

GIRLS' CLUB ONE OF ORGANIZATIONS HELPED BY CHEST

The Girls' Community club of Medford, one of the local organizations deriving its funds from the Medford Community Chest, is incorporated as a non-profit organization with the purpose of providing recreational and housing facilities for the young business girl who is working in the low wage bracket group according to the report of the club board of directors to the Community Chest budget committee. The report states that the club is purely local in character and has no national affiliations; it is financed entirely through the chest and is operated by volunteer workers with no executive salaries paid.

Since the club was organized in 1933, over 250 girls have lived in the club house at 223 North Bartlett St. and not a single case of delinquency has ever been reported among its residents, the report states.

Home Atmosphere
"During these times of emergency when delinquency among young girls is a leading national problem, the people of Medford should feel justly proud of their own efforts in behalf of the young girls of this community," the report continues. "Resident girls are carefully chosen both for character and need and while living in real home atmosphere under the supervision of a competent house-mother, are thus given an opportunity to adjust themselves to the business world."

"The club is greatly handicapped by inadequate facilities, but is maintaining a wide range of activities including an employment bureau for domestics; housing for employed girls; parties for girls and servicemen; maintains a meeting place for all civic organizations."

The annual report for the year shows that 29 girls have enjoyed the privilege of supervised living at the club house; 64 girls most of them coming to Medford to seek employment at Camp White, were assisted in finding suitable rooms; 150 women and girls, many being soldiers' wives, were placed through the employment bureau; 32 meetings were held during the organization of the USO for both senior and junior hostesses; 37 different civic organizations held 290 meetings with an attendance of over 5000 persons.

Board Listed
The board of directors of the Girls' Community club is as follows: Mrs. Dolph Phipps, president; Mrs. Martin Luther, vice-president; Mrs. Leonard Mayfield, secretary; Mrs. Ed. Judd, treasurer; Mrs. Porter J. Neff, Mrs. Doh Newbury, Mrs. Glenn Jackson, Mrs. Grace Collins, Mrs. Aletha Vawter, Mrs. M. M. Morris and Mrs. R. W. Sleeter.

On the board of trustees are Eugene Thorndike, Don Newbury, Dr. B. R. Elliott, Mrs. A. J. Hanby and Mrs. B. G. Harding.

LIGHT TO THE BAR
Hollywood, Oct. 19.—(U.P.)—Mrs. Pat Schenck told police today that her husband, Hollywood musician John Schenck beat her 12 times during their three years of marriage, and on the last occasion she suffered a ruptured eardrum. She filed a complaint charging Schenck with felonious assault. Conviction would carry a term of from one to 10 years.

Mrs. Knight Wins Citation In Work At Kaiser Shipyard

Mrs. John R. Knight, who, with Mr. Knight, lived in Medford for many years, is the subject of an interesting article in the Oct. 8 issue of "Fore 'n' Aft," magazine published for employees of the Kaiser shipyards in Richmond, Cal. Both Mr. and Mrs. Knight are employed at yard one and Mrs. Knight was recently awarded a war production certificate for a suggested improvement for the cutting table on which she works. Mrs. Knight also has been honored by being named sponsor of the yard's 100th ship.

The magazine article, accompanied by several pictures of the Knights, reads:
"Whenever women in war industries are featured in the magazines or the movies they usually look like Betty Grable in streamlined overalls. Most of the women shipyard workers, those who stay on the job shift after shift, are just average women, the kind that in pre-war days we used to see at the grocery store thumping cantaloupes, orounding a typewriter in an office."

First in West
"The nicest of them are pleasant, handsome women like Mrs. Maude Knight, Yard One swing shift burner, who recently was awarded a War Production Board certificate of individual merit. She was the first woman west of the Mississippi to be so honored and the first woman to win a major Labor-Management Committee prize—a $100 war bond—in the Richmond yards."

"Mrs. Knight, we think, is more the typical woman war worker than any of the glorified beauties we've been hearing so much about. She's quiet, matronly, 54 years old, with streaks of gray in her hair. Before the war started she paid no attention to industry. Her husband, John, also a Yard One swing shift burner, was a music teacher in Oregon until our war program got into high gear."

Home Ties Cut
"They had their own home and their own car. They led quiet, uneventful lives in a small community, just as hundreds of thousands of other Americans did, until the Japs pulled the sneak punch they're going to regret for a long time. John Knight, who had been building defense homes in the northwest, talked things over with his wife. He was already doing an important job, but there was even more vital work for him—and for her. Mrs. Knight agreed. They bought a trailer, sold their home, bid friends farewell."

The couple—they have no children—came to Richmond in February, set up housekeeping in an auto trailer and hired out as burner trainees on swing shift, together. They have been at it ever since, she in the plate shop, he at the outfitting dock. Here, their life revolves around their job. They get through work at midnight, eat something, and read until about 1:30. After breakfast, about 9:30, they do their shopping, work on their Victory garden and prepare their lunch. That done, they pick up enough passengers to fill their car and come out to work."

War Is First
"We haven't the time, the energy or the gas for much running around," Mrs. Knight says. But both agree that winning the war is vastly more important. When that's done they plan to spend the leisure they have so richly earned on a small, quiet farm in Oregon or Washington."

When the Knights resided here, Mrs. Knight conducted a music studio on West Main street.

BERGEN'S MOTHER ILL
Hollywood, Oct. 19.—(U.P.)—Mrs. Nellie Bergen, 77, mother of Comedian Edgar Bergen, was convalescing today from an emergency operation for an intestinal obstruction. Mrs. Bergen, a Chicago resident for many years, moved to Hollywood some time ago to be near her son.

