1 KILLED, 14 INJURED IN SMASHUP

News Behind The News by Paul Mallon

Washington, Oct. 7.—The congressional reception for the treasury tax program was expected to be discouraging—but not as discouraging as it turned out to be.

Economic Stabilizer Vinson was scheduled to appear next day in support of Treasury Secretary Morgenthau. When he did not, excuses were made that he was not fully prepared. What he meant was that he was not prepared to meet the sour rejection Morgenthau had encountered. The administration obviously needed more time to regain its countenance.

THE congressional committee attitude is not hard to explain. The Morgenthau plan seemed to lack a convincing ring of either sense or security. Indeed, it appeared to have only a feeble political justification. Mr. Morgenthau condemned himself with his own argument. The proposition he offered was simply this:

The people have $25,000,000,000 of excess spending money. This causes a dangerous threat of inflation. We need to tax it into the treasury. Then almost in the next breath, he said: "Four-fifths of this dangerous excess is in the hands of people

TRUCK CARRYING MEXICAN WORKERS IS SIDESWIPE

37 Men on Machine in Smashup on E. Main St.; Men Enroute to Orchard.

One Mexican National was dead and 14 others were in Sacred Heart hospital today with injuries they suffered when two trucks sideswiped each other in the 1600 block on East Main street about 7 a. m.

Killed in the mishap was Rosendo Garcia Arriola, 49, whose home was in Mexico City. According to Deputy Coroner Carlos W. Morris, he sustained badly crushed ribs on the right side at the spine and probable punctured right lung and liver. He apparently was killed instantly.

En Route to Orchard
State and city police, who investigated the accident, said Arriola was riding in a truck loaded with 37 Mexican Nationals en route from the farm labor supply center at Camp Prescott to their pear harvesting job in a local orchard.

The truck, a ton and a half model A Ford, was operated by George E. Wilson of Eagle Point and was owned by Southern Oregon Sales, for whom the Mexicans were working, police said.

Approximately 400 feet from the top of the hill on East Main street the heavily-loaded truck and a 1936 two-ton Dodge truck driven by Theodore V. Downing of Camp-U-Rest, traveling toward Camp Prescott to pick up other harvesters for Bear Creek Orchards, sideswiped each other, police reported.

Truck Demolished
Following the impact the Ford traveled 246 feet before it stopped, while the Dodge went 96 feet 11 inches before it came to a rest on the left side of the street. The Dodge truck, empty except for the driver, was totally demolished, with its front wheels and axle knocked off.

Headlights Blamed
State police quoted both drivers as saying they were not traveling at an excessive rate of speed, and Downing as declaring that the headlights of Wilson's truck blinded him. Police were questioning Wilson this afternoon in an effort to determine whether either or both drivers were to blame for the accident. There will be no inquest, the coroner's office said.

165 DEER PLACED IN STORAGE HERE; NINETY IN G. PASS

Local hunters returning from trips into Oregon forests have brought back at least 165 deer, placing them in cold storage plants in Medford, since opening of the season. Local storage plant operators reported today that many who have never before been regular hunters are apparently feeling the effects of the nation-wide meat shortage, and have donned red hats and shouldered guns to attempt to alleviate scarcities on the family table this winter.

The Medford Ice and Storage company reports 135 deer and four antelope brought in for storage up to this morning. Biggest single day this season was Oct. 4, when 45 deer, two antelope, and one bear were received. The largest deer received weighed 182 pounds, and was killed by W. L. Seward of Portland. A rather large percentage, approximately 25 to 30 per cent, of the deer are does, and most of them were brought in from the eastern Oregon area, near Lakeview.

The A-One Breeding company has received a total of 30 deer, besides five taken earlier from California sections. The biggest single day was last Monday, Oct. 4, when 26 arrived. Rollie Holmes brought in the biggest, weighing 185 pounds. Approximately one-third of the deer are does.

The Grants Pass cold storage plant reports that 90 deer have been received, mostly mule deer from the area east of the Cascades. Approximately one-third of the number are does.

COWGILL AWARDED INCREASE OF $695 IN CONDEMNATION

Federal Court Jury Ups Government Offer on Land in Brief Deliberation.

Deliberating less than 45 minutes, a federal court jury late yesterday afternoon awarded Brig. Gen. Ralph P. Cowgill, Portland, head of the Oregon State Guard, $1,962 for two tracts of land he owned in the Camp White area.

