Smoke Generator Proves Helpful To Yank Soldier

SCHENECTADY, N. Y.—(AP)—ONE OF THE NEWEST THINGS IN ARMED warfare service, the M-2 smoke generator, or the Besler, is no larger than a soldier's foot locker and weighs only 180 pounds when empty. It is about 1 1/2 ft. high and 1 1/2 ft. wide. The M-1 machine, truck or trailer driven, protected Allied troops from aerial attacks during the invasions of North Africa, Sicily and Italy.

The "foxhole" generator, small enough to be carried in the back seat of a jeep or other similar vehicle, can be concealed behind a bush or in a dugout. With favorable wind conditions the M-2 can blot out an area five miles long and about 200 yards wide.

The new device, 34 inches long, 23 inches high and 20 inches wide, when equipped with sliding handles, also can be carried stretcher fashion by two men. It consists of a small metal boiler, an air blower and a small gear pump, all operated by a one-cylinder gasoline motor made of aluminum. It can make smoke in 40 seconds from a cold start.
