Marine Private "Inspects" Ship On Masquerade

Bangor, Me., Nov. 28—(U.P.)—A former U. S. marine private was held today for federal grand jury after an international junket during which he allegedly posed as an "aide" to several American admirals and "inspected" a newly-launched British warship in a Canadian yard.

Martin E. Maher, 19, of Everett, Wash., was held in $3,500 bail on charges of wearing the navy uniform illegally.

The youth, arrested by FBI officers after his deportation from Canada, was discharged from the marines in May when he completed a two month sentence at Portsmouth (N. H.) naval prison for being AWOL.

According to the FBI, Maher traveled through the United States and Canada in a navy lieutenant's uniform festooned with decorations and bearing the gold aigullete of an admiral's aide.

FIND OFFICER'S BODY

Los Angeles, Nov. 28—(U.P.)—Autopsy surgeons today sought to determine the cause of death of Naval Lt. William K. Tralle whose body was found in San Pedro harbor 10 days after he mysteriously disappeared from his blood-spattered cabin aboard a docked Liberty ship.

RECONCILIATION

Hollywood, Nov. 28—(U.P.)—Lucille Ball, flamed-haired film star, and Desi Arnaz, Cuban actor, who interrupted a cocktail date to get married then were divorced after an overnight separation, slowed down their pace today and announced a reconciliation—after a day's deliberation.

In the first four months of 1944, the United States produced planes at the rate of one every five minutes, 24 hours a day, every day except Sunday, turning out 35,009 planes, to make a grand total of 1,171,257 planes since Pearl Harbor.

WAR WORKERS TO REMAIN IN WEST SAYS CONTRACTOR

Chicago, Nov. 28 —(U.P.)— It was predicted today by William Muirhead, president of the Associated General Contractors of America, that many war workers in Pacific coast plants may not want to leave the west after the war even though employment there ceases and jobs are available elsewhere.

"Many people who have moved to the west coast will certainly plan to stay there—and the same is true of war workers in Chicago, Detroit and the other great war industry centers," he said.

Muirhead told the fall meeting of the organization's government and advisory boards that war workers, rather than war veterans, will comprise the chief job problem immediately after the collapse of Germany and defeat of Japan.

He estimated that approximately 2,500,000 men will be released from the armed forces within a year after the war and that production in plants now engaged in war industry will be cut from 30 to 50 per cent. Estimates of the number of war workers who will be thrown onto the labor market during the interval range from between 4,000,000 and 5,000,000.
