

NEW ANDY HARDY HIT OPENS WITH SPARKLING CAST

Mickey Rooney Tops Stars;
"Imposter" Heads Fine
Twin Bill at Rialto.

Heralded as the best in the popular Andy Hardy series, "Andy Hardy's Blonde Trouble" opens today for a three-day run at the Craterian theater. In this sparkling new laugh hit Andy is in college and in serious heart trouble with three dazzling and glamorous blondes making leap-year passes at the love-sick youngster.

Mickey Rooney, of course, plays his usual role as Andy with the young star at his best. Others in the cast are Lewis Stone, famous character actor and long time favorite, Sara Haden, Bonita Granville and Herbert Marshall.

One of the finest bills to come to the Rialto screen for many weeks will open today at the west side playhouse. "The Imposter," starring Jean Gabin, heads the twin features. This dramatic picture is claimed by critics to be one of the year's best pictures. The companion screen hit is "Girl From Monterey."

FRANCES FARMER TO GET ANOTHER ROLE IN MOVIES

Hollywood, July 29—(U.P.)—Producer Jack Schwarz said tonight he was holding the leading dramatic role in the film "Enchanted Forest" for Frances Farmer.

"I am delaying production for a month so that if Miss Farmer is able to take the role, it will be ready for her," Schwarz said. He added that if the actress, released from a mental hospital three weeks ago as cured, was still in need of rest, he would give her the leading role in his next production.

Antioch, Cal., July 29—(U.P.)—Straw-haired Frances Farmer, the beautiful and brilliant former Hollywood star, was on her way back to Nevada tonight, riding in an old Ford with her father and uncle.

She left with the blessing of the Antioch police department which had held her in jail as a moneyless, hitch-hiking vagrant. Smiling and cheerful, still wearing the blue jeans and heavy work shirt she had on when she was taken in custody two days ago, Miss Farmer started the 200-mile return trip over the same route she had traveled alone and without funds earlier this week.

The ride back to Yerington, Nev., a small town some 100 miles south of Reno, may be the first leg on her comeback trip to fame and fortune as a film star. A dramatic part in a movie, "The Enchanted Forest," may still be waiting for her, despite her present escapade.

Miss Farmer presumably had been ready for a movie comeback three weeks ago when she was released from a Washington state mental hospital and pronounced fully recovered from a mental illness.

Closing time for Sunday Too Late to Classify 5:30 Saturday afternoon—Please remember.

TULE LAKE JAPS IN FAKE STRIKE

Newell, Cal., July 29—(U.P.)—The War Relocation Authority today labeled as a "phony" the hunger strike of 14 Japanese-Americans in the isolation area of the Tule Lake segregation center, revealing that a considerable amount of food had been left in the stockade before the men started their demonstration July 19.

The amount of food left in the area was too great to have been entirely consumed by these men, the WRA said.

Between June 29 and July 19 the following food was delivered to the isolation area: 115 pounds of fish and 300 pounds of rice, as well as regular quantities of meat, eggs, bread, vegetables and milk, the WRA announced.

U. S. exports during the first three months of 1944 were valued at $3,437,000,000, an increase of 41 per cent over the same period of 1943.
