Miss Southwick, Capt. Dougherty Married In East

At a Thanksgiving Day ceremony November 25 Miss Betty Jo Southwick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph H. Southwick, 915 West Tenth St., became the bride of Capt. John J. Dougherty, son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Dougherty of Darby, Penn. The marriage vows were read at a nuptial mass at 10 o'clock Thanksgiving morning by the Rev. Edwin A. Horn in Saint Clement's Catholic church in Philadelphia. The church was decorated with white chrysanthemums, palms and white tapers.

During the ceremony Vincent Cavanaugh sang "On This Day," "Ave Maria" and during the Holy Communion, "O Lord, I Am Not Worthy." He was accompanied by Mary Bernard at the organ. The wedding party entered the church to the strains of the traditional wedding march.

Miss Southwick, given in marriage by James W. Featherstone, wore a wedding gown of white satin trimmed with seed pearls and a full-length veil with a tulle of lilies-of-the-valley. She carried a white prayer book with a white orchid and streamers of tiny chrysanthemums.

Attending the bride as matron-of-honor was the groom's sister, Mrs. James W. Featherstone, and bridesmaids were Miss Eleanor Dougherty and Miss Anne Dougherty, also sisters of the groom. Mrs. Featherstone wore a velvet dress of plum red and a small hat of the same material. The bridesmaids wore matching dresses of deep aqua velvet and head-dresses. The three attendants carried old-fashioned nosegays of gold chrysanthemums.

Best man for Capt. Dougherty was Daniel Maher and ushers were William McNeil and Albert Burdette.

The wedding breakfast was held at Gladstone Court in Philadelphia for 50 close friends and relatives of the bride and groom. Capt. and Mrs. Dougherty cut the first slice of the flared wedding cake. The tables and dining room were decorated with fall flowers and candles.

Capt. and Mrs. Dougherty made a wedding trip to New York and for traveling the bride wore a two-piece black suit with velvet trim and black accessories. Her flowers were an orchid corsage. They arrived in Medford this past week and after a brief visit with Mrs. Dougherty's parents left last night for Albany where they will reside at 625 West Sixth St. Capt. Dougherty is with the 91st Infantry Division and is stationed at Camp Adair.

The bride is well known in Medford, having graduated from Medford senior high school. Recently she has been secretary to the district agent of the Southern Pacific Railway here.

Wednesday Club Hears Reviews

Mrs. Paul Rynning and Mrs. R. A. Work were on the program for the Wednesday Study club's meeting last week, held as usual at the Girls' Community club Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Rynning reviewed Max Miller's "Land Where Time Stands Still". This book tells of the 1400-mile travels of the author and two naturalists through Lower California. The party followed the old Mission trail and the story of this little-known and little-traveled country has proven very interesting.

"Salud" by Margaret Culkin Banning was reviewed by Mrs. Work. This South American journal is the account of a visit to South America made by Mrs. Banning and her daughter. They visited some of the out-of-the-way places and endeavored to acquaint themselves with the viewpoint of the women of the countries visited.

Mrs. Frank Albert, president of the group, was in charge of the meeting.

Officers Elected By Navy Mothers

Mrs. Florence Cuffel was named commander of the Medford Navy Mothers' club, No. 46 at a meeting last Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Maude Culbertson, Rt. 3.

Other officers elected were Mrs. Frances McConochie, vice commander; Mrs. Nellie Gibson, adjutant; Mrs. Gladys Dooms, finance officer; Mrs. Velma Dunnigan, chaplain; Mrs. Louise Heckman, judge advocate; Mrs. Maude Williams and Mrs. Glen Shaw, matron-at-arms; Mrs. Grace Youmans and Mrs. Charlotte Lehman color bearers. Next meeting of the group will be the annual Christmas party with an exchange of gifts and installation of officers will be the first Wednesday in January.

