

CHEST CAMPAIGN STARTS ON HOUSE TO HOUSE BASIS

Volunteers Asked For Residential Area Canvas This Week

With downtown solicitation swinging into the last lap, Community Chest campaign volunteer leaders are now directing attention to organization of the necessary house-to-house canvass of residential neighborhoods. Object of the campaign is to see that every adult resident of the city and adjacent areas is given an opportunity to contribute by "face-to-face" contact. Officials state that they believe about three-fourths of the city's potential contributors are reached at places of employment, but experience has shown that many generous chest members are not so located and await calls at their homes.

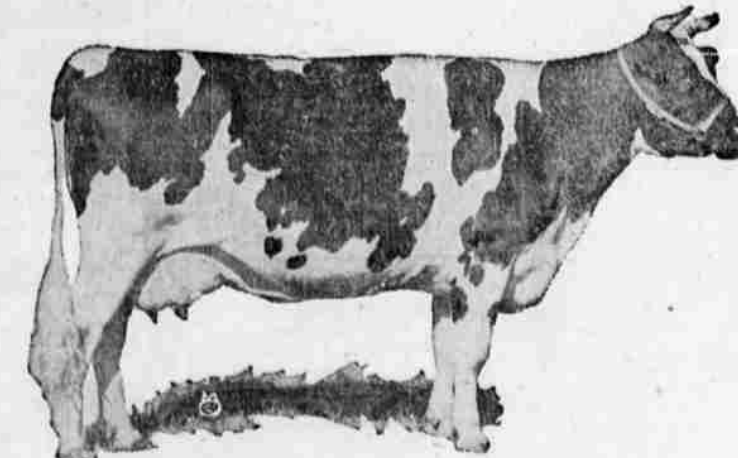

While some duplication as between places of business and residences will occur, contributors are reminded that the familiar "We Shared" sticker in the window will be evidence of a prior solicitation, and will save a volunteer worker another call.

"Residential solicitation traditionally is a job for women volunteer solicitors and an estimated 40 to 50 will be needed to handle Medford neighborhoods this year." A. M. Cannon, Community Chest president, states. "The response to our first calls for help has been most gratifying. We expect to keep asking people for help until we have responsibility assigned to someone for every street and block in town," Cannon said. Those willing to take part in this work during the coming week are asked to phone Mr. Cannon at 2241 West Main street, phone 5588.

Volunteers already secured included Mrs. Ernest Scott, Mrs. Mark Goldy, Mrs. Gertrude Moffet, Mrs. O. H. Bengtson, Mrs. Darrell Huson, Mrs. Harry Holmes, Mrs. Ray Harrison, Mrs. Moore Hamilton, Mrs. Ruth Parker and Mrs. Bernice Alford.

Evergreen Studio Operator Studies Glamor Technique

Mrs. Ruth Devon of the Evergreen Studio here recently completed a training tour in Hollywood, studying methods of lighting and other effects used by motion picture photographers in putting glamor and action into their still photos. Amos Carr, famous photographer of the film capital, was the instructor.

The training included photographing many screen and radio stars by Mrs. Devon.

Mrs. Devon's training course included photographing many screen and radio stars, among them Jane Powell, Kenny Baker, J. O'Farrell McDonald, Jimmy Durante, Donald Woods, Dale Evans and Constance Moore, and also a demonstration in Hollywood photographic makeup.
