

"Miss Jackson County" Final Selection to Wind Up Craterian Week

HEMMILA MARKS TWENTY YEARS IN SHOW BUSINESS

In conjunction with the Craterian Theatre's 20th Anniversary Week, Eino Hemmila, general manager of the Geo. A. Hunt Theatres, is also celebrating his 20th year in show business, having started in 1924 at the old Star Theatre in Portland while attending high school. In 1926, Hemmila went to San Francisco and became an usher at the California Theatre there, transferring in 1927 to the Granada Theatre, now known as the Paramount, as chief usher. The following year, he became treasurer and assistant manager of the Broadway Theatre, Portland, and in 1931 assistant manager of the Portland Paramount Theatre. In the fall of the same year, he returned to San Francisco as assistant manager of the California Theatre and in July of 1932 came to Medford as manager of the Rialto Theatre for Fox. In May of 1933, George Hunt resumed operation of the Craterian and Rialto Theatres and Hemmila resigned from Fox Theatres and became Mr. Hunt's assistant and advertising manager. Last year, he was named general manager of the local theatres, as well as the Grants Pass and Roseburg theatres. In April of this year, Hemmila, with Donn Radabaugh of Roseburg and A. Orin Schenk, well known Medford accountant, purchased the Roseburg theatres from the Hunt estate and the partners are now readying a third theatre which will soon be opened there.

Methodist Women To Observe Week In Two Services

Womans Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Church will observe the annual Week of Prayer and Self Denial with two services, October 24 and 25. The Quiet Day service will be held in the church parlors on Tuesday, beginning at 11:00. There will be intermission for lunch from 12 to 1:00 and the service will continue in the afternoon. The usual monthly business meeting will follow. Wednesday 7:30 p. m. the Woman's Society of Christian Service and the Wesleyan Service Guild and their families and friends are invited to a program of devotions. Presentation of missionary projects supported by the Self Denial offering will be part of the program. Miss Donna Taylor, Mrs. C. A. Meeker, Mrs. Gay and Mrs. Henry Gilkison will present topics. During the social hour the Wesleyan Service Guild will serve refreshments.

ANTLE SHARES IN THEATER HISTORY

Among those who have watched the growth of entertainment in Medford with more than passing interest is R. J. Antle, prominent Medford business man, for Mr. Antle was at one time associated with George Hunt in the operation of the old Paige and Rialto theatres, which they purchased from Moran and Percy.

It was on September 1, 1918, that Hunt and Antle first joined forces and the partners were in business together until 1924, when Mr. Antle sold his interests to the late Julius Wolf. Since that time he has watched the fortunes of the local theatres ebb and flow through good times and bad with much interest and can always be counted upon to recall some amusing anecdotes of the problems he and Mr. Hunt faced in the years they were business associates.

The results of the Hayes-Tilden presidential election of 1876 remained in doubt for four months.

Christmas Seals To Many Lands On Soldier Gift Mail

The story of the Christmas seal, which finances that constant battle against tuberculosis, which has struck too many of Uncle Sam's forces in this war, is traveling into many lands from Jackson county this season, for packages to overseas service men were decorated well with seals, Miss Josephine Koppes of the Jackson county health department reported yesterday.

The 1944 seal was released early through the Health department for use on overseas mail. The general sale by the Jackson County Public Health association, will not open until November 27. More than 400 seals were purchased for the overseas packages, Miss Koppes stated.
