

FARMERS FILLING 1944 PANTRY WITH RECORD SUPPLIES

Civilians Assured Diet Next Year About Equal to 1943 —Military May Cut Supply

Washington, Oct. 18.—(UP)—Farmers are filling the 1944 larder with record supplies of food in what the war food administration said today was one of the most remarkable production achievements of the war.

Accurate food production reports and estimates for 1943 now are available and they assure civilians a diet in 1944 about equal to this year and better than in any year except 1941 and 1942, the WFA said.

Outlook Summed Up The agriculture department and the WFA, summing up the 1944 civilian food outlook in a report on the national food situation, predicted:

"An abundant supply of cereals; as many chickens, eggs, fresh fruits and vegetables, potatoes, beans and peas as this year; food fats and oils to maintain present ration allowances; fewer canned fruits and vegetables in the first half of 1944 but more in the second; less red meats and dairy products."

The larder is being filled with 24,000,000,000 pounds of meat, 120,000,000,000 pounds of milk, 5,000,000,000 dozen eggs, 4,000,000,000 pounds of poultry meat, 3,000,000,000 bushels of corn, 835,000,000 bushels of wheat, more potatoes, rice, beans, peas and peanuts than ever before.

Many Difficulties That achievement, WFA officials pointed out, was made despite labor shortages, fewer new machines, a cold spring and floods, delayed plantings, and large areas hard-hit by a late-summer drought.

But to the favorable outlook, WFA added this note of caution: "Civilians are not going to get all the food they would like to buy. Purchasing power in excess of supplies will be at least as high as this year. Military requirements may cut more sharply into supplies of some foods."

Farmers are harvesting the second largest food and feed crops on record. Meat, milk and other livestock products will total 10 per cent above the phenomenal record of 1942. Total food production—crops and livestock—will be five per cent above last year and 42 per cent above the 1935-1939 average.

Much Going Abroad This year the United States will send abroad, to the military, lend-lease and relief, one-quarter of total food supplies, double 1942. Next year those shipments will total about one-third of all supplies.

The 1943 civilian per capita food supply is richer than in 1935-1939 in all the essential nutrients and with the exception of vitamin A and ascorbic acid, the vitamins and mineral content of the foods consumed will be at least as high as in 1941 and 1942," the report said.

"The net effect of smaller civilian supplies of meats and dairy products in 1943 probably will mean a diet slightly lower in calories, protein and calcium. However, because of higher levels of enrichment of bread and flour now in effect, the diet may contain more iron and the B vitamins."

Another Pacific Isle Occupied by U. S. Marines

This bit of tropical scenery may look like a chamber of commerce publicity picture but it's really the occupation of a vital island in the Pacific. Under protection of a U. S. destroyer, a stream of men and supplies comes ashore from a landing craft at Nanumea, an island in the Ellice group, taken over by our Marines cut in on the soldier and the noted congresswoman.

Zero Pilots Avoiding Tiffs With Big Liberator Bombers

By Frank Tremaine United Press Staff Correspondent. An Advance South Pacific Base—(Delayed)—(UP)—America's big B-24 Liberator bomber is establishing such a record in Pacific aerial warfare for durability and fighting that Jap Zero pilots now are showing a decided reluctance to tangle with these four-engined craft.

"She's a hell of a good fighting ship," said Capt. G. E. Marquart, former Oakland, Cal., lawyer of 835 Portolea Ave., Alameda, executive officer of a B-24 bombardment squadron at this base.

"The Zeros have shown a marked lack of eagerness to jump us lately, unless they have considerable numerical superiority, and even then they are not as eager as they used to be."

Marquart revealed that his squadron on 23 strike missions in the last month and a half—all in daylight—has suffered no combat losses.

"We just don't expect to lose bombers on daylight missions," he said. "We can bomb accurately from above the effective range of Jap antiaircraft fire, and the fire-power of these ships is so great and they are so tough that they have been able to fight their way through Zero interception. We think these ships may be better fighters than the B-17-E Flying Fortress, and they can take a hell of a beating and still get home."