Georgia Currier, Frank A. Ralston Married In Texas

Details of the wedding of Miss Georgia Frances Currier and Frank A. Ralston, which took place in Corpus Christi, Tex., Wednesday, Nov. 3, will be of interest to many friends in the county. Miss Currier is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Currier, 402 South Hamilton St., Medford, and Mr. Ralston's parents are Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Ralston, Rogue River.

The ceremony was read by the Rev. Roland Murray of Westminster Presbyterian church in the manse. Miss Currier's wedding dress was a white floor-length gown worn with a heart-shaped headpiece. Her flowers were a corsage of carnations of two shades of pink.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralston will live in Corpus Christi, 3308 "D" St., for the present. Mr. Ralston being assigned to the naval air station there. Mrs. Ralston is a former teacher and for the past three years has been teaching in eastern Oregon. Prior to that she taught in Jackson county. For the past several months she had been in Medford with her parents.

The groom is also a teacher by profession and was teaching in Klamath county when he enlisted in the navy.

Michigan Couple Married Saturday At Camp Chapel

The wedding of Miss Shirley Buckner, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Buckner of Detroit, Mich., to First Lt. Vern Thaler of the 98th Headquarters Battalion of the 98th Division artillery brigade, took place Saturday, Nov. 27, at Chapel No. 5, Camp White. The service was read at three o'clock in the afternoon by Chaplain Howard Patrick.

Miss Buckner wore for the wedding a blue suit with brown accessories and an orchid corsage. She was attended by Mrs. John Pfaff, who also wore a suit and a corsage of gardenias. Miss Buckner was given in marriage by Brig. Gen. Paul V. Kane, artillery commander. Capt. John Pfaff was best man for Lt. Thaler.

Immediately after the ceremony Lt. and Mrs. Thaler were taken on the traditional artillery ride around the post. Lt. Thaler's fellow officers having provided a 105 mm. howitzer on which the couple took the ride.

Later a reception was held for Lt. and Mrs. Thaler at the Outpost and the traditional wedding cake and refreshments were served. Gen. Kane made a brief speech welcoming Mrs. Thaler to the post and proposed a toast to the couple. The reception was arranged by the Outpost staff, Mrs. I. E. Schuler and Miss Virginia Hammond, assisted by Mrs. Burdette Dodge and Mrs. Royal E. Bebb.

Lt. and Mrs. Thaler are making their home for the present at 1917 East Main St. Mrs. Thaler's mother travelled to Medford for her daughter's wedding.

Lt. Thaler's home is in Coral, Mich., his parents being Mr. and Mrs. William Thaler of that city.

Lady Lions Plan Welfare Projects

Plans for the Christmas welfare work of the group were made at a meeting of Medford Lady Lions held Tuesday evening of last week at the home of Mrs. Claude Haggard, 403 J street. Mrs. Arnold Green is the group's welfare chairman. The business meeting followed a dinner, with Mrs. M. E. Olson and Mrs. Elmo T. Atterbury assisting Mrs. Haggard. Others in attendance were the Mesdames Arnold Green, Elwood Hedberg, Earl Sims, Earl Miller, Claude Holmes, R. M. Schino, N. D. Rowe, George Goodman, Lyle Thurman, C. W. Leonard, Wren Orey, C. C. Visitors Conduct Classes Two Days For Garden Clubs

The Medford Garden club and affiliated Southern Oregon Garden Clubs enjoyed two unusual meetings last Thursday and Friday when Mrs. Fred Broders, assisted by Mrs. G. F. Saunders, both members of the Eugene Garden club, presented instruction on making Christmas greenery arrangements and corsages. Some very clever ideas were introduced during the sessions which were held at the Girls' Community club.

Mrs. Saunders arranged the centerpiece for the tea table Thursday which drew considerable comment. Plans were arranged during the business meeting Thursday for the making of tray sprays and a small wreath for each bed in the Camp White hospital for Christmas. This was done last year by Medford Garden club members, and was greatly appreciated by the servicemen. Meeting places and dates for making the decorations will be announced later. Anyone interested in the work, whether a member of Garden club or not, is invited to participate.