Represented by Attorney George A. Coddling, Gen. Cowgill had asked for $3,500 for the two tracts, $1,000 for one of 13 acres along the Rogue River and $2,500 for 180 acres of pasture land. The government had offered $1,267 for the tracts, the jury giving Gen. Cowgill an increase of $695 over the government deposit. William Dickson, special attorney for the department of justice, represented the government.

Carmean Case Heard
Expected to be completed late this afternoon was the condemnation suit of the government versus M. L. Carmean, who is seeking $17,170 for 21.7 acres against the government offer of $1,200. Attorney George M. Roberts, is representing Carmean.

Drawn this morning was a jury to hear the George Gilman land condemnation case, which will be tried upon completion of the Carmean case. Gilman, through Attorney Roberts, is asking $2,400 damage to his land because of a strip the government took prior to the construction of Camp White. The government offer was $100.

The jury, which viewed the premises this morning, is as follows:

Mrs. Josephine Sleight, Victor C. Sether, H. B. Kellom, Mrs. Agnes Evanson, Mrs. Ruth Boyd, Mrs. Katherine McAllister, Mrs. Alice Helman and Wilbur L. Gardner, all of Medford; Ray A. Minkler and William Platt, Ashland; Charles Cook of Grants Pass and Andrew Hearn of Phoenix.

FOURTH HUNTER IS KILLED BY FRIEND

Gold Beach, Ore., Oct. 7.—(U.P.)—Oregon today recorded its fourth deer hunting fatality this season with the accidental shooting of Roland Miller, 21, by a life-long friend.

Miller was wounded in the mountains near Gold Beach when John Nowlin, 16, fired as a deer jumped through the brush. Twenty hours elapsed before Miller could reach a Gold Beach hospital, where he died.

War Bulletins

London, Oct. 7.—(U.P.)—The Russian front blazed up from end to end today when the Red army swarmed across the Dnieper river at a number of places, liquidated the Axis operational area in the Caucasus bridgehead, and shredded the German lines in new onslaughts below Leningrad.

On the middle reaches of the Dnieper, a Moscow communique revealed, the Russians forced the mighty water barrier in at least three places—north of Kiev, south of the town of Pereyaslavl, and southeast of Kremenchug.

Chungking, Oct. 7.—(U.P.)—Halting a big-scale Japanese offensive in eastern China, counter-attacking Chinese forces have thrown enemy troops into "disorderly retreat" south of Kwangteh, Chekiang province, front line dispatches said today.

WAKE ISLAND RAID NOTICE TO TOKYO MORE WILL COME

By United Press
The third American air-sea attack on Japan's island outposts in five weeks without reported enemy retaliation, served notice in Tokyo today that the United States navy is preparing to roll the enemy forces back across the Pacific.

The latest attack was on conquered Wake Island. An announcement from Admiral Chester W. Nimitz at Pearl Harbor gave no details but the attack by carrier-based planes presumably was similar to those against the Gilberts Sept. 18-19 and Marcus Island Sept. 1.

Assaults Hinted
A Pearl Harbor dispatch said the operations by an American task force moving on a destructive path along the wide reaches of the Pacific was added evidence that naval assaults on a big scale were about to start.

Elsewhere in the Pacific Allied forces scored new successes. Australian troops moved down the Ramu valley in New Guinea to within 50 miles of the Japanese base at Madang while Flying Fortresses and Liberators rained bombs and machinegun shells on enemy roads and bases on the northeast coast.

Rabaul Hop Looms
Gen. Douglas MacArthur's spokesmen announced that continual air attacks had nullified Japanese aerial strength on vital New Britain island north of New Guinea. The statement appeared to foreshadow an over-water hop from New Guinea in an attack aimed ultimately at the big enemy base at Rabaul, New Britain.

Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten arrived in New Delhi for conferences preliminary to setting up his new southeast Asia command. He planned to continue on to Chungking later.

Stassen Is First Formal Candidate
Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 7.—(U.P.)—Former Governor Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota today became the nation's first formal candidate for the Republican nomination for president when his name was entered in the Nebraska Republican preferential primary.

The intent to file was made by John B. Quinn, Nebraska assistant secretary of state, who resigned simultaneously to direct Stassen's campaign in Nebraska.

YANKEES WIN 6-2 BY 5-RUN DRIVE IN EIGHTH FRAME

Record Crowd Sees New Yorkers Take Advantage of Two Red Bird Errors.

