

"Assignment in Brittany," Starting at Craterian Today, Features New Star

AUMONT DELIGHTS CRITICS IN FAST MOVING WAR FILM

Susan Peters is Co-Star—Latest "March of Time" Also on Bill.

Introducing the new male star of filmdom, Pierre Aumont and co-starring pretty Susan Peters, "Assignment in Brittany"—taken from one of the best selling novels of the year—opens a three-day engagement at the Craterian today.

The story of a British intelligence officer who risks his life to find a hidden Nazi submarine base off the coast of Brittany, "Assignment in Brittany" presents a new kind of intrigue with thrills galore, as well as a gripping, interesting plot.

A talented supporting cast adds to the interest of the new picture, with Richard Whorf and the newcomer Signe Hasso heading the list. Aumont, however, is the main interest particularly since his real-life background parallels closely the tense action and stirring intrigue that "Assignment in Brittany" brings to the screen.

Popular Stars Top Cast Rialto's Hit

Heading the Rialto's double feature program starting today is "Get Going." Fast, laugh-filled fun picture, starring Robert Paige and Grace McDonald with Vera Vague of film and radio fame lending a good share of the laughs.

Strictly comedy throughout, "Get Going" deals with the romantic mix-ups of overcrowded present-day Washington and comically presents a fictitious spy chase as the basis for its story.

Sharing the other half of the double bill is "A Gentle Gangster" starring Barton McLane and Rosella Towne in an exciting, thrilling story of reformed gamblers and racketeers whose children become associated with the crime world. Cy Kendall and Jack La Rue have prominent supporting roles as leaders of the underworld, while McLane playing the part of a reformed gangster does a good job of policing and breaks up the ring that was tempting his children.

Rosella Towne furnishes the feminine interest who helps McLane's roundup of the bad men.

Bob Hope, Dorothy Lamour Coming to Craterian

Bob Hope and Dorothy Lamour have the leading roles in the hilarious "They Got Me Covered," starting Sunday at the Craterian for a three-day engagement.

BOB OLSON: GRID STAR OF 'TORNADO' WINS HIGH HONOR

Copies of two general orders announcing the awards of the Distinguished Flying Cross and the Air Medal to 2nd Lt. Robert D. Olson, former Medford high and Oregon State college football star who was killed in North Africa last January, have been received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry V. Olson of 717 West 14th street.

Mailed by the war department to Lt. Olson's wife, who resides in Portland, she sent them on to his parents to keep and the awards are expected to be received shortly.

The order of the Distinguished Flying Cross, by command of Maj. Gen. Jimmy Doolittle, reads as follows:

"In North Africa on December 4, 1942, during a high altitude bombing mission, Lt. Olson, co-pilot on a B-17, encountered intense and accurate flak while flying over and while leaving the target. Enemy aircraft was also encountered. During the course of action, several of the guns on the bomber became inoperative and three of the motors were disabled.

"Despite all these difficulties, Lt. Olson aided in the accomplishment of the mission, and by his flying skill and judgment was able to assist in the return and landing of the airplane at a friendly airport. Although the plane was landed in a very small field, the injured members of the crew suffered no ill effects from the landing.

"Lt. Olson found himself in a very precarious position but he met the situation with the greatest amount of courage and exerted all the skill and ability that he had at his command. His actions were with the coolness of a veteran, and this resourcefulness, skill and ability displayed by Lt. Olson undoubtedly helped save the lives of his crew as well as saving his plane from complete destruction.

"This extraordinary achievement while participating in aerial flight reflects great credit upon himself and the military service of the United States."

By command of Lieut. Gen. Carl Spaatz, the order for the award of the Air Medal, posthumously, read as follows:

"The Air Medal is posthumously awarded to the following named personnel in the name of the commanding general, North African theater of operations, for participating in five sorties against the enemy: Robert D. Olson, second lieutenant, air corps, United States army."

Lt. Olson, who was graduated from Oregon State college in 1942 and captained the football team in his senior year, is buried in an American cemetery outside Oran, his mother said. He was a Phoenix high school graduate and played one year of football with Medford high.

EGG AND POULTRY HOUSE WILL OPEN

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Giovannetti of San Francisco were in Medford this past week to make preliminary arrangements for the opening of the Medford Poultry and Egg warehouse, which Mr. Giovannetti owns. He stated that the warehouse would open about October 20 to receive turkeys and other poultry and that a nephew, B. E. Giovannetti, would be in charge of the plant.

Mr. Giovannetti said that an effort was being made to secure machinery for picking the fowls and that if priorities could be secured the machinery would be installed the latter part of this month. While here Mr. and Mrs. Giovannetti were registered at the Medford hotel and also were guests of Mr. and

Mrs. J. P. Naumes, 1001 South Oakdale Ave.

RENT CONTROL TO HIGH COURT TEST

Washington, Oct. 2—(U.P.)—The supreme court, with usual fanfare, opens its 153rd year at noon Monday, facing the prospect of having to rule on such vital home front war measures as the administration's sweeping rent control program.

The test of the administration's rent control set-up under the 1942 price control act probably is the most important matter pending before the tribunal. Constitutionality of the program is challenged in a suit filed by a San Francisco property owners' association which contends that rents were "frozen" at their most disadvantageous economic levels.

PRESBYTERIANS TO INSTALL NURSERY

Extensive changes are being made in the Sunday school building of the Presbyterian church according to the pastor, the Rev. Harry W. Hansen. The rooms are being re-arranged and redecorated and complete class room units are being installed in several departments.

Of special interest to the congregation is the fact that a nursery room is being prepared. The minister states that it is being decorated in the most modern manner and that modern nursery equipment will be installed. He states that a nursery is to be conducted from 9:45 until 11 a. m. each Sunday morning for children between the ages of two and four years and that during church services the nursery will care for children of all ages.

Mrs. Frederick Snook, graduate nurse, will be in charge of the nursery and all parents of the congregation are invited to leave their children in Mrs. Snook's care. While the room is not quite complete, Mrs. Snook will be in attendance this morning.

There is no record of horses in Egypt or Arabia prior to 1580 B. C.