HUSBAND, WIFE JOIN
Fort Oglethorpe, Ga.—(U.P.)—It is no longer Mr. and Mrs. Frederick T. Jena of Racine, Wis. They are now Private Jena. Husband and wife took their oaths and entered the army the same day. Private Shirley Jena is stationed at the WAC center at Fort Oglethorpe.

OUTPOST SEEKING HOUSING LISTINGS

Listings of housing accommodations at the Officers' Outpost are becoming exhausted and a plea was made today by the director for additional listings. Nearly 25 applications for housing facilities were made at the club yesterday, the director states, and each day finds new families arriving in the city and searching for places to reside. Anyone having rooms, apartments or houses for rent is asked to list them at the Outpost, where the information will be relayed to officers and their families.

RIGHT HE WAS!
Salem, Ore.—(U.P.)—A transport truck driver figured he had done someone a good turn when he reported to police he saw a stranger carrying a box from a warehouse near which he had parked his truck. Later he found his own truck tool-box missing.

SLEEPS WITH COVERS
Burlington, Vt.—(U.P.)—After Daniel M. Richards, Jr., 16, had papered his bedroom walls with 4,000 match covers, he still had enough of them left to fill four large scrapbooks.

NOW WAC
Fort Oglethorpe, Ga.—(U.P.)—From navy to army in two world wars is the military career of Edith Warren Quinn of Arlington, Va. In the first world war she was a yeomanette stationed at Washington in the bureau of supplies and accounts. Now she is a private in the WAC.

Julia says—
Let the Children Cook

LAST MONTH, in one of these columns, I talked about the way youngsters like to put up their own school lunches. And, to tell the truth, I was amazed at the number of readers—both young and old—who wrote me afterward. Almost everyone was quick to point out that the younger generation not only likes to pack lunches, but also gets real satisfaction from various kinds of practical cooking.

More than one reader added this very timely thought: nowadays, when so many mothers are busy with war work, it's a real family help when the children take an active part in making the kitchen run smoothly. It gives them the feeling of "doing something" important, too.

I've found through my own experience that youngsters make creditable cooks provided they're not hurried and provided they start out on things they really like. For example, boys can handle this one enthusiastically and skillfully, right off the bat:

WAFFLES AND PANCAKES

2 cups enriched flour 1/2 tsp. salt
2 tps. baking powder 2 eggs
2 tpsps. sugar 1 1/2 cups milk
4 tpsps. melted shortening

Sift flour, measure; sift again with baking powder, sugar and salt. Beat eggs in large bowl with rotary beater; add milk and shortening; beat until well mixed. Add flour mixture and beat with rotary beater until smooth.

For Waffles: Bake in hot waffle iron about five minutes or until no more "steam" escapes and waffles are a golden brown. Do not "peek" while baking. Makes six 6-inch waffles.

For Pancakes: Drop batter by tablespoonfuls on hot, slightly greased griddles. Turn cakes when bubbles break. Bake until golden brown. Makes 10 to 12 medium-sized pancakes (4 inches in diameter).

(NOTE: For the pancake recipe, eggs may be reduced to one and shortening to two tablespoonfuls.)

And, these are a "natural" for girls to start out on:

BONNIE DEE COOKIES

2 cups enriched flour 1 cup seedless raisins
1/2 tsp. soda 1 cup coarsely chopped nuts
1 tsp. baking powder 3/4 cup shortening
1/2 tsp. salt 1 cup brown sugar
2 cups quick oats 2 eggs
1/2 cup milk

Sift flour, measure and sift with dry ingredients; add oats, raisins and nuts. Cream shortening with sugar; add well-beaten eggs and milk; combine with flour mixture. Drop by teaspoonfuls on greased cookie sheet. Bake in moderate oven (375° F.) 12 to 15 min. Makes 6 dozen.

MYSTERY OF THE MISSING SOMETHING

THIS LOOKS LIKE COFFEE—IT SMELLS LIKE COFFEE—IT TASTES LIKE COFFEE—BUT SOMETHING SEEMS TO BE MISSING. HOW COME?

I DON'T KNOW, DEAR. JUST BOUGHT IT YESTERDAY, AND I PAID A GOOD DEAL FOR IT.

IT'S THE FUNNIEST THING. JOAN YESTERDAY I PAID A LOT OF MONEY FOR A POUND OF COFFEE, BUT THIS MORNING MARTIN SIPPED IT AND SAID "SOMETHING SEEMS TO BE MISSING" AND HE DON'T MEAN CREAM AND SUGAR, EITHER, BECAUSE HE ALWAYS TAKES HIS COFFEE "STRAIGHT" TO GET THE FULL FLAVOR.

WOULD YOU GO FOR YOUR COFFEE IF YOU BOUGHT IT IN THE WHOLE-BEAN AND HAD IT GROUND EXACTLY RIGHT FOR YOUR COFFEE MAKER IN MY EXPERIENCE, THAT'S THE WAY TO GET REAL FLAVOR!

I'LL GET MARTIN. HE SAID THAT "SOUND LIKE AN IDEA!"

WWW—THIS IS SOMETHING LIKE IT. REAL COFFEE AGAIN—EVEN THOUGH IT COST PLENTY OF MONEY—IT'S WORTH IT!

BUT THIS COFFEE ISN'T EXPENSIVE. I JUST DISCOVERED THAT IN COFFEE, IT IS FRESHNESS THAT COUNTS. SO I BOUGHT WHOLE-BEAN COFFEE—HAD IT GROUND WHILE I WAITED. SAY THIS IS GOOD COFFEE!
