

AIR FORCE PLANS 2-PRONG ATTACK AGAINST GERMANY

Raids From Britain and Italy Coming — Losses Won't Sway Allies From Purpose

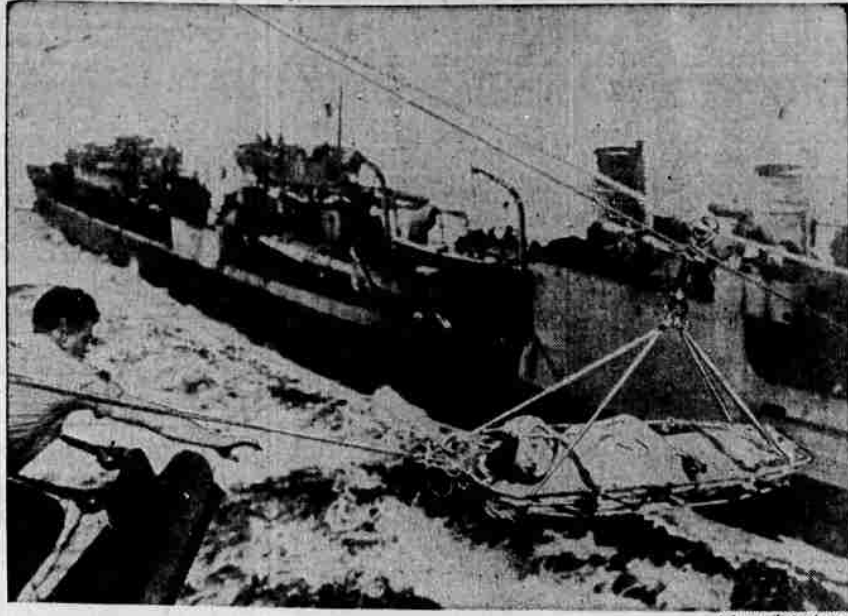

Washington, Oct. 19.—(U.P.)—United States army air forces plans for a devastating two-prong attack on Germany were revealed today, coincident with demands by Sen. Sheridan Downey, D., Calif., that the air war be accelerated to knock the nazis out by Feb. 1.

Here in Washington Gen. Henry A. Arnold, commanding all United States air forces, promised to build up the U. S. eighth air force in Great Britain "regardless of losses" in order to continue to cripple the German war machine by air attacks from the west.

To Raid From Italy
From allied headquarters in Algiers came announcement that the northwest African air force, composed of American British units, shortly would be based in Italy for a tremendous offensive on Germany from the south. Downey, speaking in the senate, said he had semi-official information that the army planned to increase its strength by 1,000,000 by April 1. Downey urged, instead, an all-out air offensive to take Germany out of the war by Feb. 1.

Arnold explained in a press conference that Germany was compelled to split her 4,500 plane air armada in half when she went to war with Russia. Half remained on the front facing Great Britain. Now that the Italian front is encroaching on axis areas, he said Germany will have to split her air force three ways, weakening it on all fronts, if she is to make any kind of a fight for equality in the air. The force against Russia already has been greatly weakened.

Aim At Day Raiders
As of today, Arnold said, Germany has massed her fighter strength between Denmark and Belgium with orders to attack our day-raiding flying fortresses at all costs.

Arnold estimated that the Germans have approximately 1,800 fighting planes in that defense area, having practically stripped Italy of air power. The Germans do not have many planes left on the Russian front, Arnold believes.

The general said he thought the air war story was being presented to the American public with too much emphasis on our losses and too little explanation of the strategic value of the raids which make it necessary to take losses to carry them out. He conceded that the eighth air force in Great Britain was carrying the brunt of the United States air war effort.

"Regardless of our losses," Arnold said, "I'm ready to send replacement crews and planes and to continue building up our strength. The opposition now is being brought against us is not near what it was. We are wearing them down. I don't mean that the war is over or that it is going to be an easy job. But we are getting the upper hand."

10,000 Nazi Planes Lost
Arnold estimated that the Germans had lost 10,000 planes in the African theater, approximately six months production lost in a single theater in 10 months.

"Germany can't stand that," he said. He estimated that German fighter production hampered by raids on industrial plants, had dropped from 1,020 in August to 820 in September.

He read Reichsmarshal Hermann Goering's order to the Luftwaffe that "daylight bombers must be attacked at all costs." Arnold said that the American people should understand that the purpose of those bombers is to cripple and destroy communications, industries, and facilities with which Germany makes war.

Springfield, Mass. (U.P.)—The Springfield playhouse troupe faced a new shortage recently. The comedy "Arsenic and Old Lace" calls for 12 "corpSES" on the stage at once. Write a memo on your heart

Before long, in your community, the War Chest drive will start. Of course, you'll give. But write it down, now, to support this drive all out. And write it on your heart.

Because this is a part of the war—with heart.

Because this is a part of the war—itsself so unwarlike—which is helping us win the war.

Of course you're busy. You're on the swing shift. You're on a farm—where shifts don't count. You're a volunteer aide. You're cook and quartermaster for a family of war-workers in these days of few ration stamps and tough shopping.

Of course you're buying bonds. You're paying taxes. Like all good Americans, you're pulling your weight.

And that's it! Whatever you give to the War Chest—whether time or money—has to be something extra. Something extra from the pocket. Something extra from the heart.

Such extra sacrifices the seventeen war agencies and all the home front agencies of the War Chest deserve. President Roosevelt himself has made that clear by naming committees to extend War Chest functions—formerly centered in cities—to virtually every community in the nation.

This call to greater service is the finest recognition the War Chest could receive. This assignment of more work to do is the brightest decoration the Commander-in-Chief could award.

So write it on your heart to do more than your share.
