

BRICKER LAUDS OREGON NOMINEES IN ADDRESS HERE

State Leading Way Choosing Able Men For Congress, Candidate States

Republican Vice-Presidential Candidate John W. Bricker, speaking here Friday evening from the rear platform of his special train, declared himself delighted with the reception accorded his party in Oregon. Approximately 1,500 people gathered at the depot to see and hear the Ohio governor and the many favorable comments heard as the train departed indicated both the candidate and Mrs. Bricker, whom he introduced at the outset, had made a very favorable impression.

Bricker complimented Oregon on its high type of representation in congress, asserting that "there will be many important adjustments to be made following the war and these can only come through sincere, honest adjustment by those in positions of leadership. This state is pointing the way in this respect. You have developed leaders in congress. Your senator (Cordon) has had experience and you have nominated a second able man (Wayne Morse) along with him. Your congressman from this district (Harris Ellsworth) has not only had experience in congress but has made it his business to study the people of other countries, our allies, and has personally contacted them to better qualify himself to serve you. And when Tom Dewey becomes president of the United States he will need the services of Senators Cordon and Morse and Congressman Ellsworth to help him in organizing the majority of the congress next year."

Renaissance Cited
Referring to the republican Renaissance, Bricker said "When I became governor of Ohio there were eight republican governors. Five of them attended the first conference of governors to which I went and we hardly dared open our mouths. But in six years we have gained until we have 26 republican governors—and in those 26 states two-thirds of the people of the United States live and three-quarters of the industry exists. It only takes 20 of those states—if you will let us pick the right ones—to elect a republican president. I think we already have them picked, but I also think we are going to get all 26 of them."

"New leadership is necessary to keep a nation strong and virile. The problems which are ever-changing demand new leadership. The 26 governors have re-established the republican party in the minds of the people. Your Governor Snell has done a good job in this respect and he holds the confidence and respect of governors of both parties. In fact, if the Democratic governors were free to speak their real convictions about half of them would be in the republican party this year. Congressman Ellsworth and

Senator Cordon can tell you that in important issues dealing with fundamental principles of our government. Democratic senators and congressmen are coming over to the Republicans to save the representative system of government. Not only are they coming over, but bringing with them millions of loyal, patriotic Democrats to vote the Republican ticket this year.

Democrats Switch
"Everywhere and at every meeting, Democrats come to us and say, 'We are joining the Republicans. We have been lifelong Democrats. We believe in the liberal system of government we have been fighting for for generations, but we cannot stand the New Deal. We are coming to your side. You are fighting the battle of liberal government.'"

"When the Ickes, the Hopkinses, the Frankfurters, the Rosenmans and the Wallaces took over the old Democratic party they threw away the platform of economy within two or three months. The only economy they put into effect was the economy by which veterans of our wars suffered. They took $450,000,000 away from them."

"There is a great need today for a change in Washington. A house cleaning is imminent. There is nothing today that would so inspire American business, that would so encourage American labor, that would so thrill the men that are fighting for America, as a Republican victory this fall."

Party Leaders Aboard
A number of prominent state and southern Oregon party leaders had boarded the special at points further north to confer with the Bricker party during the balance of the run through the state. They included Senator Cordon and Representative and Mrs. Ellsworth, Mr. and Mrs. Niel Allen and Marshall Cornett and from Jackson county, Mrs. Bertha Coy Ross, Mrs. C. Q. d'Albini, Ralph E. Koozer and Frank VanDyke.

Senator Cordon continued on to Ashland with the special and returned here for an informal reception later. Representative and Mrs. Ellsworth returned to Roseburg on the northbound train at 7 o'clock.

How to Pick Ducks Easy As Chickens

Most hunters will admit that picking a wild duck is hard work. Two Great Falls, Mont., newspaper men found an "easy way to do the job in only eight minutes per bird," according to a clipping furnished by Claude Holmes, General Petroleum distributor in Medford. The men merely boiled water and added a "commercial automobile wash," such as Sovasuds Car Wash, in the proportion of six ounces of wash to two gallons of water. They dipped the duck in the mixture and the preparation penetrated the oily covering of feathers. "Thereupon," quoting the Great Falls men, "the ducks pick just like chickens."

Swedish Runners Must Stay Home

Stockholm, Oct. 13 (U.P.)—Swedish running stars Gunder Hagg and Arne Andersson, who were to have left next week for a tour of United States cities, will be able to make the trip because of "last-minute circumstances," the American legation announced today.

BIG CAMP DANCE TO DRAW THROUG

Camp White—With the recent addition of a training school for military police at Camp White, Special Service officials are looking forward to a full house when Frankie Masters and his band play for the post's big dance at the Camp White Sports Arena Monday night.

The dance starts at 8 and will continue until midnight.

Chartered busses, providing free transportation for girls who are not going to the Arena in private automobiles, will leave Riverside USO at 7:30 p. m. USO officials state there has been a heavy run on bus reservations all week.

Frankie Masters and his orchestra are due some time tomorrow from an engagement in Portland. The band, which recently edged out Tommy Dorsey and Sammy Kaye for No. 1 honors on a network program, features such radio and stage stars as Phyllis Myles, Eddie Williams, Frank Cook, harmonica playing comedian, and Marty Kay, Pat and Jo, a quartette recently brought into the limelight by Masters.

The dance is open to enlisted men and women of Camp White and girls from the Rogue River valley.

A Word To the Ladies —

A HOUSE-TO-HOUSE canvas is planned this week so that ALL may have the opportunity of having a share in the Medford Community Chest and National War Fund. To Medford housewives we request the courteous reception of the Chest solicitors and ask you to give if you can, even though your family may be represented in a contribution made down town. We also need solicitors for every residential block. If YOU can devote but a little of your time to this important job of reaching your neighbors please phone 5588—the Community Chest headquarters, Jackson County Chamber of Commerce building. Your help will be appreciated—and important to the success of this vitally necessary campaign.

Prisoner of War!

Help rescue him! They caught Jimmie stealing. But the real thief was Hitler.

The war broke up Jimmie's home. Older folks had less and less time for his problems. He found companionship... on the street. Now he's a prisoner... prisoner of war who needs our help!

Social agencies in this city are fighting juvenile delinquency... straightening out bewildered youngsters who might otherwise become criminals. You can help keep boys like Jimmie from getting into trouble by subscribing now to your local community war fund.

Part of your gift will go, through the National War Fund, to support the U.S.O., to send U.S.O. Camp Shows to our boys overseas, to provide games, music, entertainment for war prisoners, to help many United Nations refugees.

So give now, as generously as you can. More than you gave last year, if possible.

Our youngsters here at home and other victims of the war need us desperately and so do our soldiers. We can't let them down now!
