RAY EQUITY CASE SET FOR JULY 12 BY JUDGE HANNA

The equity case of Charles R. Ray and others versus his brother, Frank H. Ray, others and the Gold Ray Realty and Gold Ray Investment companies has been set for July 12 before Circuit Judge H. K. Hanna, Jessie Maston, circuit court reporter, has been appointed referee.

The plaintiffs, Charles R. Ray, Dorothy Ray, Mabel R. Ray and Ada Ruth Roberts, are suing for the appointment of a receiver for the two companies, managed by Frank H. Ray; the cancellation of his loans to the two companies, alleged in the complaint to total approximately $41,000, and $50,000 damages they allege occurred through the improper management of the two companies by Frank H. Ray.

The plaintiffs, minority stockholders in the two companies, claim that an audit of the books by A. Crin Schenck showed that income of the companies during the past 18 years was some $325,000 and that no dividends had been paid to the minority group. Judge Hanna now has under advisement a motion of George M. Roberts, attorney for the defendants, to strike out portions of the amended complaint of the plaintiffs. Defendants in the case are Frank H. Ray, Marie F. Ray, Octavia B. Waddell and the two companies.

H. M. Anthoin of San Francisco is counsel for the plaintiffs.

YANK TANK FORCE NEARING LEGHORN

Rome, June 29—(U.P.)—American armored forces crashed through bitter German resistance along the Italian west coast highway and drove forward more than seven miles to within 25 miles of Livorno (Leghorn), a communique reported today.

Other Allied columns were on the march northward along a broad front stretching more than 100 miles inland shelling and bayoneting fanatical German rear guards from their makeshift defenses below Siena and in the hills around Perugia. Allied headquarters revealed that the number of prisoners captured since the beginning of the offensive on May 11 has swelled to more than 32,000 men, of whom 25,000 were taken by the 5th army. Everywhere the Nazis were battling desperately to delay the march on their Pisa Florence-Rimini line, now only 35 to 55 miles beyond the advancing Allied columns, but front dispatches indicated they were beginning to crack under the sustained fury of the 5th and 8th army drive.

DOUBLE HOLIDAY IN SOME STORES

A majority of the business places in Medford plan on closing July 3, Monday, as well as for the Fourth of July, according to a poll conducted by the Chamber of Commerce. Merchants and others stated that in consideration of employees, their establishments would close Monday, thereby permitting employees to add both Monday and Tuesday to the regular week-end time off from business. Similar action was taken last Memorial Day.

SCHOOL BUDGET LISTS $320,721 TOTAL FOR YEAR

The city school budget for 1944-45, as prepared by the budget committee at a meeting Tuesday, calls for a total of $320,721 for all purposes, with operating costs listed at $299,991 and bond principal and interest payments set at $20,730, the city school superintendent's office disclosed today. Public hearing on the budget will be held July 20 at 8 p. m. in the city school superintendent's office.

Occasioned wholly by an approximate 10 per cent increase in salaries of teachers and janitors, operating costs are $16,716 higher than last year. But, it was pointed out, excess cash on hand of $7,487.75 over last year makes the amount necessary to be levied by tax $615.50 less than last year. The $16,716 operating cost is a decrease from last year of $10,008.75 in the amount to be raised for bond principal and interest.

It was brought out at the meeting that the last of the bond issue voted in 1925 for erection of the building which is now the junior high school was paid during the past year. Total bonded indebtedness of the school district is now $124,000.

Budget committee was composed of Seth M. Bullis, chairman; O. O. Alenderfer, George Frey, Charles Clay and John C. Mann. The school board is composed of Eugene Thorndike, chairman; Dr. R. E. Green, M. B. Jarmin, N. H. Franklin and John P. Moffat.

TALENT CHILDREN URGED TO HELP IN JUNIOR JEEP SHOP

Talent, June 29—Talent Junior Red Cross "Jeep Shop" opened Monday at 9 a. m. in the high school basement and set its schedule as follows: Monday, Wednesday and Friday, 9 to 12 and 1 to 3.

Boys and girls of grade and high school age are welcome and urged to volunteer their time to produce as many recreational articles for the wounded service men as possible this summer. Purpose of the Talent "Jeep Shop" will be to work on hospital projects, Christmas decorations for men overseas, and toys for refugee children.

"Jeeps" are asked to bring tin cans and odd jars for vases for flowers for the painting project; Christmas cards, colored paper, ribbon, tinsels and used envelopes for the Christmas project; also, magazines, jokes and puzzles for the hospital books. The girls are making stuffed animal toys for homeless children and can use scraps of cotton prints, snippings and thread.

Anyone in the neighborhood having any of these articles to volunteer for use in the "Jeep Shop" should contact Mrs. B. R. Walsh, captain of the shop, or any member of the committee. "Everything we are making is needed at once by our wounded men and refugee children; it is an important and worthwhile project and every child should be glad to have a chance to take part in it," Mrs. Walsh declared.

Would Relieve Kin Of Contributing to Support of Insane

Salem, Ore., June 29—(U.P.)—Repeal of the law that requires relatives of inmates of state hospitals to pay for their support will be sought at the next session of the legislature Secretary of State Robert S. Farrell Jr. has reported to the board of control.

The law is wrong in principle and has worked hardship on many who have relatives in the hospitals, Farrell said. The assessment has been waived only where relatives are financially unable to pay.

Between $20,000 and $25,000 per month is obtained in this manner with the monthly assessment being $25 per patient. Other members of the board—Gov. Earl Snell and State Treasurer Leslie M. Scott—had no comment on the proposal.

SPIRITS DASHED
Helena, Mont., June 29—(U.P.)—Hopes of residents of Butte, Dillon, Drummond, Whitehall and Lima, Mont., for some spirits with which they could celebrate the Fourth of July were dashed today when a truck carrying 180 cases of liquor to the five towns turned over on Boulder hill, near here—and all the liquor was destroyed.

FIRE PRECAUTION IS URGED ON ALL FOREST VISITORS

Persons contemplating trips into the forested areas near Medford over this coming week-end and the July Fourth holiday were cautioned today to use all precaution against setting forest fires. The warning was issued by John E. Gribble, 139 Kenwood, member of the county committee on "Keep Oregon Green" of which Robert Dodge of Ashland is chairman.

Each group entering the woods to picnic, camp or fish should carry a shovel, axe and bucket. Mr. Gribble pointed out, to be used in case of fire. He also called attention to the rules set forth by members of the Keep Oregon Green committee for use of travelers in forested areas. These include the caution to be sure matches are completely out by breaking them in two, and extinguishing of cigarettes, cigar and pipe sparks in the ash trays of cars instead of throwing them from the window of cars, either moving or standing.

Camp Fire Rules
Regarding camp fires the rules are that the builder should dig down to bare, damp soil before building the fire, and should remove all inflammable material from the fire circle. Fires should never be left burning and the procedure in putting them out is to pour water or to pack earth over the fire, stirring the coals alive and that the fire is completely dead.

The committee further asks that persons refrain from smoking in dry areas. Stressing the value of the forested sections and streams as a basis of recreation, Mr. Gribble recalled a little jingle which he wrote many years ago when he had charge of timber sales in the Klamath area for the forest service. The little poem, reprinted now in Elson Basic reader, book five, in use in Medford schools, is in a chapter on "How a Boy Scout Builds a Camp Fire" and relates:

"For want of a forest the stream went dry.
For want of a stream the fish all die.
For want of a fish the fishermen sigh.
All caused by a fire when the brush was dry."
