

CHEST CAMPAIGN WILL OPEN HERE ON OCTOBER 9TH

Organizational Meeting September 21; Total Quota Reduced To $37,500

Monday, Oct. 9, has been set by the directors of the Medford Community Chest as opening date for the 1944 fund-raising campaign. It was announced Saturday by A. M. Cannon, president of the Chest. Pre-campaign advertising and informational work, and final organization of solicitors, are planned to be under way by October 2.

An initial organizational meeting of the Chest membership, beneficiary agencies and cooperating clubs and individuals, is set for 4 p. m., Thursday, Sept. 21, at the local Chamber of Commerce office. It was further announced. The meeting will be open to the public and interested citizens as well as representatives of affected groups, are especially urged to attend, it was further emphasized.

Quota $37,500
As in the past, the Medford Chest campaign will be conducted jointly with the National War Fund, which is the largest single participant in Chest revenues. Combined quota for local and national agencies to be raised in the coming Medford campaign, has been set by the directors at approximately $37,500, according to Cannon. Last year's campaign netted roughly $43,000. The War Chest quota has been the brunt of the reduction, which the Chest heads felt was prudent in view of reduced local business activity resultant on reduction in Camp White personnel.

Exact apportionment of anticipated funds among the various Chest agencies and War Fund is now under consideration by the Chest's budget committee, headed by Otto Frohnmayer. Member agencies of the local Community Chest are Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Salvation Army, Girls' Community club, Public Health association, Recreation association and the newly organized Medford Y.M.C.A. Principal beneficiaries of the War Fund are U.S.O., War Prisoners Aid, Refugee Relief, Committee for Care of European Children, and Danish, Czechoslovak, French, Italian, Norwegian, Belgian, British, Luxembourg, Greek, Philippine, Polish, Dutch, Russian, Lithuanian and Yugoslav War Relief societies, and United China Relief. State agencies including Boys and Girls Aid society, Catholic Charities, Waverley Baby Home, Oregon Mental Hygiene and Oregon Protective societies, and various mothers' and children's homes also participate in war funds.

Directors Listed
Directors of the Chest in addition to Cannon and Frohnmayer, are Mrs. Edith Braley, A. S. Cummins, Frank P. Farrell, Mrs. Wm. H. Fluhrer, Diamond Flynn, Henry Herman, Dwight Houghton, E. E. Koford, Mrs. William McAllister, Larry Schade, Wm. Von der Hellen and C. E. Hedberg.

Joe E. Early is Jackson county chairman for the National War Fund, of which Charles Sprague is state president.

Object of the Chest is to reduce the number of local fund-raising campaigns, review agency budgets and provide for financing of worthy welfare, civic, patriotic and benevolent organizations while promoting cooperation and efficiency in such work. Full support of a large group of citizens is needed to complete the coming campaign successfully and attendance at the coming organizational meeting is important. Cannon emphasized. The Chest has no paid professional staff and its work is all on a volunteer basis.

Seventy-three per cent of all workers in war plants depend on automobiles to get to work.

AREA MEETINGS SHOW INTEREST IN DAIRY CO-OP

District meetings held last week in connection with the proposal to organize a dairy cooperative in Jackson county showed increasing interest in the project, according to spokesmen of the committee sponsoring the movement.

A meeting for the Ashland and Valleyview districts was held in the Bellview Grange hall Tuesday evening with a large group of dairymen present. All were reported strongly in favor of a cooperative. It was reported that the dairy cow survey is progressing well in the two sections. Bob Lytle and Victor York were appointed on the sub-committee for southern Jackson county.

On Wednesday evening a meeting was held for the Eagle Point district, in Eagle Point Grange hall. It was brought out that the cow survey is nearly complete in this district, with more cows signed for than in any other district of the county. Ed Colpitts and Ed Russell were appointed on the sub-committee for Eagle Point district.

The northern Jackson county district meeting was held Thursday evening at Gold Hill Grange hall. Practically all dairymen in this area have signed up, it was reported. In this district considerable favor has been shown for a joint dairy cooperative including Jackson and Josephine counties. W. G. Howes and W. L. Dresbach were named on the sub-committee for northern Jackson county.

