FWA Field Agent Concludes Survey Of Projects Here

Miss Gladys Everetts, Portland, field representative of the Federal Works Agency, left Medford last night after two days here to inspect local projects which receive funds under the Lanham Act. These include the Medford Nursery school, which is a part of the Medford school system and supervised by Superintendent E. H. Hedrick, the Outpost and the MarkKade, recreation centers for servicemen supervised by the Jackson County Recreation committee.

Miss Everetts, formerly state supervisor under the Works Progress Administration, has visited Medford before in that capacity.

Pope to Broadcast Appeal for Peace

On the Italo-Swiss Frontier. Dec. 10.—(U.P.) Pope Pius XII will broadcast a peace plea to the world on Christmas Eve, an official Vatican announcement said today. No details on the Pontiff's peace appeal were disclosed, but the Vatican announcement said he would deliver his world-wide broadcast during the celebration of the traditional midnight mass in the private chapel adjoining the Papal apartments.

Less Censorship Urged by Price

Washington, Dec. 10.—(U.P.) Director Byron Price of the Office of Censorship today called on newspaper and radio editors to relax self-imposed restrictions and give the public more news. "There is abundant evidence," he said in a statement, "that as a result of confusion about the operation of voluntary censorship, newspapers and radio stations are suppressing news for no valid reason."

SN'AK ENVOY DIES

(By United Press)
Kaname Wakasugi, former Japanese minister to Washington who was described as taking "an active role" in the Kurusu-Nomura "negotiations" while the attack on Pearl Harbor was shaping up, died today of gall bladder trouble, a Tokyo broadcast reported.
