

"SQUANDERING, REGIMENTATION" TO BE ISSUES

Chairman Spangler of GOP Picks Targets For Coming Campaign Against F.D.R.

Sacramento, Oct. 26.—(U.P.)—Harrison Spangler, chairman of the republican national committee, indicated today the republican party will attempt to make "squandering and regimentation" the chief issues in next year's presidential campaign.

Spangler arrived here yesterday for discussions with Gov. Earl Warren and local party officials.

He took it for granted that President Roosevelt again would be a candidate, saying "I think Mr. Roosevelt is running about as strong as he can right now," but added "he can be beaten on his record."

"There is a general feeling in the country that it would be better to have a change, to get back to the policy of limited tenure in the White House," he declared.

People Tired
Spangler said he believed the people also were "tired of 12 years of squandering and interference with their daily life."

He said that while some wartime restrictions were necessary, "regimentation had been creeping in before the war started."

There is opposition to President Roosevelt within the party among "Jeffersonian democrats," Spangler claimed, but he said he did not know whether the opposition would result in anti-Roosevelt delegates to the democratic national convention.

Spangler said he believed foreign affairs should be kept out of partisan politics in the coming campaign, unless "the administration makes some move the people can't endorse."

Chances Look Good
Republican chances "look good from the outside" in California, Spangler declared. He said also that reports from republican organizations indicated victories for party nominees in New York's election November 2 of a lieutenant governor and in the New Jersey gubernatorial election.

Spangler was accompanied by William Reichel, acting national committeeman from California; Neil Allen, Oregon state committeeman, and Ed Tickle, chairman of the California republican state central committee.

BLOODSHED SEEN NEAR IN INDIA

Washington, Oct. 26.—(U.P.)—India's 350,000,000 peoples are losing faith in reason and non-violence as the way to win their freedom from Great Britain, and the ground is being prepared for large-scale bloodshed, speakers told a free-India meeting here last night.

The speakers urged American support in getting Britain to free India, stating that such a move would add millions of "comrades in arms" to Allied forces and counteract the poison of Japanese propaganda.

Chief speaker was Upton Close, writer and radio commentator, who said that India is the only Asiatic land where the Allies are free to demonstrate their program of freedom for mankind.

VICTOR MATURE TO WED ANNE SHIRLEY OF FILMS
Hollywood, Oct. 27.—(U.P.)—Victor Mature, who lost one movie reheat to Orson Welles scurried around today for a license to marry Anne Shirley, another red-haired star of the films.

Miss Shirley announced the engagement late last night, then went to the Mocambo with Hunk-of-Man Mature, now of the coast guard.

Olive Barber's Observations

Private Buck doesn't say so, but I get the impression from a letter recently received that certain aspects of training have all the earmarks of a practical joke. Such was a maneuver in which he took part. "A maneuver," he explains, knowing how I have to have everything blue printed and explained in terms of one syllable when it's army talk, "is just picking up everything and going some place as fast as possible."

"We were given to understand we'd be at the first place we went to for several days. This was a swell place; good barracks with spring beds to sleep on, hot showers and other comforts. And there was a theater! The next show was to be 'This Is the Army,' one I'd been waiting to see."

"Best of all was the kitchen. (Private Buck is a cook.) It had an electric range as large as your kitchen and an electric refrigerator twice as large as the stove. In short, it was a paradise for a cook."

"We could hardly wait to go to bed on those springs! We didn't have to; we were given marching orders. In less than an hour the kitchen truck was rolling along, beans soaking for the next day, the bread already cut for breakfast."

"Four hours later we set up in a new place and the cooks started preparing stacks of sandwiches for the men who had to work most of the night. We also made fifteen gallons of coffee. The other cook then went to bed on the bare floor with his one blanket and his field pack for a pillow. I stayed up and served coffee. Fifteen gallons did not prove to be enough. I got hot-cake batter ready for morning. The recipe started with fifteen pounds of flour. Thirty pounds would have been more like it, as time proved."

"When we are at our regular position, the men don't eat so much, but as soon as they start moving around, they can't get enough. But even here, they eat enough. This morning they ate twenty-five dozen eggs, twenty-five loaves of bread and twenty pounds of bacon. Yesterday morning they ate fifty pounds of sausage and the regular amount of hotcakes. But I like best to cook for them when they're really hungry."