A meeting for Phoenix, Talent and east Medford districts will be held in the Phoenix Grange hall Wednesday, September 20, at 8:30 p. m.

On Thursday, September 21, at 8:30 p. m. there will be a meeting in the Jacksonville Grange hall for the Jacksonville and Griffin Creek districts.

Spokesmen for the committee said Saturday that the districts are all backing the dairy cow survey. The committee urged that everyone interested in formation of a dairy cooperative attend the meetings, asserting that much information of value to dairymen is being provided regardless of where they are now selling their dairy products.

Young Paralytic Will Be Treated In Berry School

Thirteen-year-old Craig Danielson of 223 East Ninth street has been enrolled at the Milton H. Berry school for paralysis correction in Portland and will leave soon to begin his treatment. Craig is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Danielson and will attend Washington school until leaving for Portland.

Afflicted in babyhood with paralysis of an undetermined nature, Craig is unable to walk in any manner. However, it is hoped that he will be taking steps soon with the aid of special braces and crutches. The boy and his mother spent nearly a month in Portland this summer and the braces and crutches were designed and are being made now to his measurements.

While at the Portland school Craig's physical rehabilitation program will be under the supervision of Mrs. Marion H. Devereaux, managing director of the Portland division of the Berry organization which has schools located in cities throughout the country. Mrs. Danielson states that she and Mr. Danielson have been investigating the Portland school and its type of treatment for several years and that reports of cures have encouraged them to undertake the treatment for Craig.

Whistles to Signal V-Day; Observance Plan Is Drawn

In accordance with the wishes of a majority of Medford's merchants, the merchants' committee of the Jackson County Chamber of Commerce has prepared the following plan for signaling the victory word and for observance of the day:

The city fire siren will sound a continuous 3 to 5 minute blast, also the Medford Corporation and Timber Products whistles will blow, upon receipt of word of Germany's surrender.

If the flash comes after 5 p. m., Monday through Friday, stores will close immediately and remain closed the following day.

If before 5 p. m., Monday through Friday, stores will close immediately and open the following morning as usual.

If after evening closing hours, stores will remain closed the following day.

If the flash comes at any time Saturday, stores will close immediately and reopen as usual Monday morning.

If Sunday morning, stores will open Monday morning as usual; if Sunday afternoon, stores will remain closed Monday.

A union church service will be held at 7:30 p. m. in the Church of the Nazarene on V-day, or the day following, if the word comes after 7:30 p. m., according to the Rev. Fred M. Weatherford, president of the Ministerial association. All churches have been requested to stay open for prayer during V-day.

The following proclamation concerning the victory observance was issued Saturday by C. A. Meeker, mayor of Medford:

Proclamation

It is with rejoicing that we

LEATHA M'CORKLE PASSES, AGED 75

Leatha Vinnie McCorkle, 75, passed away at her home, 723 West Jackson street, early Saturday after a prolonged illness. Mrs. McCorkle was born at Spring Valley, Oregon, April 20, 1869. Leatha Hale was united in marriage to Frank E. McCorkle at Heppner, Oregon, on September 20, 1887. Mr. McCorkle passed away in 1933.

She resided in Wasco county, Oregon, for 44 years, and also made her home in Grants Pass for five years.

Besides a host of friends, she is survived by two daughters and one son, Pearl Rhoads, of Maupin, Oregon; Cecelia McCorkle of Medford, who has been an English instructor at the Junior high for several years, and Alfred A. McCorkle of Twin Falls, Idaho.

Remains will be transferred to The Dalles, Ore., this evening, and funeral services will be held at Tygh Valley, Oregon, Tuesday at 2 p. m. Peril Funeral Home is in charge of the arrangements.

MORE ELKS YULE BOXES TOMORROW

The demand for Christmas shipping boxes to service men overseas has far exceeded the expectation of the local Elks lodge according to an announcement made by Dr. August Glutsch, chairman of the committee.

He stated further that it was not a question of getting the members to make the boxes but a question of getting the material which is being donated by the Timber Products and the SOS when they can take a little time out to prepare the lumber. Approximately 500 boxes have been made so far and most of these have been given out.

Anyone desiring boxes will please apply at the secretary's