Chairman of the refreshment committee for the affair was Mrs. J. W. Jacobs, assisted by Mrs. Edith Bundy, Mrs. F. M. McKean, Mrs. E. C. Jerome and Mrs. C. C. Furnas. Mrs. Bundy and Mrs. Arthur Adler presided. Prizes were won by Mrs. McKean and Mrs. W. L. Greenleaf.

State Officers Coming Monday For Lodge Visit

Mrs. Bertha McCollum, Portland, Rebekah state president, and a group of other state officers, will visit Olive Rebekah lodge Monday night, Dec. 6, during the regular lodge meeting at the I.O.O.F. hall. A class of candidates will be initiated and the evening will close with a social hour and refreshments.

Mrs. Lottie Cave, noble grand, asks that members be at the hall promptly at 7:30 o'clock since a full program has been planned. Mrs. Lucretia Jordan is chairman in charge of the social hour. The degree staff, of which W. H. Dyer is captain, will meet this afternoon at the hall at 2:30 o'clock for rehearsal.

Review Features Chapter Meeting

The book, "Ashes in the Wilderness" by W. G. Schofield, was reviewed by Mrs. Frances Cochran at the meeting of Crater Lake chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution held November 27 at the home of Mrs. J. A. Perry, West Main street. Mrs. T. J. Gifford, chapter regent, was in charge of the meeting. The book is a history of the disaster which befell the early colonists through unpreparedness and lack of unity when King Phillip's Indian hordes went on the warpath in 1675.

Mrs. George Carter was elected to membership in the chapter. Assistant hostesses were Mrs. Helen Snedcor and Mrs. H. E. Marsh.

Next meeting of the chapter will be Dec. 18 at the home of Mrs. E. M. Wilson on South Riverside and will be the annual Christmas party with an exchange of gifts.

The lines that come to your holiday dinners must be fresh and gleaming white in order to complement you, as the hostess. Trust your most precious linens to American. You'll find them returned like new.

Colorful Affair Given At Club By Posse, Troop

A colorful dinner and dance with a frontier theme was held at the Zero club Wednesday night by members of the Sheriffs Posse, the Ladies' Mounted Troop, their wives, husbands and invited friends. The costumes, donated to carry out a "boots, spurs and sidearms" idea, included not only cowboy and cowgirl garbs both old and modern but gamblers and other old fashioned western characters were represented.

A steak and chicken dinner was served, with Dr. James C. Hayes, general chairman in charge, acting as master of ceremonies for an informal program. During the evening George Field, captain of the posse, presented to Mr. and Mrs. William T. Grant of the Circle G ranch a pair of hand-some saddle blankets. The Grants, who entertained the posse and troop members at their home during the annual week-end ride, were special guests at the affair.

An old-time orchestra provided music for dancing, which included many square as well as modern dances. About 80 persons attended the gay party.

Medford Nurse To Be Married

An event of the coming week will be the wedding of Miss Cleo Goitra Williams, who is to become the bride Wednesday of Cpl. Donald Bornofsky. The service is to be in the evening at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Frederick G. Thayer, 2525 Lyman avenue, aunt and uncle of the bride-elect.

Miss Williams, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Williams of Marshfield, is a nurse on the staff of the Jackson County Public Health department. Cpl. Bornofsky is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Bornofsky of Racine, Wis.

Bride-Elect Leaves For Houston, Minn.

Miss Frances Myers left Friday night by train for Houston, Minn., where she will be married Dec. 12 to Capt. Leigh Iverson of the 91st Infantry Division, quartermaster's corps. Miss Myers' parents are Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Myers, 17 Ross Court, and Capt. Iverson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. I. G. Iverson of Houston. The couple plan to reside in Salem.

Guild To Hold Christmas Party

Crater Lake Guild of the Presbyterian church will hold its annual Christmas party Monday evening, Dec. 6, at 8 p. m. in the church parlors. The features of the evening will be group singing of Christmas carols and the collection of money for the Camp White hospital. Members are requested that the games are not wrapped and are asked to bring as many as possible as they need for amusement equipment at the hospital.
