COL. BEN HARRELL NOW REGIMENTAL C. O. IN FRANCE

With the 7th Army, France—The new commander of the regiment looked tired and hollow-eyed, but it wasn't difficult to discern the pleasure that was his at the action of his "Cotton Balcer" troops in chasing the Krauts all over the rugged terrain of southern France.

The new C. O., Colonel Ben Harrell of 670 Eleventh avenue west, Eugene, Ore., talked as he rested in the yard of an old French silk-weaving mill. Only a few thousand yards ahead could be heard the boom of artillery preparing the way for further infantry advances.

Col. Harrell, who took over command of the 3rd "Marne" division's 7th regiment only a few days after the initial landing in southern France, is a West Point graduate of the class of 1933.

Immediately after leaving "the rock," Colonel Harrell was assigned to Ft. Warren in Cheyenne, Wyo., where he saw service for about three years with the 1st infantry. From there he went to the Hawaiian Islands' Schofield barracks for 2½ years with the 35th infantry, for executive work.

Back in the states, the colonel attended the Ft. Benning infantry school and then had his first association with the 7th infantry in 1940, where he was in charge of plans and operations for a year and another year headed the regiment's supply set-up.

When the colonel made the landing with the division at Fedala in November of 1942, he was in division headquarters as chief of plans and operations. He held this position until September of 1943 and then came a brief tour of duty with the 15th infantry.

Starting in March of 1944 the colonel was with VI corps, giving up his position there to take over command of the 7th infantry, a post made vacant when Col. Wiley H. O'Mohundro was granted a 90-day furlough.

Col. Harrell, 33 years old, is married and the father of two boys.

Col. Harrell is a former Medford resident, having graduated from Medford high school in 1928 where he was prominent in school athletics. He then attended West Point where he graduated in 1933. His father, Joe Harrell, was in the automobile business in this city while a resident of Medford.

MEDCO SUED FOR $50,000 DAMAGE

Suit for $50,000 damages against the Medford Corporation was filed today by Ruth Davis for herself and two children, Margaret Davis, 10, and David Davis, eight, through their attorney, Don R. Newbury.

The suit is based on an accident last January 21, resulting in the death of David A. Davis, 34, a brakeman employed on the defendant's railroad. The complaint sets forth that while Davis was preparing to dismount from a box car to throw a switch, his body struck a post and he was thrown beneath the wheels of the train and instantly killed.

The complaint alleged the post was erected too close to the track, was not properly protected and constituted a safety hazard. A petition naming the mother as guardian ad litem of her two children granted.

Park Fire Season Ends Month Early; Damage is Nominal

The fire season at Crater Lake ended on October 15, nearly a month later than usual. The thunder and lightning storms that have been noticeable in the valley region also were experienced in Crater Lake National Park. However, there were no lightning strikes or fires started from the recent storms.

During the season, there were a total of 13 fires in the park, which were handled by the small staff of seasonal rangers and fire guards. This compares with seven the previous year, although from 12 to 15 is about the average number of fires that Crater Lake experiences each season.

None of the 13 fires of the past season were man caused—all were from lightning. They were promptly extinguished and the damage done was nominal. One heavy electric storm in July brought such a deluge of rain that the rim road and the entrance road were severely damaged by erosion. The cost of repair is estimated to be approximately $5,000.

He has been overseas since February of this year. Mrs. Allen said that the last news they had received from their son, found him in Holland.

COTTON CLOTHING OUTLOOK IS DREAR

Warning that the domestic situation on cotton is getting "drearier" and that the outlook for greater supplies for home use will probably not be brighter for many months, the Portland district office of OPA urges housewives to conserve any cotton material or clothing now on hand.

"The outlook for cotton for domestic use is slim for a year or two after Germany is defeated," OPA states, "because as the war moves into the Pacific more cotton will be required for basic military needs, whereas wool has been more heavily used in Europe."

"Denims and cotton duck materials will continue to absorb much of the cotton which otherwise would go into clothing for civilians."

Baptist Dinner On Wednesday Evening To Precede Revival

Members and friends of the First Baptist Church will meet in the church recreation hall Wednesday at 6:45 p. m., for an all-church covered dish dinner and rally. Tables will be arranged according to the states and each attendant will be seated at the table representing the state in which he was born.

Each person attending is asked to bring a covered hot dish, or salad or dessert. Meat, bread, butter and coffee will be furnished by the church.

An interesting program has been arranged by the committee in charge. The rally is a forerunner of a series of evangelistic meetings to be held at the church beginning Sunday, Oct. 22, when Dr. Russell Brougher of New York City will open a two-weeks' campaign.
