

EXAMINATION FOR RED CROSS CLASS TO START MONDAY

Examinations for Medford accident prevention instructors will be held Monday, Nov. 27, at the Chamber of Commerce and Nov. 28 at the Southern Oregon College of Education for Ashland students, it was announced today. The prospective instructors have been attending the accident prevention institute conducted in Medford and Ashland recently by the Red Cross under the direction of Sydney Lambias, area field representative for the accident prevention department of the Red Cross.

Ben Carpenter, assistant director for first aid, water safety and accident prevention for the Pacific area, visited the institute last week and complimented the Jackson county committee, headed by O. A. Eden, on the excellent institute and high quality of students registered. He said that the county had established a precedent by organizing the first accident prevention institute in the west.

Extensive plans are being made by the committee to start classes for the general public in December.

Last general meeting of the institute was held Monday at the Chamber of Commerce. Speakers were Roscoe Roberts, state steward of the Oregon State Granges; Arnold Bohnert, member of the Oregon State Grange wholesale board; Frank Rogers, city superintendent; Maurice Tedrow of the Rogue River national forest service talked on safety precautions for outdoor activities around farms, hiking in woods or for outdoor sports.

MURDER TRIAL TO OPEN ON MONDAY

Trial of Fred Alvin Bailey, 27, San Quentin prison camp escapee, indicted for first degree murder, for the death of Ira Clyde Carman, 45, last September 3, will open in circuit court next Monday. Bailey is represented by Attorney Rawles Moore, appointed by the court. The state will be represented by District Attorney George W. Neilson.

Trial of Fred Marrett and Margaret Maxine Marrett, indicted for breaking and entering an office for the purpose of stealing drugs, will follow the Bailey trial. The pair entered the office of Dr. R. W. Clancy in the Medford Center building on August 27 last.

Dr. Clancy was convicted recently in federal court on a narcotics charge. The Marretts were witnesses for the government in the case. Dr. Clancy will be a state witness in their trial.

County authorities have been advised that Dr. Clancy, and Dr. A. F. W. Kresse, also convicted on a narcotic charge, will not be taken to Portland for sentence by Federal Judge J. A. Fee, until after the Marrett trial. They have been held in the county jail pending filing of a federal probation report.

CARDIN SEEKING PRISON RELEASE

A motion seeking to set aside the 15-year prison sentence of Troy Alvin Cardin, for his part in the armed robbery of Mrs. Ioma Poole, Grants Pass taxi cab driver on August 22, 1942, was argued yesterday before Circuit Judge Herbert K. Hanna, who took the matter under advisement. Cardin was represented by Attorney Otto K. Paulus, Salem. No motion was filed in behalf of Loren Albert Chitwood, for the same crime. Chitwood is under sentence of 15 years in state prison.

The crime for which Chitwood and Cardin were sentenced occurred on the Pacific highway near Gold Hill. Both were identified by Mrs. Poole as the men who held her up and robbed her, according to District Attorney George W. Neilson.

The husband of Mrs. Poole is now serving with the armed forces in the Pacific.

"It's the Water"

that gives Olympia Constant Purity

The water from our subterranean springs
creates a uniform fermentation

You will enjoy a glass of Olympia Beer at any time of the day or with any kind of food. The reason is its light, refreshingly mild and assimilable character, due to the superiority and constant uniformity of our subterranean spring brewing water. The resultant healthy fermentation, combined with correct lagering, (ageing) makes Olympia different and better.
