KATONEN, MASK TO MEET AGAIN

Promoter Mack Lillard announced today that, after considerable dickering, he has signed Paavo Katonen to meet the Gray Mask in the top main event of next Thursday's wrestling card at Medford armory.

It will be the third meeting here between these two head-butters with the Mask winning the previous encounters. Immediately after last week's match, Katonen requested Lillard to put them back into the ring for he is sure he can beat the hooded one.

Ernie Piluso will meet a newcomer to Oregon, Earl Malone, in the middle match. Other than that he brings a good reputation with him, little is known of Malone's ability.

Bulldog Jackson, a veteran of many wrestling wars, will return from Hollywood to meet Tony Ross in the three-round opener.

Henry Melusky, Huskie end, snags a pass on California's 10-yard line despite frantic efforts of Bear backs Joe Stuart (left) and Bab Celeri to put University of Washington in position for score on next play. Army Mentor Refuses to Predict Irish-Navy Score

By Jack Cuddy
United Press Staff Correspondent
New York, Oct. 30 (U.P.)—Lieut. Col. Earl "Red" Blaik, relaxing briefly at the Barclay hotel, admitted that he was pleased with the 27-7 performance of his powerful Army team against Duke; then added, "I'm keeping in mind, however, what Navy did to Pennsylvania."

Coach Blaik emphasized that Navy, in registering Saturday's 26-0 triumph over perfect-record Penn., disclosed that it had "found itself at last—definitely arrived." Its combinations are, he said, clicking now, and the style is playing magnificently.

In view of the army mentor's open admiration for the Midwestern team, would he predict the outcome of Saturday's collision at Baltimore between Navy and unbeaten Notre Dame?

"No," said Blaik, "I'd rather not predict. However, I will say that Notre Dame will be stacking up against it the strongest line it has met this year—and the deepest. A team that can hold the speedy, well-coached Pennsylvanians to a deficit of 29 yards running must have a line that's something out of this world."

A reporter remarked that Notre Dame apparently met its match in line Saturday against Illinois. Blaik said, "Yes, the statistics show that Notre Dame really ran into something at Champaign." However, the Army coach did not modify his previous statement about the Navy line.

provided every indication today that he was up to his pre-war golfing form after winning a best ball benefit with Helen Sigel of Philadelphia yesterday in his first appearance since being discharged from the navy with a back ailment.

Sneed and Miss Sigel defeated Bob Hamilton of Evansville, Ind., and Dorothy German of Philadelphia, the western amateur women's title holder, 5 and 4.

Rogue Valley Country Club golfers gained revenge for a previous defeat when they turned back Reames Country Club of Klamath Falls, 37 to 32, on the Medford course Sunday. Some of the matches were close with some fine golf displayed.

Local golf officials hope that more such inter-club tournaments can be arranged.

EX-GOVERNOR OF COLORADO TALKS AT HIGH SCHOOL

Ex-Governor Ralph L. Carr of Colorado will speak at Medford high school tonight at 8 o'clock in behalf of the Republican national ticket, according to Ralph Koozer, Republican County Central Committee chairman.

Koozer and Tom Bradley accompanied Carr to Grants Pass today where he will speak at a noon meeting. State Chairman Niel R. Allen will return with the party to Medford this evening.

Carr was the first Republican governor elected in Colorado in 16 years and served from 1939 to 1943. When he took office he found the General Fund with a deficit of $1,864,000. The financial setup was reorganized and within six months the original deficit had been met and another of over seven-million had been avoided: When he left office his successor inherited a surplus of three million in place of the deficit.

Carr has specialized in the irrigation law practice and during the last ten years has carried on a battle for the preservation for the people of the West. He has returned to his private law practice at Denver and is a member of the board of directors of the United States Chamber of Commerce.

Oregon is the twelfth state visited by him in the interest of the present presidential campaign. After a speech at Salem tomorrow night he will spend the last few days speaking on behalf of the Republican ticket.

Carr reports a definite trend toward the states in which he has spoken.

In addressing the Oregon Bar association some time ago, Carr said, "The New Deal should be changed to follow the Constitution. If the New Deal continues in the direction it is headed at present we had better change the Constitution to agree with it."

AMERICAN HEROES BY LEFF

Major Lyle J. Deffenbaugh, Infantry, Omaha, earned his Silver Star for gallantry in action in Tunisia. Under heavy machine gun fire aimed directly at his position, which silenced the radio, he disregarded all personal safety, and remained in full view of the enemy within close range to shout directions and orders to two of his companies. Our praise for his heroism is not enough, we must buy War Bonds and hold 'em.
