

PLAYBOY PRINCE LEADS CHUTISTS

Allied Headquarters, Algiers, Oct. 7.—(U.P.)—Lieut. Col. Serge Obolensky — former Russian Prince, Czarist guard, and New York society figure—led four American officers and men in a parachute jump over Sardinia September 13 to establish allied contact with Italian troops fighting the Germans, it was revealed today.

Obolensky carried out the job—so well, in fact, that when Brig. Gen. Theodore Roosevelt followed him by P-T boat to the island several days later, the ex-prince was waiting to meet him.

It was Obolensky's first combat parachute jump and he came down in an area evacuated by the Germans just the day before.

The exploit was revealed upon Roosevelt's return to Algiers today from Sardinia and Corsica.