And he wanted to see "This Is the Army!" I've never seen it myself. But I hope for his sake there's a kitchen scene; it would be his favorite part of the play.

FIRST VICTORY SHIP PLATE IS PREPARED

Portland, Ore., Oct. 26.—(U.P.)—The first steel plate for the first victory ship—successor to the Liberty ship and a larger craft for post-war purposes—was rolled today at Henry F. Kaiser's Oregon Shipbuilding Corporation in Portland.

The yard still is making Liberty ships but the keel laying of the new type craft will be in late November, the first in the four shipyards selected to build the new vessels. The Portland yard has a contract for 105 of the victory ships, which will extend into 1945.

B and C Ration Rules To Be Under Stricter Survey Is OPA Word

Portland—Only those applicants who conform to certain rigid requirements will hereafter be allotted B and C mileage rations, Richard G. Montgomery, OPA district director announced today.

Montgomery pointed out that the OPA had nothing to do with the gasoline quota allotted to various areas, but a great deal to do with keeping within the quota after it had been set. Cooperation of all motorists is required to achieve this, he said.

Applicants now applying for a B and C mileage ration must meet the following conditions:

They must prove they are regularly sharing their car, to full capacity, in a bona fide car-pool arrangement. (Reports reaching the district OPA indicate that some had "dummy" riders—in name only—who failed to materialize after the ration had once been obtained.)

Applicants must show there is no alternative means of transportation.

Applicants may be denied supplemental rations if within reasonable walking distance—1 1/2 to 2 miles each way—or which can be walked in 30 to 40 minutes or less, taking into such consideration such factors as age and physical condition of applicant.

NEWSPAPERS LAUDED FOR LOAN DRIVE AID

Washington, Oct. 26.—(U.P.)—Frank E. Tripp, manager of the Gannett newspaper chain and chairman of the Allied Newspaper council, today hailed the cooperation of newspapers in the third war loan drive as "the greatest achievement in the history of communication."

Tripp issued the following statement: "In all the history of communication, from the day of the signal fire on the hilltop, never has any achievement begun to approach the record of the American newspapers in the third war loan."

ALBERS Corn Meal Recipe #13
FRIED CORN MEAL MUSH
Make mush as directed on package of Albers Corn Meal. Pour into loaf pan that has been rinsed in cold water. Cool, then cover and let stand in a cold place overnight. Turn out, slice 1/2" thick, roll in flour, and brown on both sides in small amount of hot shortening in heavy skillet, adding more fat as needed. (If too much is used at first, the mush will go to pieces and will not brown nicely.) Serve with syrup, jam, or jelly, or with creamed meat or fish if desired, for breakfast, lunch or supper.
Albers Corn Meal, both White and Yellow, is wholesome, fine-flavored, fine-textured—"just right" for perfect cooking results!

Julia says— Give a HALLOWE'EN PARTY
OF COURSE we all know there's a war on—but in a way the war makes it even more important that we give the children a chance to observe Hallowe'en in a fitting manner. It seems to me the youngsters definitely feel, even if they aren't aware of it, the tension and excitement of war-time living. And it's a lot wiser to have them celebrate the Witches' Eve right in the home than to let them roam around the streets where there's always a possibility of their getting into trouble on Hallowe'en.

Why not suggest the theme of a special party to them.
For instance, a Pirates' Party! Let the invitations be written in blood-red ink... decorate with skull and bones... warn of spoons... insist that every guest wear some part of a pirate costume...
... costume details could include: fierce false mustaches... bandanas tied on the head pirate-style... cardboard rings in ears... black patch on eye...
... house decorations may involve: paper skulls... skeletons... bones... red lights or candles...
... entertainment can be as varied as imagination allows, for example: a darkened "cave of the winds," where a vacuum cleaner moans and each guest shakes hands with a chicken's claw... blindfolded guests "kiss the binnacle" three times, twice kissing a tin pan but the third time tipping the face into a bowl of flour... "walking the plank" (the plank is held just free of the floor while the young guest, blindfolded, climbs onto it; the plank is rocked while the guest is told to walk forward on it, over deep water; then the guest is made to jump and finds he was still only three inches over the floor!)...
... the "treasure," of course is exciting Hallowe'en refreshment!
