Relatives of Cpl. B. J. Lorton received with joy this week the news that the corporal was one of 83 American officers and men rescued from the Japanese some time ago when the ship on which they were being transported was sunk by an American submarine. Cpl. Lorton had been a prisoner since the fall of the Philippines and since April 10, 1942, the only word from him had been a routine communication from the Japanese government.

The corporal had been in the army three years before Pearl Harbor, and was trained as an aerial photographer. Assigned to the fifth air base, he was on Luzon when war was declared. Pvt. Walter Miller, who received the silver star recently for rescuing a fellow serviceman while under enemy fire, has also been awarded the purple heart. The private is stationed in New Guinea and in writing stated that he had a grenade wound in a hand. He has been overseas since June of 1943. Another purple heart wearer is Pvt. Carl Vogel, wounded in France September 1 and now in an English hospital.

According to Pvt. Charles P. Johnson, "German mortar came between him and his good luck" in France recently and as a result, the private is in an army hospital in England. He was attached to a military police unit at the time of being wounded and has been overseas since last November.

Sgt. Lloyd L. Albern is a prisoner of war of the Germans, the war department states, having been shot down on a raid over Czechoslovakia. Lt. Maurice J. Sample has been reported missing in action since September 22, his ship being unreported after a flight over Germany. The lieutenant is first pilot of a B-17.

Flight Officer Archie Laine, injured during the airborne invasion of southern France, is back in this country and was home briefly this week before entering Dibble General hospital, Menlo Park, Cal. Also here was his wife, Pvt. Olive Laine, who was stationed at the Fairfield army air base.

Lt. Col. Jackson is also home this week. The colonel left a base near Rome, Italy, at 7 a. m., October 21, with Gen. Ira Eaker and landed in Washington, D. C., the next day at 3 o'clock. Coming across the continent by plane, the officer was in Medford by 5 p. m. on the 23d. Col. Jackson has been overseas about a year and in the Italian area the past several months.

The Iven brothers, Lt. Neil and Lt. Bob, have been home this week. Lt. Neil, who has been overseas with the air corps for several months, left last night for Santa Monica and Lt. Bob Iven leaves tomorrow for Peterson Field in Colorado.

Jack F. Helman, ART 2/c, and Bob Hanlin, SK 1/c, recently met in Pearl Harbor when Hanlin's ship was in the harbor for a time and Pvt. Gordon Reynolds writes that he and Lee Reynolds meet frequently on New Guinea. Both are in medical units.

Sgt. Floyd E. Davidson is a member of a ground crew at an eighth AAF base in England recently cited for "outstanding service."

When he graduated recently from a maritime service base at Los Angeles, Ens. Nathan Robert Deaver was presented an award of merit for excellence in navigation. Before being commissioned Ens. Deaver served in the Atlantic, Mediterranean and Pacific theaters as an enlisted man.

Dean and Dale Pruet have completed training at the naval station, Memphis, Tenn., and have been transferred to gunnery school while Joseph James McAllister has been transferred from Farragut to a school in California. Sgt. Arlis Cowan recently graduated from Chanute field in Illinois, having taken special training in electronics. Barbara Stone has completed Wave training in New York and is now stationed at Astoria.

big night for football fans, the Medford High Black Tornado topping the Klamath Pelicans, 21 to 0. It was Medford's game from the start. Marvin Doty carried the ball for all three touchdowns and in the final quarter Bob Watson gave the fans a big thrill when he made a 92-yard run. Tonight the Tornado meets the Grants Pass Cavalmen.

Merion Bradshaw, Jackson County 4-H club worker for the past nine years, has been judged state winner in the national meat animal contest and will have his records entered in the state contest.

A gift box pattern worked out by the Jackson County Junior Red Cross for boxes sent overseas to war refugees and prisoners has been accepted as a national pattern and is on display at headquarters in Washington. Recently the Veterans of Foreign Wars shipped 50 fruit cakes to servicemen who are members of the group and serving in this war.

So many servicemen have been home in recent days that this column will have to "skip lightly" over them. Among them are Bill Bauman, AS, Willamette university; Jim Elliott, AS, who has completed his work at Willamette and will report next at Bremerton navy hospital; Kenneth Lamb from Marfa, Tex.; Sgt. Charles E. Clark from Camp Pickett, Va.; Pvt. Harold Fawcett, en route to McClelland field from radar school in Belleville, Ill.; Coxswain Marv Sturk, recently transferred to the Puget Sound navy yard, Bremerton; Pvt. J. Carlisle Crouch from Camp Belvoir, Va., and en route to Ft. Lewis; Jim Miller, air cadet at the Merced air base; Lt. Jim Henry, Oakland naval air station and Richard Stuart, navy student at the University of California.

Dick Morrow, navy student at the University of Colorado, is now playing halfback for the university's football team.

Among the latest weddings announced were those of Margaret Lucille Grayson to Lt. Jack F. Keaveny in Bosqueville, Tex., October 4; Violet Moore to Buford W. Coleman, October 8 in Medford and Betty Louise Graves to Robert Alan Loeffler in Portland September 23. The engagement of Pat Fisher to Sgt. William Dean, Dayton, O., and stationed at the Medford air base, has been announced.

RESULTS GOOD IN CLOTHING DRIVE FOR EUROPEANS

The first drive for clothing for the destitute people in the liberated sections of Europe has finished, according to the Medford Ministerial association and Council of Church Women, in charge of the drive, with 2,780 pounds of fine usable clothing shipped to Portland from here, where the treasury department and the UNRRA will take over. The UNRRA will take over, exceptionally high and little had to be discarded because of not meeting the regulations of the UNRRA, the local sponsors said.

The committees in charge today voiced their thanks to the large corps of women who received and sorted the materials; the men who packaged, tied and addressed the boxes; H. S. Deuel for the use of the building; and for the co-operation of Copco, the Salvation Army, City Sanitary service and other agencies; together with all who gave and took part in any way.

A number of inquiries have come in about the next drive. No certain word has arrived; however, there will no doubt be another call in a few weeks.

$5,500.00
IN WAR BOND PRIZES
(MATURITY VALUE)

ONLY WESTERNERS CAN ENTER THIS CONTEST! GOOD! THAT MEANS LESS COMPETITION

THAT MAN GIVES ME IDEAS!

132 PRIZES

An easy-to-enter contest... for westerners only... to acquaint you with Sperry Drifted Snow Flour

How would YOU like to wake up some morning soon and find yourself the proud owner of a crisp, new thousand-dollar War Bond? ... That's going to happen to SOMEBODY who enters this contest! You simply write a slogan about the man on every bag of Drifted Snow Flour. The first idea that pops into your head may win. See the Contest Rules below.

These suggestions may give you ideas... help you win a prize

Here are the things that the man on the bag stands for. Whenever you see him you know the flour inside the bag is dependable. Its baking performance is tested regularly by 117 western women right in their own homes. So your slogan about the man might be "Master of successful baking." Then, too, Sperry Flour has been a western favorite for 92 years. This might suggest a slogan such as "Friend of four generations."

See how simple it is? Here's another thought: Since Drifted Snow is an all-purpose flour that you can use for everything, your slogan about the man might be, "Bakes everything better." Then, there's the fact that Drifted Snow is vitamin and mineral-enriched. That might suggest "Guardian of good health." But these are only suggestions to help you get started. You'll have your own idea... so write it down and send it in. It may win you a prize!
