

SINATRA'S NEW PICTURE OPENS CRATERIAN BILL

Adolphe Menjou, Gloria De Haven Head Brilliant Cast Thrillers on Rialto Screen

Bringing to the screen a sparkling musical version of a famous Broadway comedy success, "Step Lively" comes to the Craterian theatre today and stars a sextette of top film favorites in a gay melange of songs, laughter and romance.

Frank Sinatra, George Murphy and Adolphe Menjou lead off the impressive list of picture celebrities, which includes Gloria De Haven, Walter Slezak and Eugene Pallette, all sharing stellar honors in the fast-paced story of a Broadway producer's hectic career.

Murphy plays the role of the producer, Gordon Miller, whose frantic attempts to stage a musical show on a shoestring comprise the basic plot of the song-studded comedy. Miller is not only broke, but is heavily in debt to a big New York hotel, where he and his staff and his cast are living.

Lana Turner in Wednesday Hit

Opening Wednesday at the Craterian is a heart to heart romance of an unusual wife with two men in her life, starring Lana Turner in "Marriage is a Private Affair," with James Cagney, John Hodiak, and Frances Gifford. The film is showing for four days.

Only the fact that his brother-in-law is the manager of the place saves him from execution, and even that situation appears doomed when the auditor for the hotel chain arrives to find out why the establishment is in the red, and promptly sets about trying to kick out the whole theatrical company, even though Miller assures him he has a rich backer coming, the next day.

To add to his woes, Miller is embarrassed by the unexpected appearance of Glen Russell, an ingenious young playwright who has paid the producer to stage a terrible drama he has written, and who wants to know what's happened to his play and his money.

"Cry of the Werewolf," a thriller that promises to keep Rialto audiences on the edge of their seats, is the Sunday attraction along with "The Soul of the Monster," another gripping drama.

J'VILLE PARENTS ORGANIZE TO AID SCHOOL MUSIC

Jacksonville, Nov. 18—Jacksonville is much enthused over its school band this year. So much so that it has organized a "Jacksonville School Parents Band, Choral and Music society."

Purpose of the society is to back the band and chorus both financially and with moral support.

Officers elected at the last meeting are Mrs. Dorothy Mills, president; Mrs. Arthur Hinkle, vice president; Mrs. Lillie Burnett, secretary; Mrs. McDaniels, treasurer, and Mrs. R. J. Harris, reporter.

The society will meet the second Monday of each month at 8 p. m.

The band made its first public appearance Thursday afternoon when it paraded from the school down to Main street, stopping in front of the post-office. There the band offered a selection and the majorettes did a twirling act, then returned for the football game.

First band concert of the year will be presented at the high

LEADERSHIP OF SESSION KNOWN

Sen. Howard Belton of Canby is virtually assured of election as president of the senate in Oregon's next legislature, it was reported Saturday in Portland. The same sources said Rep. Eugene Marsh of McMinnville is slated for the speakership of the house.

Sen. Belton, who has been vying with Sen. Earl T. Newbry of Jackson county, disclosed the names of 21 pledges—five more than necessary. Marsh has also been assured of sufficient backers, it was said.

CLEARED OF KILLING

Nevada City, Cal., Nov. 18—(U.P.)—A coroner's jury decided today that the killing of William E. Baugh, bearded eccentric wanted for murder, by 29-year-old Irvin W. Davis in the White Cloud district east of here was justifiable homicide.
