Mrs. Olive Laing
To Take Training
For Aerial Wacs

Mrs. Olive Laing left Friday morning for Portland from where she goes to Ft. Des Moines, Ia., for training in the Air Wacs.
Mrs. Laing's husband is a flight officer in the air corps and is at present serving as instructor in a glider school in St. Mary's.
Mrs. Laing enlisted in the Women's Army corps through the Klamath Falls recruiting station, having recently spent considerable time there with her mother.

The Laings lived here for many years, Mr. Laing having worked with the California-Oregon Power company and with the Foster-Kleiser company, and both have many friends in the district. Flight Officer Laing has been in the army about three years.

PICK JAMISON AS HEAD OF SALVAGE WORK IN COUNTY

Appointment of Wayne Jamison as chairman of the Jackson county salvage committee was announced today by Frank Hull, coordinator of the county civilian defense council.

Jamison succeeds N. H. Zach-arist, who recently resigned the county salvage post due to the pressure of other business and civil matters.

In announcing the appointment, Hull also disclosed that plans are now being formulated by the new county chairman, in cooperation with the Medford Chamber of Commerce, to set up continuous collection facilities for both waste paper and tin cans in the Medford area.

Lack of storage facilities has prevented the organization of such a program in the past but this bottleneck has now been broken, clearing the way for much-needed collection programs, the coordinator said.

During the last two days Jamison has been laying the groundwork for a tin can drive to be staged in the Medford area in the immediate future. Friday he conferred with G. E. Greene, chairman of the Ashland salvage committee, and was assured that Ashland will arrange a tin drive to coincide with Medford's as soon as definite dates for the collection can be assured. With the cooperation of the two cities and all suburban communities of the county it is expected that at least one full carload of cans may be collected and shipped to the delinquent plant at South San Francisco.

Definite announcements as to dates and collection procedures for both paper and cans will be forthcoming soon, Jamison reported. Meanwhile, all residents of the city and county are urged to continue saving all tin cans and waste paper for the war effort. Cans should be properly prepared—washed, labels removed, tops and bottoms cut out and the cans flattened firmly by stepping on them full weight.

Newspapers, magazines and cardboard cartons should be segregated and tied securely in bundles for easy handling. Waste basket paper is not being asked for in Oregon due to lack of baling facilities.

Roderick Finney, executive secretary of the State Salvage Committee, Portland, was a visitor in Medford and Ashland Thursday and Friday of this week, assisting local salvage officials in organizing summer collection plans.

STATE FAIR VETOED FOR CURRENT SEASON

Salem, June 24—There will be no state fair in Oregon this year, E. L. Peterson, state agricultural department director, announced here Friday.

Peterson said the state board of agriculture, at a meeting here this week, reached the conclusion that it was not justified in authorizing a fair under present conditions.
