

DOES BIT
Kansas City, Kas.—(U.P.)—Kansas City's youngest Red Cross volunteer war worker is 5-year-old Judy Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Jones. The child accompanies her mother to the Red Cross headquarters and helps by sealing envelopes and grouping label tabs.

DOUBLE-ENTENDRE
Fort Riley, Kas.—(U.P.)—A woman dashed into the library at the Post Service club here recently and breathlessly inquired,

"Can you tell me if the old battle-axe as came in yet?" Pvt. Dorothy Cutting, the War librarian, was a little confused as to whom the woman was referring. Her mind reviewed many faces around the post which fitted the visitor's description until the woman smiled and explained, "I'm referring to 'The Old Battle-Axe,' by Saxxay-Holding—it's a book."

DAWN AND EVE
Toledo, Ohio.—(U.P.)—The sun never sets on the family of Mr.

and Mrs. Dale Miller, whose two daughters, nine and seven, mark time off with their names—Dawn and Eve. The Millers say that to keep things simple, Eve goes to bed with Dawn, and Dawn gets up with Eve. But the neighbors report that it's just a little confusing to hear Mrs. Miller say, "Dawn is here, it's time for dinner."

OUTPUT 4 1/2 BILLION
Cleveland, Ohio.—(U.P.)—Producing a record volume of four and a half billion dollars in war work since Pearl Harbor, Cleveland today ranks seventh among major American cities in vital production. Cleveland, tops in the nation as a producer of steel plates, forgings and machine tools, trails only Detroit, Chicago, Los Angeles, Newark-Jersey City, New York and Philadelphia in that order.
