

GOLD HILL MAN KILLED AS AUTO RUNS OFF ROAD

Woodrow Wilson Wolf, 32, resident of Gold Hill for the last two years, passed away en route to a Medford hospital Wednesday night about 12:30 after an auto accident in which the Plymouth pickup in which he and his brother, Oscar Wolf, were riding, left the road and turned over twice. Mr. Wolf was thrown out and into an irrigation ditch. His brother sustained minor injuries. Woodrow was driving the car at what was said to be a very moderate rate of speed.

Occupants of a car approaching saw the Wolf car leave the road and soon had the injured man in their car and headed for Medford, but he succumbed about the time the car reached the Bybee bridge.

The accident occurred on the Evans Creek road while the brothers were en route home.

Mr. Wolfe leaves besides his parents, his wife, Opal Wolf, and three children, Tommy Ed., aged 8; Geraldine, 5, and Robert Lee, 3, all at home; also three brothers and one sister, Ed Wolf, and Martha Blair of Los Angeles, Oscar of Gold Hill and Hayes Wolf in the U. S. army.

Funeral arrangements are pending the arrival of relatives and will be announced by Conger-Morris chapel later.

Death Strikes in the Philippines

Victim of Jap mortar fire, an American infantryman lies twisted in death beside his jeep, his face buried in the deep mud of the typhoon-lashed Leyte Island jungle road. This is the last picture made by NEA-Acme Photographer Frank Prist Jr., who met death a scant half hour later on the same road when a Jap sniper bullet caught him at wheel of his jeep, killed him instantly.

PANEL DRAWN FOR TRIAL OF BAILEY

Trial of Fred Alvin Bailey, 27, San Quentin prison camp escapee, indicted for the auto-jack handle slaying of Ira Clyde Carman, 45, millworker, last September 3, will start Monday in a circuit court with a new petit jury list which includes some new selections and several former members.

The trial of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Marrett, indicted for breaking and entering with intent to steal drugs, is expected to start early next week. They are charged with entering the office of Dr. R. W. Clancy in the Medford Center building last August 27.

The jury, as drawn, with instructions to report next Monday at 9:30 a. m., is: Medford: Harvey D. Field, Frank W. Ovelman, Jacksonville Star route, Frank Sauer, Rt. 1, David A. Hood, Rt. 1, Gladys Lawrence, Rt. 2, Frances Dudley, Every Finley, Rt. 2, C. A. Marshall, P. D. Coy, F. E. Stens, and Lulu Shores, Rt. 1.

Programs Feature Christian Church Anniversary Day

The First Christian church will celebrate its 60th anniversary Sunday with feature programs during the day.

At 10:55 service the choir, under direction of Mrs. Margaret Daniels, minister of music, will present the anthem, "Now Thank We All Our God," by Lorenz. The minister will speak on the theme, "I Believe in the Church."

The article which appeared in Wednesday's Mail Tribune should be corrected to read: "Later ministers of the First Christian church are W. R. Baird, James Hamilton, R. W. Coleman, Ward A. Rice and the present minister, Delbert W. Daniels."
