Smokers, Campers Cause Many Fires
Kiwanis Club Told

A. D. McReynolds, district fire warden, told the district fire wardens of the Kiwanis club in the Hotel Holland Wednesday that, while 40 per cent of the fires in forested areas are started by lightning, carelessness of smokers and campers was responsible for a goodly number of conflagrations every year.

McReynolds said that the state forest patrol in this district patrolled a million and a quarter acres in Jackson and Josephine counties, with 100 men employed. He said there were 187 fires last year, greatest number in 10 years, but that only 461 acres were burned. So far this season, he said, 93 fires have been reported.

Other guests at the meeting were Ken Houts of Seattle, Leslie S. Kofod of Reno Nev., Theodore B. Jensen of the West Seattle Kiwanis club, Albert L. James of Medford and Luella Lewis of Medford, guest pianist.

SURPLUS PLANES OF MANY TYPES OFFERED PUBLIC

Washington, July 28.—(U.P.)—The Reconstruction Finance Corporation has started the job of selling approximately $60,000,000 worth of surplus army and navy aircraft, including trainers, cargo carriers, transports, bombers, and gliders.

The smaller craft will be sold on bid, and many of the larger ships through negotiations or at a ceiling price yet to be established. Although many of the larger ships are air-worthy, many are damaged to varying degrees. Some can be repaired but have been declared surplus to make room for more modern types by the services.

The RFC has on hand 5,129 army and navy planes which it intends to sell as soon as possible. Their original cost was $60,167,997. The agency has already disposed of 2,643 planes for the Defense Plant Corporation, an RFC subsidiary. Their value when new was $7,850,749. They brought in $4,336,295.

The RFC has an additional 2,139 of its subsidiary's planes to sell. Most are of the smaller training variety and have been bringing prices considered good. They are Piper Cubs and Taylor-Crafts for the most part.

OPA Cites Seven Meat Sellers On Rule Violations

Seven Jackson County establishments retailing meat have been requested by the price department of the local war price and rationing board to make voluntary contributions to the United States treasury because of violations of price regulations, it was stated today. The price department recently completed a meat survey covering 35 stores and eleven were found to be in violation of OPA regulations on either posting or price. The seven stores had violated price regulations prior to the last survey, it was stated.

Markets meet grade and price the meat according to the chart which is on display in their store, the local OPA price department states.