Yankee Stadium, New York, Oct. 7.—(U.P.)—Smashing a crumbling Cardinal defense, the New York Yankees poured five runs across the plate in a big eighth inning today to beat St. Louis, 6 to 2, before a record world series crowd of 69,990 fans.

The Yankees batted around their entire lineup as they took advantage of two Red Bird errors and five base hits to blast the series debut of Rookie Southpaw Alpha Brazil and the Cards back to St. Louis for conclusion of the classic trailing by a count of two games to one.

Good Until Eighth
Showing good control, a fast slinker and tantalizing slow curve, the straw-thatched rookie had given the Bronx Bombers only three hits and one unearned run going into that big eighth inning.

He had weathered two Cardinal errors previously, chewing gum placidly as he mowed the Yankees down, and it appeared that eight years in the minors would pay off after only two and one-half months in the majors.

Clark In Naples

Naples, Oct. 6.—(U.P.)—A German time bomb exploded 20 minutes after Lieut. Gen. Mark W. Clark, commander of the allied Fifth army, rode past the tourist hotel section of the Naples waterfront today. No body was injured.

SENATORS GIVEN LOW DOWN UPON WAR'S PROGRESS

Washington, Oct. 7.—(U.P.)—Sen. Alexander P. Wiley, R., Wis., led a group of colleagues in a movement today to make public war reports made to the senate in secret session by five members recently returned from a 40,000-mile tour of world battle theaters.

Wiley said during a luncheon recess of the secret session that Sen. Richard B. Russell, D., Ga., chairman of the globe-circling group, had given the senate information which "the state department should have been giving us all along."

"I think the whole country should hear it and I am going to propose before this day's over that the report be made public," he said.

Russell was the only one of the five travelers to speak before the recess.

"It's tremendous," Wiley reported. "That boy (Russell) is making a marvelous presentation. We now are getting what the state department should have been giving us all along. It's perfectly ridiculous that the senate had to send its own members out trooping around the world to get this kind of information."

In an article apparently timed to appear on the eve of the forthcoming British-American-Soviet conference of foreign ministers, the magazine said the New York Herald-Tribune and the newspaper PM were among those "trying to offset the poison generated by the anti-Soviet campaign."

POSTOFFICE SITE OF HEAVY BLAST IN CITY'S CENTER

By Reynolds Packard
United Press Correspondent
Naples, Oct. 7.—(U.P.)—An exploding German time-bomb shattered the Naples postoffice in the heart of the commercial section today, killing perhaps several hundred civilians in a new disaster to the war-torn city.

The scene of the tremendous explosion which rocked and wrecked nearby buildings was the most horrible spectacle I have seen in this war.

The postoffice building, one of the few left intact by the Germans, was being reopened to the public when the bomb went off.

One of Series
The bomb was one of a series planted by the departing Nazis, many of which already have been discovered. One exploded yesterday in a hotel just after Lieut. Gen. Mark W. Clark rode by.

I helped American military police and Italian firemen and carabinieri remove the victims from the postoffice. The body of one woman was headless yet clutching the charred body of a baby to her breast.

5TH ARMY DRIVES ON ANCIENT ROAD

Allied Headquarters, Algiers, Oct. 7.—(U.P.)—The Allied Fifth army neared Capua, 17 miles north of Naples, on Hannibal's ancient road to Rome today as the Eighth army, reinforced with tanks and aided by a naval bombardment, smashed the heaviest German counter-attack yet launched on the Adriatic coast.

American Flying Fortresses carried the war to the Venice area of northern Italy for the first time yesterday, flying 1,200 miles round trip from North African bases to pound railway targets at Mestre, 10 miles to the west, an important relay point for German military supplies moving between Italy, Yugoslavia, Hungary and Austria.

(Reliable reports reaching Madrid from France said that the Allies were believed to have landed 20 divisions—possibly 300,000 men—in Italy while many more remained in Sicily and Africa in reserve. Three German divisions were believed holding heights in the Volturno river sector, and two others were fighting rear guard actions in the center and along the east coast.)

U. S. Newspapers Helping Hitler Is Charge Of Russian Magazine

Moscow, Oct. 7.—(U.P.)—The Trade Union magazine, war and the working class, charged today that a large section of the American Press was carrying on an anti-Soviet campaign "which fully corresponds to the interests of Adolf Hitler's agents."

It specifically named the Hearst, Scripps-Howard, and Patterson-McCormick newspapers.