Effectiveness of the Liberators' daylight attacks is indicated by one strike at the Japanese air base at Kahili in the northern Solomons—in which at least 20 Jap planes were left burning on the runway, and three hits were registered on antiaircraft positions.

Marquart said much of the B-24's effectiveness in aerial combat and bombardment is due to innovations designed by Lt. Col. Marion Unruh, commanding officer of the bombardment group to which this squadron is attached. He said Unruh's innovations have greatly increased the bombers' effectiveness.

Unruh, a former farmer from Pretty Prairie, Kan., files the "Pretty Prairie Special." Arriving in a British port flying the Jolly Roger, to announce that it had sunk a warship, and above it a white sheet on which was a black stork carrying a baby in its beak. Dock watchers were told that just after the sinking, the commander received word that he was the father of a daughter.

SALVATION ARMY WORK DETAILED FOR CHEST DRIVE

Religious, Charitable, Character Building, Recreational Efforts Are Listed.

Lt. Gen. William H. Simpson, above, formerly commanding general of the Twelfth Corps at Fort Jackson, S. C., is shown as he appeared at San Jose, Calif., to assume command of the Fourth Army. General Simpson succeeds Lt. Gen. John L. DeWitt, who also commanded the Western Defense Command.

Explaining the work of the Salvation Army, Major Nettie Brown of the local group today pointed out that the Salvation Army is a world-wide organization operating in over 90 countries on an evangelistic and socialistic basis. Locally the Salvation Army is one of the beneficiaries of the Community Chest, which today started its annual drive for funds.

"In Medford we have a corps located at 236 North Bartlett St.," the major stated. "A corps in lay language is a Salvation Army church, where our activities center."

Religious Meeting "We conduct religious meetings on the street and have regular religious meetings inside the corps building. In connection with our senior work we have a Home League, comparable to a sewing circle in other places. Here women volunteer once a week to sew. Layettes are made for mothers, garments are made and knitted for servicemen. The object is to create a friendly feeling among women and still do constructive and beneficial work."

"Much of our time is spent among the young people. We conduct Sunday school every Sunday morning and another young people's meeting similar to Christian Endeavor or Epworth League. Once a week we have a Girl Guard class where the girls are taught much the same thing as the Girl Scouts teach. Among other activities for the young people we endeavor to teach them something about music."

"There is the recreational side of our program for the young people where we have parties, hikes, games, etc. Each year the Salvation Army operates a camp at the Lake o' Woods for underprivileged children. This camp has been sponsored by the late George A. Hunt and the George A. Hunt Theaters, and the Rogue River National Forest Service."

Known By Mottos "The Salvation Army is known for two striking mottos—"A man may be down but not out" and "Others". Probably no other national organization has such an understanding of the "street" man, the broken home, the prisoner and the underprivileged child as the Salvation Army. The Army is not so technical as it is sympathetic.

"In Medford our relief work is mostly with the transient and at the present time for those who are related to men stationed at Camp White. The Salvation Army is one of the six agencies in the National USO and at 213 West Main Street is found one of these USO units under the direction of the local Salvation Army."

IF YOUR DEALER IS OCCASIONALLY OUT OF CAMELS

—it's because hundreds of millions of Camel cigarettes are now being sent to men in the service. In addition to the government's own purchases for our fighting men, veterans' organizations, fraternal orders, clubs, friends and relatives everywhere are sending them Camels. Yes, Camels! After all, Camels are the favorite cigarette with men in all the services—Army, Navy, Marine Corps, and Coast Guard.

First in the Service —AND THE SERVICE COMES FIRST! WHILE we have pushed Camel's production to new peaks to meet this overwhelming demand from Uncle Sam's fighting men and from the folks at home, yet if your dealer does not always have Camels for you, he asks you to be patient while he is temporarily out of them, believing you will agree that the men in the service should come first.

*Based on actual sales records, the favorite cigarette with men in the Army, the Navy, the Coast Guard, and the Marines is Camel.
