MANAGEMENT OF ENLARGED TONSILS

If tonsils and/or adenoids are large enough to prevent the child from breathing through the nose when asleep (and not at the moment suffering with acute croup) or to make the child choke and struggle for breath on occasions; or to make the child assume odd postures in sleep in order to get more air—than I say give the child the benefit of simple tonsillotomy (not tonsillectomy).

Tonsillotomy means merely slicing off, clipping, removing part of the tonsil, by means of the instrument called tonsillotome—which does the trick with a quick snick and even without a whiff of ether or laughing gas hurts less than extracting a loose baby tooth.

Tonsillotomy is the only surgery I would advise or sanction in any case of tonsil and/or adenoid hypertrophy—except rare instances of malignancy. And I believe I've heard all the quaint arguments and ingenious theories advanced by the advocates of "complete removal" of tonsils in such cases.

For children over six years of age electro-coagulation (diathermy) in the hands of a physician skilled in the technique, is the alternative to tonsillotomy. Three or four sittings at weekly intervals will bring about sufficient shrinkage of the enlarged tonsils, as a rule. Of course this is slower, more expensive than tonsillotomy. But it is bloodless and safe.

Equally bloodless and safe is X-ray treatment. This is particularly good in cases where enlargement of tonsils or ade-

Forget-Me-Not Buying Urged By Medford's Mayor Meeker

Mayor C. A. Meeker has proclaimed November 9, 10, 11 as "Forget-Me-Not" day in Medford and urges residents to support the drive for funds by Jack County Chapter No. 8, Disabled American Veterans, for the rehabilitation of disabled veterans.

"On November 9, 10, 11," Mayor Meeker said, "forget-me-nots, the little blue flowers of remembrance, will be offered to the people of this community by the Disabled American Veterans on behalf of our many disabled veterans and their families who are benefitted by the D. A. V.'s program of service and rehabilitation."

"We can do nothing for those who made the supreme sacrifice, except to do honor to their memory, but we can all cooperate in helping those who return

"Statler Battle" Reaches Court In Claims For Libel

Washington, Nov. 4 — (U.P.) — The "Battle of the Statler" was carried into federal court today when the two navy officers involved in the fracas with Teamsters' union officials filed $200,000 libel suits each against the union and Daniel J. Tobin of Indianapolis, its president and editor of the union publication "The International Teamster."

The officers are Lt. Cmdr James H. Suddeth, Washington, and Lt. Randolph Dickens, Jr., now in Bradenton, Fla., with his wife and child.

The suits charged that an article in a November issue of "The International Teamster" falsely accused the officers of drunkenness, attacks on union members and using violent profane language against the president of the United States following Mr. Roosevelt's Sept. 23 address to the Teamsters. The suits said the latter charge, if true, would subject the officers to court-martial and probable dishonorable discharge from the navy.

From an original appropriation of $2,000 in the civil war era, U. S. signal corps has expanded until in 1944 it has a fund in excess of $5,500,000 for its operations.

EX-CAMP WHITE SOLDIER WRITES OF ITALIAN WAR

Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Weber, 319 Laurel, recently received an interesting letter from Sgt. West G. Williams from the Italian theater of war. Sgt. Williams was formerly stationed at Camp White.

He writes that he is fighting with the Fifth Army and has been overseas six months. He states that it is hard for him to conceive the ruthless waste of life that war brings on.

Sgt. Williams writes that Italy is a country worn and marred by the ravages of war. Her people have a tired look, their clothes are worn and many of them have no shoes. He said everything in Italy seems to be disorganized; the people find it difficult to reconstruct themselves and scarcely know which way to turn.

He wrote that the Italian farmers have a pitiful tale to tell of the way they were mistreated by the Germans, who looted their farms and homes in the retreat, leaving them practically nothing. But the farmers and villagers seem happy to be out from under German and Fascist domination, the letter said.

Italian women, writes Sgt. Williams, are considered slaves and bearers of children. He claims to have seen women and young girls working in fields while men sat in the shade and talked. Farm methods, he said, are primitive.

Sanitary methods, it was said, are not nearly as developed as in the poorest rural areas of America. Sgt. Williams feels that the large amount of wine consumed by the Italians keeps them healthy.

There is a great deal to be done there after the war, wrote the sergeant, stating that nearly every house has a shell hole or has been struck by a bomb. He stated that the many towers on the beautiful churches were used as observation towers by the enemy and as a result have been heavily pounded by allied artillery.

He told of going to a house to seek shelter and of hearing noises within. He, with his three companions, surrounded the house and ordered the occupants to come out. To their surprise, nine German soldiers surrendered and were happy to be prisoners.

Sgt. Williams expressed his appreciation for the many fine times at the Weber home and for the chicker dinners which he enjoyed there. He stated that he hopes to see them soon again.
