Wounded Over Rabaul

When a Jap Zero bullet shattered his knee during an air battle over Rabaul, Aviation Gunners Mate Kenneth Bratton applied a tourniquet to his leg and maintained consciousness until his plane returned to the aircraft carrier Saratoga. Lt. Julie Bescoe, former University of Southern California All-American gridder, helps the wounded gunner from his plane's turret. Official U. S. Navy photo.

FIREMEN HOSTS FOR YULE PARTY

Medford firemen and their families met at the fire hall last night for the annual firemen's Christmas party with dinner, program, and tree for the children. Twenty-eight adults and 13 youngsters attended the affair.

Fire Chief Roy Elliott acted as toastmaster, introducing Assistant Fire Chief Ed Canoose who spoke on the civilian defense program and equipment provided in this area. Le Roy Williams of the fire department, chairman of the entertainment committee, presented three boys. Lloyd Heath, Robert Lee Fisher and Roger Hogstrom, who played several accordion pieces. Following the program, gifts were distributed to the children.

Guests included Mrs. F. A. Johnston of Gridley, Kansas, a sister of Chief Elliott; Clyde Deatherage, Mr. and Mrs. Fisher and Mrs. Hogstrom, parents of the young accordion players; Mrs. Gordon Barker, wife of

Ban Advertising For Nine Days to Conserve Paper

Chicago, Dec. 22—(U.P.)—The Chicago Daily News announced today that nearly all advertising will be omitted from the paper between tomorrow and Jan. 3, because of the shortage of newsprint.

Only death and legal notices, church bulletins, and amusement announcements will be printed during that period, the newspaper announced.

During the time which it will appear without the bulk of its advertising, "the Daily News will appear as usual with all its editorial features and news section unabridged," the announcement said.

Sgt. Barker formerly with the fire department and now serving in the armed forces in Italy; and Mr. and Mrs. John Russell. Mr. Russell is home on leave from his station with the navy Seabees, and is a former volunteer fireman.

FINTON TO ENTER PLEA IN CRUELTY

Earl Finton, Prospect district millworker, charged with cruelty to a child not his own, retained Attorney George A. Coddington as counsel yesterday, and will enter a plea in justice court this afternoon, a second delay in pleading being granted yesterday.

Attorney Coddington and District Attorney Neilson will confer on what procedure will be taken in the court. The justice court has no jurisdiction, and the case will either be referred to the grand jury or certified to the juvenile court. The boy involved is the six-year-old nephew of Finton's wife, who has been living with them, and attending the Prospect school.

The case was investigated by County Juvenile Officer Robert M. Elder, who found the boy had been severely beaten.
