CRAVATH WILLING TO REPLAY GAME WITH STAGG TEAM

USC Head Coach Reiterates Stand in Controversial 6-0 Victory Over Pacific.

Los Angeles, Oct. 26—(U.P.)—Despite opposition from other University of Southern California officials, Jeff Cravath, head football coach, today reiterated his willingness to replay Saturday's controversial game with Alonzo Stagg's College of the Pacific.

Stagg, COP's 82-year-old coach, suggested yesterday that the game, which USC won 6-0 after Pacific had had a touch-down play recalled and a penalty for clipping invoked, be replayed if Southern California agreed that the penalty was not justified.

Any Practical Date
Cravath replied as soon as he received the announcement that "he would be pleased to play a rematch with College of the Pacific on any practical date."

Arnold Eddy, USC's athletic manager, didn't share Cravath's enthusiasm for a return engagement. He said the request "didn't sound like Stagg."

"In his 54 years of collegiate football coaching, I never heard of Stagg questioning an official decision in a game. I can't believe he has been quoted correctly," Eddy said.

As a matter of fact, Stagg did not question the official's decision that spoiled his team's perfect record. He said he did not see the questioned play, which occurred in the second quarter, because his players on the bench jumped to their feet in their enthusiasm and blocked his view. He said that if USC agreed that it had won on a faulty decision that it could perform a commendable act of sportsmanship by asking for a rematch.

The disputed play was a 35-yard pass from Johnny Podesto to Quarterback Joe Ferem. Officials ruled that End Jack Hurley clipped USC's safety man, Mickey McCardle, on the play. Pictures of the play failed to clarify the argument, none having caught on film.

Millers of Notre Dame Return To Favored Gridiron Register Spot

By Tommy Devine
United Press Staff Correspondent
Chicago, Oct. 26—(U.P.)—Football's first family, "the Millers of Notre Dame," today regained a favored position in the gridiron "social register."

Bringing the famed family back to the athletic spotlight it has the brilliant left halfback of Notre Dame's undefeated and untied team.

Miller took another step toward All-American honors over the week-end as Notre Dame rolled to its fifth straight victory by downing Illinois 47 to 0. It is on the flying feet of this 185-pound youngster from Wilmington, Del., that the Irish will depend heavily Saturday at Cleveland when Navy is met in one of the season's greatest inter-sectional clashes.

Seventh of Family
Creighton is the seventh member of the Miller family to play football at Notre Dame. Preceding were his father, Harry, captain of the 1909 team; four uncles, Don, Gerald, Walter and Ray; and a brother, Tom.

The most famous of the earlier sextet was Don, one of the "four horsemen" of the late Knute Rockne's 1924 team. Creighton may now eclipse his achievements.

Miller is the Irish's leading ground gainer and among the nation's tops in that department. He's carried the ball 40 times for an aggregate gain of 452 yards. Against Illinois, while playing only about a quarter he piled up 72 yards in seven attempts.

But after Sunday's bruising game with the Salt Lake Army Air Base team, Aiken found four men injured. Other servicemen were prevented from playing by army orders and three university players left to enter the service.

OPA RENT OFFICE LIKE A CIRCUS IN CROWDED 'FRISCO

Landlords and Tenants Fill Air With Protests, Bickering—Some Stage Fights.

By Nick Bourne
United Press Correspondent

San Francisco, Oct. 26—(U.P.)—Landlords on one side and tenants on the other, with the Office of Price Administration in the middle, today were raising the roof at OPA headquarters as eviction notices "became more serious" in this critical war housing area.

"A day at the OPA" headquarters, charged with enforcing rent control, arbitrating between landlord and tenant, protecting the rights of goldfish and expectant mothers, was like a ring-side seat at 13 simultaneous "goodwill courts" crowded into Grand Central station with clanging locomotive bells signaling round one:

Bathroom Padlocked
Mrs. Tenant demanded that the OPA force her landlord to take the padlock off the bathroom door.

The landlord, it developed, had rented Mrs. Tenant two rooms in his four-room house after a family tiff sent the landlord's wife and seven children packing. But Mrs. Tenant explained to Mrs. Margaret Field, supervisor of interviews, she persuaded the landlord to take his wife and seven children back; the landlord then removed Mrs. Tenant, her husband and two children into one room and padlocked the bathroom.

That made 13 persons in four rooms and developed a crisis which brought the police.

Baby Expected
"I'm expecting another baby in a month. I've had five and lost three. I'd like a little peace and quiet for this one. I want the bathroom unlocked, a refund on one room's rent from the time they moved us out of it, and I want that other room back. And they can't kick me out in this condition. I've been getting up at 5 o'clock in the mornings to look for another place. There aren't any." Mrs. Tenant began to cry. Mrs. Field summoned the OPA rent attorney. The landlord agreed to unlock the bathroom, but claimed that since Mrs. Tenant's husband, a war worker, agreed to accept the "doubling" up there was no chance of giving back the "extra" room.

Mrs. Tenant also claimed the landlord struck her, announced: "I am going to have Fred beat him up good when he comes home from the shipyard tonight" just as the phone rang.

Visitors Problem
"I rented my house to three people. They had four visitors over the week-end. They all got drunk and left the water running. Can I charge extra rent for the extra people or evict them?"

"I rented an apartment to my daughter cheaper than the other tenants pay. My daughter is leaving. Can I raise the rent for new tenants?" "I told my tenant he could have a dog, although I am opposed to them. But the dog had five pups. The terms of the lease are broken. Do I have to put up with six dogs or can I evict them all, or just the dogs—or the people?"

FREIGHTS COLLIDE
San Francisco, Oct. 26—(U.P.)—Five freight cars and a locomotive were derailed Saturday night in a rear-end collision of two Western Pacific freight trains at Barro, 95 miles west of Salt Lake City, the company reported today. Nobody was injured.

A Message From the Bakers of

Fluhrer's
BREAD AND CAKES

KEEPING FULLY INFORMED, getting all the news, is something that we in America have long been used to. But war has magnified its importance, made it far more vital than at any time in the past.

For this is a people's war . . . and full information is the people's indispensable weapon for Victory.

We have always turned to our newspapers as the most complete source of news. The war has made us more dependent on newspapers than ever before . . .

. . . for full reports of the day's events . . . for detailed news from the battlefronts and the homefronts, from Washington and other world centers, and from our own town.

. . . for full information on wartime regulations . . . on rationing and taxes, dimouts and blackouts, draft orders and air raid rules . . . on how to save, how to make things last longer, what to do to help win the war and hasten the coming of peace.

. . . for editorial interpretations and expert analysis of the important happenings, to give us a better understanding of what's going on today and what lies ahead.

. . . for the vital news that comes through the advertisements of manufacturing plants and retail stores, news of what industry is doing and planning, news of merchandise and services the stores are offering.

We depend on newspapers to be fully informed. Small wonder, then, that today, when being well posted is so important to all of us, newspapers are being read more eagerly, more thoroughly, and by more people than ever before. That's one reason why newspaper space is so powerful a medium for wartime advertisers.
