

PRIZES OFFERED GIRLS WHO WRITE ESSAYS ON WACS

As a part of the nation-wide "All-States" Battle Casualty Replacement recruiting program the Oregon WAC recruiting district, in cooperation with local merchants and the county Civilian Defense Council, is sponsoring a contest for school girls.

Three prizes will be awarded winners of the local contest, which includes schools in this community, and first prize winners of each community will be entered in a state-wide contest to compete for further prizes.

A first, second and third prize will be presented to the writers of the three best 100-word essays on the subject, "Why I would like to join the WACs and replace a battle casualty."

Contestants must be girl students of public schools between the ages of 10 and 16, inclusive.

Each contestant may submit but one entry.

All entries must be submitted to the principal of the contestant's school not later than Nov. 3.

Judges will be primarily concerned with the content of the essay, however, neatness will be considered.

All contestants must have their name, school, address and age clearly printed at the top of the page.

Prizes will be awarded at the WAC Carnival Caravan at 8 p.m. at the Court House auditorium.

Local contest chairman is Mrs. H. L. Alford, (4484) 517 W. 10th.

Prizes are:

First—$25 bond, donated by Medford druggists, and entry into district contest.

Second—$7.50 merchandise order, M. M. Dept. Store.

Third—$5, merchandise order, Mann's Dept. Store.

Ray Ish, owner and manager of the Military Tailors, announced this morning this his concern will donate a $100 war bond as a state prize for the essay contest. Mr. Ish is the only merchant outside Portland offering a prize in the statewide contest.

MILL IS SUED IN DEATH OF FATHER

Suit against the Tiller Mill and Lumber company for $50,000 damages was filed in circuit court yesterday by the four minor children, through their guardian, ad litem, of Cyril George Steele, 40, killed August 20 last, in an accident at the plant. The children are Cyril E. Steele, 15, Adrian L. Steele, 13, Lois J. Steele, 11, and James Steele, 10. Their mother, Viola A. Steele, has been named their guardian ad litem.

The complaint sets forth that Steele was working between a logging truck and the loading deck at the plant when a spreader block used in log loading descended rapidly, directly above. The complaint alleges the improper arrangement of brakes controlling the spreader block prevented the donkey engineer from stopping its descent in time. It struck Steele on the head, crushing his skull, and resulting in death.

The complaint further cites that Steele was sole support of the minor plaintiffs.

The mill company is located in Douglas county and used Jackson county roads for the hauling of its products and operations.

Attorneys G. W. Neilson and Allison Moulton appear as counsel for the plaintiffs.

George Graham, Maxine McKinney, Mary Glascock, Helen Ferris, Jerry Liebman, Jim Tucker, Marion Tilly, Phyllis West, Don Fairweather, Ann Conroy, Audrey Nims and Calista Farrell. Programs will feature activities of Medford high organizations.

Everett Harding, regional supervisor of Hi-Y, addressed members of this group at its meeting October 20. In a following discussion of club plans, it was decided that the chief work of Hi-Y would be to help with various service organizations and in selling bonds. J. C. Tucker, club adviser, officers of Hi-Y, and Mr. Harding made a trip to Grants Pass after the meeting. Students going were Weldon Webber, Norman House, Harry Nordwick, Don Knipps and Larry Hayes.

A campaign for the Junior Red Cross is being held this week at Senior high. Collections are being made in the home rooms, quota for each being thirty cents. According to Virginia Hammond, in charge, the amount collected so far greatly exceeds the minimum quota.

Home nursing classes at Medford high have been resumed this year under instruction of Miss Helen Starnes, R. N. This is a Red Cross standard class and the purpose is to give the girls practical knowledge of how to care for common illnesses in the home.

Girls now enrolled are Alice Brill, Myra Ball, Helen Ferris, Sarah Frederick, Ruth Gaster, Virginia Hammond, Mary Humphries, Juanita Trescott, Audrey Johnson, Joyce Spears, Irma Minger, Donna Jenkins, Ina Hughes, Peggy Corum, Marie Dubs, Mahala Green, Lois Hoffmann, Inez Phillips, Barbara Maddox and Betty Stauffer.

EAGLE POINT AND PROSPECT RATION TIMES ANNOUNCED

Eagle Point, Oct. 22 (Spl.)—Eagle Point and Prospect schools will register and distribute Ration Book No. 4 on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday, October 26, 27, and 28 at the school buildings it was announced today by Lyle L. Lindley, superintendent of schools at Eagle Point. The hours each day will be from 2 p. m. until 8 p. m.

The superintendent points out that Ration Book 3 must be presented before Book 4 can be issued. He calls attention to the fact that no rationing will take place at these two schools on Friday or Saturday. The place of registration at Eagle Point will be in the band room located in the north end of the gymnasium.

Through an error it was announced that Elk Creek residents would be issued new books at Eagle Point. Residents of Elk Creek will register at the Elk Creek school between 3 and 7 p. m. on October 26, 27, and 28, according to Scott Brill.

High School News

By Joan Mole and Viladean Halgren
Student Council held its sixth business meeting last Monday. Members present were: Ruth Andrews, Betty Baker, Paula Blanton, Rab Casebeer, Leigh Eden, Virginia Hammond, Betty Mack, Maxine McKinney, Harry Norwick, Robert Shelby, Jim Tucker, Weldon Webber, Randall Lovejoy, Calista Farrell and Bill Patton.

A move whereby the students would adopt the ninety per cent defense stamp plan was made. If this goal is attained, the student body will purchase a "War Minute Man" flag and display it on the flag-pole under the United States flag. Also tentative plans were announced for organization of a school dance band, since last year's met with so much success.

According to Mrs. Anne Allen, the following students will handle the high school radio program this year: Harry Norwick, Weldon Webber, Delores Ray,
