Camp White Dance Enjoyed by Throng Of GIs and Girls

Camp White, Oct. 17—Post mortems on last night's formal autumn dance — Frankie Master's bandsmen, who get around and should know, were lavish in their praise of Rogue River valley girls, agreeing that they had seen more pretty girls at last night's dance than in many a moon—the autograph kids were out in force, and it was a constant parade to the bandstand.

As usual the Ashland and Riverside USO's and the Mar-Kade did a splendid job of providing girls, all of whom were looking too, too sweet in their trim formals—young Eddie Williams, Masters' vocalist, who has just turned 17, had the younger set dreamy eyed.

Girls, who expected to see a handful of soldiers, were surprised at the deluge of GI's—Masters expressing delight at the nice looking crowd—and the crowd returning the sentiment by a constant applause for the band, which will soon make a movie short in Hollywood.

Flight of Cranes Assure Japs All Well at Formosa

By United Press

The Japanese people, Radio Berlin suggested today, received their first assurance that everything was going well at Formosa from a flight of cranes over the Imperial palace in Tokyo.

The cranes, considered a good luck omen in Japan, flew over the palace just as the "great victory" of Formosa was being announced, Berlin said, adding that all Tokyo took the flight as a sign of good luck in the next stage of the battle.

P. S.—The "great victory" of Formosa cost Japan almost 900 planes and the loss of Formosa's three main air bases.

Artificial Harbors Helped Landings On Normandy Beach

London, Oct. 17 — (U.P.) — The greatest seaborne engineering feat in military history took place off the American and British beachheads in Normandy begining five hours after the D-day landings—the erection of seven miles of artificial harbors.

The harbors, containing nearly 600,000 tons of concrete and 50,000 tons of steel, were constructed in England and towed piece by piece across the channel.

Story Bottled

Stories of this tremendous and almost inconceivable feat, which was credited largely with success of the invasion, were released by censorship for the first time today.

The size of the task can be imagined as comparable to building the Mobile, Ala., harbor at New Orleans and then towing it into position. Moreover, these harbors were built under the nose of the enemy.

They were put to use for unloading seagoing vessels along lonely stretches of French beaches where little more than rowboats ever had discharged cargoes before.

The British harbor worked fully but the American harbor, which was laid by Capt. Augustus Clarke of the U. S. navy, was hit by a heavy storm which bypassed the British one.

The storm smashed tops of the concrete caissons, tumbled tons of steel as if they were playthings and turned months of work into a mess in a matter of hours. Capt. Clarke estimated later that the storm had a 10 per cent effect on the harbor.

Churchill Aided

The idea for the harbors was partly that of Prime Minister Winston Churchill, who helped work out the plans in 1942.

They involved building on partly charted shoals, ports where a minimum of 12,000 tons a day could be unloaded for at least 90 days—more than the capacity of all French harbors which might be captured in that time.

The services of 20,000 men were required to build the massive concrete and steel piers.

The whole layout was towed over by tugboats by D-day plus five and included 60 ships, ranging up to the ancient 25,500-ton British battleship Centurion, which were sunk deliberately in lines as block ships.

$60 AT 60 PENSION SAID TOO COSTLY

Sacramento, Oct. 17 —(U.P.)— Charles M. Wollenberg, state director of social welfare, today estimated that the $60 at 60 pension proposition on the Nov. 7 ballot if adopted would cost $720,000,000 in its first year of operation and an "astronomical" amount in future years.
