarmed and depends entirely on maneuverability to escape enemy fighters.
